PREFACE.

The Hon. James G. Blaine, in his oration on the death of President Garfield, pertinently remarks in relation to the early settlers of America, that, "from the landing of the Pilgrims at Plymouth till the uprising against Charles I. about twenty thousand emigrants came from old England to New England. As they came in pursuit of intellectual freedom and ecclesiastical independence rather than for worldly honor and profit, the emigration naturally ceased when the contest for religious liberty began in earnest at home. The man who struck his most effective blow for freedom of conscience by sailing for the colonies in 1620, would have been accounted a deserter to leave after 1640. The opportunity had then come on the soil of England for that great contest which established the authority of Parliament, gave religious freedom to the people, sent Charles to the block and committed to the hands of Oliver Cromwell the supreme executive authority of England. The English emigration was never renewed, and from these 20,000 men, with a small emigration from Scotland and from France, are descended the vast numbers who have New England blood in their veins. In 1685, the revocation of the Edict of Nantes by Louis XIV., scattered to other countries 400,000 Protestants, who were among the most intelligent and enterprising of French subjects — merchants of capital, skilled manufacturers and handicraftsmen, superior at the time to all others in Europe. A considerable number of these Huguenot French came to America; a few landed in New England and became honorably prominent in its history. Their names have in large part become anglicised or have disappeared, but their blood is traceable in many of the most reputable families, and their fame is perpetuated in honorable memorials and useful institutions."

It is a curious fact, that when we trace our ancestry back only a little over two hundred years, we find that we, of the present generation, have in that time descended from over sixty-four distinct individuals; and when we consider that mental and physical qualities as well as diseases are transmitted from generation to generation, it is wonderful what a conglomeration of oddities must be collected in the human race of to-day!

Most of the notes relating to the families comprised in this volume were taken by the compiler from the town and county records in different parts of the country, which were examined by him many years since while tracing the genealogy of the Talcott family, published in 1876. Great assistance in filling up and arranging them has been obtained from "Pearson's First Settlers of Albany County," "Bergen's Bergen Family," "Goodwin's General Notes," "Riker's History of Harlem," and contributions kindly furnished by the Rev. Simon G. Visscher, of Rome, N. Y., Miss Elizabeth Bogert (the authoress), of New York (lately deceased), Messrs. Robert Benson, Henry Brace, H. Q. Lansing, of New York, Joseph A. Shearman, General Richard U. Sherman, of Utica, Dr. Thomas Hun, Henry Lansing, of Albany, Col. Henry R. Rathbone, U. S. A., the Rev. Mr. Sellick, Rector of St. Paul's church, Norwalk, Conn., Mrs. M. P. Ferris, of Brooklyn, also to Mr. Robert S. Talcott for the very voluminous and accurate Index of names contained in this volume, and many others. The Bible records were, with a few exceptions, copied directly from the Dutch manuscripts in the original Bibles. The record of interments in the Dutch church grave-yard at Albany was taken by the compiler from the original book of burials kept by and in the handwriting of Barent Bradt, the sexton of that period, formerly owned by the late Hon. Harmanus Bleecker. The families of Dutch origin have been the most difficult to trace, from the fact that surnames were little used by the settlers in the early days of the Dutch colonies, although they had them, and the Christian names were so twisted and out of shape in spelling that they could be scarcely recognized. For instance, Bartholemew became Bartholomeese, and then Meese; Sarah was Sartje; Catharine, Kaatje or Caatje; Nicholas, Klaus or Claas; Matthew, Tewis, etc. Following, as a guide, the almost universal practice of naming their children after their grandparents, and with the help of the surnames found, all the ancient families can be traced out.

It is proper to say in explanation of the orthography of both the christian and surnames found on the following pages, that they have not been carelessly written or printed, as would appear on reading the different ways the same word has been spelled, but are so written designedly. Most of the names have been copied from either the State, county, town or Bible records, and the compiler has intentionally preserved the spelling found on the records. This work, as its name implies, contains genealogical notes pertaining to many families — not full genealogies — and the purpose of printing it is to preserve, as far as possible, the names as originally spelled and used by the families in which they occur. Many members of the same family spelled both their christian and surnames differently, and some of them changed the spelling one or more times during their lives, and seemed to think they were right. So obstinate were they in regard to this matter of spelling names, that in one instance that came to the notice of the compiler, on a tombstone that had been set up by one member of a family, a letter was introduced by another to make the spelling accord with his views of the correct orthography of the name.

Many families are only slightly represented in this book, the object of introducing them being to show the intermarriages, and, by the cross reference numbers, enable any person to trace the genealogy of their maternal as well as of their paternal ancestors.

The "Talcott Ped." (Talcott Pedigree), often referred to in these notes, is a volume containing the genealogy of the Talcott family, published in 1876 by the compiler of this work.

In order to enable those who are not accustomed to trace genealogies, the following explanations are given:

Three classes of numbers are used in these notes, viz.:

1. Consecutive.— These begin at No. 1, the first known person of the name introduced in these notes, and ending with the last one mentioned. These figures are found in and constitute the left hand column of the book.

2. Family.—These are taken from the consecutive numbers and placed over the head of the family of the person they stand before in the consecutive column.

3. Reference.—These are also taken from the consecutive column, and are placed in parentheses, before certain names, in order to show where such names stand opposite to the corresponding number in the consecutive column of the family before which they are placed. All intermarriages can be traced by these numbers.

Take for instance the name of John Bogart, page 51, consecutive No. 345.

He is found to be in the family, under the family No. 290, of John Henry Bogart.

Turning back to the consecutive No. 290, we find John Henry Bogart [illegible] John Johannes Bogart.

The consecutive No. 200 will be found opposite the name of Johannes Bogart, under the family No. 97, of Hendrick Bogart.

The consecutive No. 97 will be found opposite the name of Hendrick I. Bogart under the family No. 25, of Isaac Bogart.

The consecutive No. 25 will be found opposite the name of Isaac Bogart under the family No. 7, of Jacob Bogaert.

The consecutive No. 7 will be found opposite the name of Jacob Bogaert under the family No. 3, of Cornelis Bogaert.

The consecutive No. 3 will be found opposite the name of Cornelis Bogaert under the family No. 2, of Cornelis Bogaert.

The consecutive No. 2 will be found opposite the name of Cornelis Bogaert [illegible] Tennis Bogaert—the first known ancestor of this family.

ABBREVIATIONS.

b., Born. bp., Baptised. m., Married. d., Died. d. y., Died young. d. s., Died single.

NOTE — In consequence of many additions having been made to the genealogy of the Douw family, after the preceding pages had been printed, the references to intermarriages between the Beekman, Ten Eyck and Douw will be found incorrect; they are, however, properly entered in the INDEX OF INTERMARRIAGES, to which reference should be made, as also to the "ERRATA."

Index of Names.

NEW YORK STATE FAMILIES.

BEECKMAN.

THERE were two apparently distinct families of Beekman's who came to America. One, that of William, settled in New Amsterdam and spelled the name BEEKMAN, and the other, that of Martin Hendricksen, settled in Rensselaerwyck, and spelled the name as above. Descendants of both families removed to villages on the lower Hudson, and their respective genealogies became very difficult to trace.

1.

Martin, son of Hendrick Beeckman and godson of Martin Hendricksen of Fort Orange (Albany), who came from Hamelwaard, in the Duchy of Bremen, in 1638, in the service of the Patroon Van Rensselaer, married Susanna Jans, and had (See Riker's Harlem)

2 Hendrick, m. (6) ANNETJE QUACKENBUSH.
3 Johannes, m. 1st (7), MACHTEL SCHERMERHORN.
2d (6), EVA VINHAGEN, October 26, 1692.
4 Martin, m. NEELTJE SLINGERLAND.
5 Metje, m. 1st, CORNELIS VAN DER HOVEN, of Albany.
2d, JAN BEBOUT, of Brooklyn.
6 Neeltje, m. JACOB BENNET, of Brooklyn.
6½ Engeltje, m. (prob.) (9) TEUNIS EGBERTSE METSELAER, Feb. 28, 1716.

And others, names unknown.

Martin Beeckman died previous to June 21, 1677, when his widow SUSANNA petitioned to be free from paying his debts, on account of having eight children to provide for.

2.

Hendrick, son of (1) Martin Hendricks Beeckman and Susanna Jans, was born in Albany; married (6) Annetje, daughter of (1) Pieter Quackenbush, and Martje ———, 1685, and had

7 Martin, b. 1685; m. ELIZABETH WALDRON, June 21, 1724; d. Oct. 25, 1757.
8 Susanna, bp. March 7, 1686.
9 Lydia, bp. June 2, 1689.
10 Hendrick, bp. June 5, 1692; d. s., March 19, 1769.
11 Maritje, bp. June 19, 1695.
12 Pieter, bp. July 25, 1697; m. GRIETIE; d. 1773.
13 Magdalena, bp. Nov. 19, 1701.

Hendrick Beeckman died in New Jersey about 1735. He resided first at Schodack-on-the-Hudson, and moved to Somerset Co., N. J., in 1710.

3.

Johannes, son of (1) Martin Hendricks Beeckman and Susanna Jans, married, 1st (7) Machtel, daughter of (1) Jacob Jansen Schermerhorn and Jannetje Egmont, ——— and had 14 Jannetje, bp. March, 1682; m. (12) ISAAC LANSING, June 27, 1703; d. February, 1770. He d. January 27, 1772.

15 Johannes, bp. January 27, 1684; m. (42) HESTER WENDELL, January 15, 1714; d. February, 1741.
16 Jacob, bp. Aug. 12, 1685; m. DEBORA HANSEN Dec. 17, 1714; d. March 19, 1738.
17 Susanna, bp. Sept. 25, 1687; m. JOHN BASSETT Jan. 16, 1719.
18 Helena, bp. Jan. 13, 1689; m. TOBIAS RYCKMAN Aug. 18, 1715; d. Aug. 23, 1744.

Johannes M. Beeckman married, 2d (6), EVA, daughter of (1) JOHN VINHAGEN, Oct. 26, 1692, and had 19 Johannes Janse, bp. May 20, 1694; m., 1st, SARAH CUYLER, July 6, 1729; 2d (20), DEBORA VAN SCHAICK, Dec. 10, 1748.

20 Martin, bp. Aug. 8, 1695; m. (17) GERTRUDE VISSCHER, Oct. 28, 1721; d. before 1755.
21 Marietje, bp. April 2, 1697; m. JURIAN HOGEN Nov. 9, 1714.

22 Johanna, bp. Nov. 20, 1698; m. (25) JOHANNES MARSELIS July 7, 1723.

23 Alida, bp. Nov. 29, 1702; m. HENRY HOLLAND, Dec. 14, 1728.

24 Henry, bp. March 30, 1707; m. ANNETJE SWITS. He d. Dec. 3, 1755.

25 Neletje, bp. April 27, 1710; m. JOHN VINHAGEN, Jr., Oct. 29, 1734.

Johannes M. Beeckman was buried in Albany, Sept. 30, 1732. Eva Vinhagen, widow of JOHANNES M. BEECKMAN, was buried March 6, 1755. JOHANNES M. BEECKMAN made a will Dec. 16, 1728, recorded Dec. 3, 1732, leaving his property to his twelve above-named children, a part of which was his interest in the "Kayaderosseros," or Queensborough patent of land, which he obtained from the government, in company with Nanning Harments (Visscher), Rip Van Dam, Ann Bridges, May Beckley, Peter Franconnier, Adrian Hooghlandt, John Stevens, John Tatham and Stephen Broughton, by letters patent, dated Nov. 2, 1708. Eva, his wife, was appointed sole executrix; and, in case of her death, his sons, Jacob, Martin, Johannes, Jr., and Henry were to act. October 1, 1755, Johannes, Jr., and Henry, being the only surviving executors, applied for letters of administration.

Martin, son of (2) Hendrick Beeckman and (6) Annetje Quackenbush, was born in 1685; married Elizabeth, daughter of Samuel Waldron and Neeltie Bloodgood (b. 1700), June 21, 1724, and had 26 Elizabeth, b. August 30, 1725; m. FRANCIS BRAZIER; d. Nov. 9, 1810.

27 Hendrick, b. March 24, 1727; m. PHOEBE BLOOMFIELD; d. Jan. 26, 1796.

28 Samuel, b. Nov. 26, 1729; m. ELIZABETH WALDRON; d. Oct. 19, 1808.

29 Anna, b. June 28, 1734; m. JOHANNES WALDRON, Nov. 12, 1766; d. Sept. 5, 1795. He d. Sept. 10, 1795.

30 John, b. Nov. 5, 1741.

Martin Beeckman died October 27, 1757. ELIZABETH WALDRON, widow of MARTIN BEECKMAN, died November 27, 1760,

æ. 60 years. Their children inherited the property of their bachelor uncle, Hendrick, who died March 19, 1769. (Riker's Harlem.)

12.

Pieter, son of (2) Hendrick Beeckman and (6) Annetje Quackenbush, was born July 25, 1697; married Grietie — —, and had

31 Leentje, m. FERNANDUS GULICK.
32 Annetie, m. PETER PETERSON.
33 Neeltie, m. BERNARDUS VAN ZANDT.

Pieter Beeckman died in 1773, leaving GRIETIE a widow. He resided in New Jersey. (For more of the New Jersey Beeckman's, see Riker's Harlem.)

15.

Johannes, Jr., son of (3) Johannes Beeckman and (7) Machtel Schermerhorn, was born January 27, 1684; married (42) Hester, daughter of (7) Jeronimus Wendell, January 15, 1714, and had 34 Ariantje, bp. August 29, 1714; m. (63) GERRIT I. LANSING, March, 1740.

35 Johannes, bp. June 9, 1717.
36 Jannetje, bp. November 15, 1719.
37 Elsje, bp. July 29, 1722; d. August, 1722.

Johannes Beeckman, Jr., made a will July 9, 1731, proved January 29, 1742, in which he mentions his wife HESTER, three children, Johannes, Arientje and Jannetje, brothers-in-law Herman and Evert Wendell, and Henry Holland and brother Jacob Beeckman.

16.

Jacob, son of (3) Johannes M. Beeckman and (7) Machtel Schermerhorn, was baptised August 12, 1685; married Debora, daughter of Hendrick Hansen and Debora Van Dam (bp. August 20, 1693), December 17, 1714, and had 38 Machtel, b. October 16, 1715; m. (48) GERRIT A. LANSING, of Schenectady, July 18, 1739.

39 Hendrick, b. May 4, 1718; d. September 8, 1746.

40 Effie, b. January 18, 1720; m. JOHANNES GANSEVOORT, September 9, 1764; d. September 9, 1798.

NOTE — (122) GERRIT, son of JOHN BENSON and REBECCA DEMAREST and grandfather of A. V. Bensen, Esq., now residing in Albany, died in 1861, in his ninety-second year. During the war of the Revolution he lived at Tappan, N. Y., and witnessed the execution of Major André.

102.

Robert, son of (71) Robert Benson and Catharine Van Borsum, was born in New York city October 30, 1739; married Dinah, daughter of John and Catharine Cowenhoven, and had 124 Robert, b. December 26, 1785; d. s., June 27, 1872.

125 Catharine, b. December 8, 1786; m. JOHN L. LEFFERTS; d. December 24, 1818.
126 John, b. March 7, 1788; d. May 24, 1788.
127 Egbert, b. September 1, 1789; m. MARIA COWENHOVEN May 17, 1820; d. February 25, 1866.

128 John, b. September 27, 1790; m. SARAH LAWRENCE; d. 1823.
129 Elizabeth, b. September 21, 1791; d. s., January 31, 1881.
130 Maria, b. June 5, 1793; m. LEFFERT LEFFERTS April 21, 1823; d. February 21, 1875.
131 Jane, b. March 13, 1794; m. RICHARD K. HOFFMAN May 7, 1822, living in 1882.

Robert Benson died in New York, February 25, 1823.

DINAH COWENHOVEN, widow of ROBERT BENSON, died May 20, 1847.

ROBERT BENSON was Assistant Alderman from 1766 to 1768.

In 1770 the widow of ROBERT BENSON, his father, sold the property in Cherry street and removed to Maiden lane, and occupied the house and lot adjoining the north-west corner of William street, property inherited by ROBERT BENSON. Here they resided until the commencement of the Revolution.

He and all his brothers united their fortunes with the "Sons of Liberty," and became active partisans in the cause. Their mother was removed to Dutchess county as a place of safety, and their home in the city was abandoned, and was occupied by the enemy.

He was a member of the first Committee of Safety and secretary of the first convention, and was continued as such by the several subsequent conventions until the State was organized under the Constitution. He was then chosen secretary of the State Senate, and was continued as such during the war. He was at the same time the confidential aid-de-camp of Governor Clinton, and came in with him and General Washington with the troops, to take possession of the city, November 25, 1783.

Henry, son of 71 Robert Benson and Catherine Van Borsom, was born in New York, November 17, 1741. He died, unmarried, August, 1823. He was brought up to the sea, but was compelled to abandon that field of service, and then became actively engaged in the service of the Committee of Safety in the waters of the State and those adjacent thereto, and commanded an armed vessel on the Hudson river. He assisted in placing the chain and other obstructions in that river at West Point.

105.

Egbert, son of (71) Robert Benson and Catherine Van Borsom, was born in New York, June 21, 1746. He never married, and died August 24, 1833. In his early life he lived with his maternal grandmother on the corner of Broad and Beaver streets, New York. He attended an English classical school where he prepared himself for college. He was guided and much assisted by the Rev. Doctor Barclay, rector of Trinity Church, who was a connection by marriage. He entered Kings (now Columbia) College, August 10, 1761, was graduated in May, 1765, and took his degree of Bachelor and Master of Arts in 1768. He was admitted to the bar in 1769, and shortly after removed to Red Hook, Dutchess county, and there commenced the practice of his profession.

In 1773, on the formation of the Committee of Safety in Dutchess county, he was appointed a member, and chosen its chairman. In 1775 he was chosen a member for Dutchess county of the Provincial Convention, which met in the city of New York, on the 20th of April of that year, for the purpose of choosing delegates to the Second Continental Congress. He was elected May 3, 1777, and appointed by the convention on the 8th of that month the first Attorney-General of the State, for which office, owing to the interruptions occasioned by the war, he did not receive his commission till January 15, 1778. From 1777 to 1781 he was a member of the State Assembly for Dutchess county. January 25, 1781, he was appointed by Congress to the office of Procurator, whose duty it was to prosecute in behalf of Congress all debts due to, or frauds committed against, the United States. October 26, 1781, he was appointed a member of Congress from the State of New York, under the Confederation; reappointed in 1784. And by virtue of his office of Attorney-General was a member of the first Board of Regents of the University. In 1788 he resigned his office of Attorney-General, and was appointed one of the Regents of the University. In the same year he was again sent to Congress. He held various important offices under Congress and the State of New York from this time to 1794, when he was appointed, by the majority of the council of appointment, the fifth Justice of the Supreme Court of the State of New York, which office he held till March, 1801, when he resigned on being appointed Chief Judge of the Second Circuit of the United States Court. He was deprived of this office in 1802, by a repeal of the act creating the new court. In 1812 he was again elected to Congress, and attended through the first session, but on account of impaired health resigned in August.

He was one of the founders of the New York Historical Society, and its first President, and filled that office for eleven years.

For a full account of Judge BENSON's distinguished service, see the paper of Henry C. Van Schaick, Esq., read before the New York Historical Society, April 6, 1869.

107.

Anthony, son of (71) Robert Benson and Catherine Van Borsom, was born in New York in 1752. He never married. He was a sailor and joined the ship of war Saratoga, and was captured by the British in 1799, and died a prisoner on board the prison ship that year.

127.

Egbert, son of (102) Robert Benson and Dinah, daughter of John and Catherine Cowenhoven, was born September 1, 1789; married Maria, daughter of John N. and Susan Cowenhoven, May 17, 1820, and had 132 Susan, b. July 3, 1821.

133 Robert, b. March 15, 1823; resides in New Utrecht, L. I.
134 Egbert, b. September 21, 1824; d. s., August 23, 1843.
135 George Martense, b. July 31, 1826; m. MARGARET J. VOORHEES, October 1, 1856; d. December 22, 1867.

138 Henry, b. June 29, 1834; d. February 29, 1844.
139 Richard Hoffman, b. May 21, 1837; m. SARAH V. VANDERPOEL, December 3, 1867.

Egbert Benson died in New York February 25, 1866.

MARIA COWENHOVEN, widow of EGBERT BENSON, died at New Utrecht, L. I., June 22, 1867.

130.

Maria, daughter of (102) Robert Benson and Dinah Cowenhoven, was born in New York, June 5, 1793; married Leffert, son of Leffert Lefferts and Dorothea Cowenhoven (b. April 12, 1774), April 21, 1823, and had

140 Elizabeth Dorothea, b. May 5, 1824; m. J. CARSON, son of HENRY BREVOORT of New York and LAURA CARSON of Charleston, S. C., October 8, 1845, and had,

1 Henry Lefferts, b. January 27, 1849.

141 Leffert, b. June 11, 1826; d. September 10, 1827

Leffert Lefferts was born, lived and died in Brooklyn, N. Y.

MARIA BENSON, widow of Leffert Lefferts, died in Brooklyn February 21, 1875.

131.

Jane, daughter of (102) Robert Benson and Dinah Cowenhoven, was born in New York March 13, 1794; married Dr. Richard Kissam Hoffman May 7, 1822, and had 142 Egbert, b. May, 1823; d. May, 1829.

143 Helena, b. December 9, 1824; m. BENJAMIN WOOLSEY, son of BENJAMIN WOOLSEY ROGERS and SUSAN BALLARD, December 24, 1844, and had

1 Hoffman, b. July 9, 1846.

2 Helena, b. April 6, 1849; d. March 25, 1861.

Mr. BENJAMIN W. ROGERS, Jr., died February 20, 1854.

Doctor Richard K. Hoffman resided and died in New York.

Mrs. JANE BENSON HOFFMAN resides in New York. (1882).

132.

George M., son of (127) Egbert Benson and Maria Cowenhoven, was born July 31, 1826; married Margaret J., daughter of Peter and M. A. Voorhees, October 1, 1856, and had 144 Maria, b. October 20, 1857; d. July 24, 1858.

145 Margaret, b. May 10, 1859.
146 Egbert, b. July 25, 1861.
147 George, b. November 28, 1867; d. July 22, 1869.

George M. Benson died December 22, 1867.

MARGARET J. VOORHEES, widow of GEORGE BENSON, died March 23, 1882.

139.

Richard Hoffman, son of [127] Egbert Benson and Maria Cowenhoven, was born May 21, 1837; married Sarah V., daughter of Abraham Vanderpoel, of Kinderhook, December 3, 1867, and had 148 Harriet G., b. September 4, 1868.

149 Maria C., b March 31, 1872.
150 Robert, b. May 12, 1875.

Richard H. Benson resides in New York city.

For a more detailed account of the BENSON family, see the admirable work of James Riker, Esq., entitled "The History of Harlem," published in New York in 1881.

Mr. Riker, in his excellent work, the "History of Harlem," says:

"With those whose recollections of Harlem run back a generation or more, to the times when it yet retained all the charms of a quiet rural suburb—'ere trade's unfeeling train usurped the land and dispossessed the swain'—the name of this locality formed almost a synonym in that of Benson, so largely identified was this respectable family with the history and landed interests of the town."

The foregoing notes relate chiefly to but one branch of the family. There are many descendants, both of the male and female branches, now residing in New York and the neighboring cities, and aided by these notes and "Riker's Harlem," it would not be difficult for any one, so disposed, to work out a correct genealogy of almost all the descendants of Direk Benson, the common ancestor of this family.

BOGART.

This name with various spellings, and often with the prefix of "van den," "van der," or "wyt," was borne by Hollanders of note in the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries. One of this name was Jan Wyten Bogaert, "Minister of the Remonstrants;" another was "Receiver-General of the Dutch Provinces," and is now remembered as the subject of a famous etching by Rembrandt as the "Gold Weigher." In 1547 there was a Hendrick Boogaert, "Regent van de Huyssetten ann de Oude Zide;" also in 1548 and 1549, in Amsterdam, Holland.

William Jans Boogaert was "Kirk Miester van de neuwe Zxts Koppel," from 1590 to 1606, in Amsterdam. Jan Willem Bogaert was "Commissioner of Small Matters," in Amsterdam, in 1611, and Joan Bogaert was "Deputy Sheriff."

Stiles, in his history of Brooklyn, says names were very much altered from time to time, and some were turned into Latin. Thus, Evert Williaime Bogaert became Everhardus Bogardus, one of our earliest Dutch clergymen.

The name in this country is still preserved as Bogart or Bogert. Many descendants of the early Bogarts adopted as surnames the Christian names by which their fathers were known and called. Thus they became Cornelissens, Tennissens, Lourensons or Louensons or Lausons, Jansens, Jacobsens, Pietersens, and Andriesens and Adriaansen. The family Christian names mostly used by the early BOGARTS were Gysbert, Teunis, Cornelis, Jacob, and Jan or Johannes.

Some of the descendants settled in New Jersey, some on Staten Island, some in Albany, some in New York and some on the Hudson river. The compiler does not undertake to trace all these families back to the first one who came to America, but chiefly those who are descended from the Albany and New York branches.

Teunis Bogaert, the first known ancestor of this family, was a resident of Schoenderwoert (so spelled on the records in the County Clerk's office, Albany), a small village in the south of Holland, situated very near Leerdam, where he possessed a homestead, and had children, one of whom was named

2 Cornelis, m. BEELTJE ———.

Cornelis, son of (1) Teunis Bogaert, was born in Schoenderwoert; married Beeltje ———, and had

3 Cornelis, m. DERKJE.
4 Guysbert, m., 2d, MARY, widow of JOHN JOCHEMS KALDER, in 1663.
5 Louens was probably another son.

Cornelis Teunis Bogaert lived and died at the homestead in Schoenderwoert, as did his wife, BEELTJE, previous to 1661. GUYSBERT, their son, then residing in Catskill, conveyed to his brother, CORNELIS, then residing in Albany, "a child's just portion, being one-quarter of the homestead in Schoenderwoert in Holland, which came to him by the death of his father, CORNELIS TEUNIS BOGAERT, and his mother, BEELTJE CORNELIS, who died in that place."

(See Vol. Notarial Papers, County Clerk's office, Albany, N. Y.)

Cornelis, son of (2) Cornelis Teunis Bogaert and Beeltje ———, was born in Schoenderwoert; married Derkje ———, and had 6 Cornelis, married and settled in Coxsackie.

7 Jacob, b. 1654; m. (4) JANNETJE QUACKENBUSH in January, 1679.
8 Hendrick, m., 1st, JANNETJE MARTENS about 1682; 2d, RUTH WALDRON, widow of JOHN DELAMATER, September 1, 1703.
9 Jan, m. CATRYNA VAN WIE, April 5, 1707.
10 Jannetje, m. VAN ALSTYNE about 1683.

Cornelis Bogaert was buried in Albany, July 28, 1665. He came from Holland previous to 1640, and settled in Rensselaerwyck, where he held lands under Patroon Van Rensselaer in 1641, and owned lands in Beverwyck, now Albany.

CORNELIS is the ancestor of all the Albany Bogarts. His son JACOB remained in Albany; CORNELIS went to Coxsackie, and HENDRICK and JAN to Kinderhook.

Guysbert, son of (2) Cornelis Teunis Bogaert and Beeltje ———, was born in Schoenderwoert; married, 1st, in Holland, and had 11 Teunis, m., 1st, SARA RAPELJE, widow of HANS BERGEN; 2d, GEERTJE JANTS, November 12, 1687.

12 Adrian, m., 2d, BEELTJE, widow, September 14, 1685.
13 Johannes, lived at Jamaica, L. I.
14 Joris, represented Brooklyn in Convention in 1664.

Guysbert Bogaert was in New Amsterdam in 1640, where, in September of that year, he leased a part of a plantation on Manhattan Island from Jacob Van Corlaer. He was still there in 1642. He was supposed to have been a widower at that time, and to have had the above children, who came over from Holland with or after him. He removed to Catskill previous to the autumn of 1661, where he married the widow of JAN JOCHEMS (KALDER) in 1663; no children. He gave to his stepson, while he resided in Catskill, his homestead and farm at that place, where it is supposed he died between 1684 and 1695.

His step-son, Helmer Jants, petitioned for a patent for this land February 9, 1698–9, and obtained it in 1703. This petition "showeth that his step-father, Guysbert Bogaert, and Jochems, his mother, owned lands on the north side of Catskill creek for about twenty years last past — lands which they afterward, on June 20, 1684, purchased of the Indians, as doth appear from deed in full recorded in Albany."

Helmer Jants died without heirs, and the land escheated to the Province of New York.

Louens, probably son of (2) Cornelis Teunis Bogaert and Beeltje ———, was born in Schoenderwoert; married ——— ———, and had 15 Jan, commonly called Jan Louwe, or Jan Louen Bogaert von Schoenderwoert, m. Cornelia Everts.

It is probable that Louens Cornelissen Bogaert never came to this country, although a Louens Cornelissen is mentioned in the New York records.

Cornelis, son of (3) Cornelis Bogaert and Derkje ———, married ——— ———, and had 16 Cornelis, m. Evatje Hoornbeck, July 16, 1696.

17 Maryken, m. Gysbert Osterhout.

Cornelis probably had other children. He lived and died at Coxsackie.

7.

Jacob, son of (3) Cornelis Bogaert and Derkje ———, was born in Albany in 1654; married (4) Jannetje, daughter of (1) Pieter Quackenbush and Martje his wife, in January, 1679 (she was born in 1663), and had 18 Dyrkje, b. October 5, 1679.

19 Maryya, b. June 14, 1681; m. Samuel Pruyn, January 15, 1703.

20 Cornelis, b. September 23, 1683; m. (14) DOROTHY OOTHOUT, October 8, 1707; he d. July 27, 1755.
21 Maddalena, b. March 2, 1685; m. MAAS HENDRICK VAN BEUREN in 1711.
22 Jacob, b. September 14, 1687; m. CATALYNA SCHUYLER.
23 Pieter, b. September 22, 1689; m. REBECCA FONDA.
24 Abraham, b. February 16, 1692.
25 Isaac, b. January 18, 1695; m. (19) HENDRICKIE OOTHOUT, November 25, 1725; d. September 15, 1770.
26 Benjamin, b. March 8, 1698; m. ANNA HALLENBECK, February 20, 1727.

Jacob Cornelis Bogaert died in Albany, April 3, 1725. JANNETJE QUACKENBUSH, his widow, died in Albany, January 5, 1734, æ. seventy-one.

The Bible of JACOB CORNELIS BOGART, containing the above record, is now in the possession of STEPHEN V. R. BOGERT, M. D., Physician in Charge at Sailors' Snug Harbor, Staten Island.

Hendrick, son of (3) Cornelis Bogaert and Derkje ———, was born in Albany; married Jannetje Martens about 1682, and had 27 Cornelis, m. CORNELIA DELAMATER, and settled in Amswell, N. J.

28 Mayke, bp. June 9, 1684; m. THOMAS JANSEN, of Marbletown, about 1705.
29 Martin, bp. October 3, 1686; m. 1st, GUYSBERTJE OSTERHOUT?, 2d, TANNEKE DE LA MATER, May 6, 1713.
30 Aeltje, m. ARIEN NEWKERK, of Kingston.
31 Sarah, m. ABRAHAM DE LA MATER, of Amswell, N. J., January 19, 1711.
32 Neeltje, m. ANTHONY SLEGHT, of Kingston.
33 Rebecca, bp. April 4, 1697.
34 Rachel, bp. May 4, 1701; m. ISAAC MARTENS YSSELSTEIN, November 26, 1725; d. March 1, 1769; he d. July 26, 1742.

Hendrick Bogaert married, 2d, RUTH, daughter of Resolved Waldron and Tanneke Nagel (b. 1657), and widow of John De La Mater, of Harlem, September 1, 1703; no children.

March 23, 1693-4, he petitioned for a patent for one hundred and twenty-six acres of land at Marbletown, Ulster Co., which he had purchased of the Indians.

Hendrick Bogaert died in Marbletown in the spring of 1716, leaving a will dated December 12, 1707, admitted to probate before Henricus Beekman, Judge of the Court of Common Pleas, May 9, 1716.

Jan, son of (3) Cornelius Bogaert and Derkje ———, was born in Albany; married Catryna Van Wie, April 5, 1707, and had 35 Gerrit, m. Antje ———; d. about 1788.

36 Hendrick, lived in Sheffield, N. E.
37 Eytje, m. Joan Moor.
38 Feytje, m. Andrew Kettell.
39 Marytje, bp. April 5, 1713; m. Jurey Van Hoen; was dead in 1758, when her brother Gerrit made his will.

Jan Bogaert settled in Kinderhook, N. Y.

Jannetje, daughter of (3) Cornelis Bogaert and Derkje ———, was born in Albany; married Martin Van Alstyne about 1683, and had 40 Marytje, bp. February 1, 1685.

41 Geertje, bp. October 2, 1687.
42 Lydia, bp. February 5, 1690.
43 Jacob, bp. December 4, 1694.
44 Abigail, bp. January 20, 1696.
45 Abraham, bp. July 17, 1698.

Jannetje, wife of Martin Van Alstyne, died ———. He maried, 2d, Cornelia Van den Bergh, November 10, 1705.

11.

Tennis, son of (4) Guysbert Cornelis Bogaert, was born in Holland; married, 1st, Sara, daughter of Joris (George) Jansen Rapelje, and widow of Hans Bergen, whom she married in 1639 (she was born in Albany, June 9, 1625), and had 46 Aertje, bp. December 19, 1655; m. THEODORUS POLHEMUS, October 14, 1676.

47 Catalyntje, bp. December 16, 1657; m. TEUNIS DENYSE, November 16, 1679; settled in New Jersey.

48 Neeltje, bp. February 22, 1660; d. y.

49 Aeltje, bp. September 8, 1661; m. CORNELIS CLAAS, about 1688.

50 Annetje, bp. August 23, 1665; m. JORIS ABRAHAMSE BRINCKERHOFF, about 1690.

51 Neeltje, bp. August 23, 1665; m. CORNELIS TEUNIS DENYSE, August 23, 1687.

52 Guysbert, bp. December 5, 1668; m. JANNETJE SYMOSEN VAN ARSDALE, April 16, 1689.

Sara Bergen nee Rapalje, wife of TEUNIS GUYSBERT BOGAERT, died about 1685, æ. about sixty years. He married, 2d, GEERTJE JANS, widow of Derick Dey, November 12, 1687.

NOTE — Catalyntje Trico, daughter of J. Trico, of Paris, the mother of Sara Rapalje, first wife of Teunis G. Bogaert, testified before William Morris, Justice, October 17, 1688, that she "was eighty-three years old, was born in Paris, came over in 1623 in the ship 'Unity,' lived in Albany, and in the year 1626 came to reside in New York." Therefore she cannot have been, as heretofore supposed, born on Long Island, and the first child born in the province. (See Bergen Memorial.) Teunis Guysbert Bogaert emigrated from Heykoop in Holland about 1652.

Adrian, son of (4) Guysbert Cornelis Bogaert and Beeltje ———, married, 1st, ——— ———, and had 53 Iden, bp. November 28, 1665; m.* IBEL BLOODGOER, August 26, 1685.

54 Grietje, bp. November 6, 1667.

55 Cornelia, bp. July 9, 1670.

56 William (supposed), bp. (1672?).

57 Cornelis, bp. March 18, 1674.

58 Jacob, bp. April 10, 1678.

The first wife of ADRIAN BOGAERT died ——. He married, 2d, BEETJE ——— (widow), September 14, 1685.

* Riker says she married Iden Van Schaick.

Jan, commonly called "Jan Louwe," a contraction of "Louens," son of (5) Louens Cornelisen Bogaert, of Schoenderwoert, was born in Holland; married Cornelia Everts, and had 59 Pieter, b. 1656, in Leerdam, Holland; m. Feytje Vlierboom, September 29, 1686.

60 Guysbert, b. 1663, at Bedford, L. I.; m. Annetie Jansen.
61 Claas, b. 1668, at Bedford, L. I.; m., 1st, Beeltje Van Schaick, June 28, 1695; 2d., Margariet Conselyea, widow of John Van Tilburg, February 23, 1707.
62 Johannes, d. y.
63 Elizabeth, m. Harmen Janse Knickerbocker, before 1688.
64 Catharina, m. Elbert Harmense, of New York.
65 Greetje (Margaret), m. Pieter Jansen Haring, December 4, 1678.
66 Cornelia, m. (7) Wouter Quackenbush, of Albany, October 4, 1696
67 Janneke, m. Joris (George) Holmes, July 8, 1704.
68 Johannes, b. August 16, 1679; m. Claasje Van Schaick, June 16, 1700; no ch.; d. in 1717. He made a will June 9, 1717, leaving his estate to his wife Claasje and to Jan, Cornelis and Hendrick, children of his brother Claas by his first wife, Beeltje Van Schaick. His widow married Jan De Graff.

"Jan Louwe Bogaert came from Schoenderwoert, Holland, with a wife and two children, whose kinsman, Theunis Geysbert Bogert, of Heykoop, two miles north-west of Schoenderwoert, had been already ten years in America.

"Proceeding to Amsterdam, they all embarked, April 16, 1663, in the 'Brindled Cow,' John Bergen, Master, in which ship there also sailed several French refugees from Mannheim, in the Palatinate.

"Jan Louens Bogaert resided first, after coming to this country, in Bedford, L. I. On the 6th of September, 1761, he and his wife, Cornelia Everts, made a joint will at Harlem, where they expected to remove, which they did shortly after. They gave to the poor of New Harlem the sum of ten guilders as a memorial. They made Johannes Pieterson Verbrugge and Teunis Geysberts Bogert, executors." (Riker's Harlem.)

Christiana Vought, wife of JOHN BOGART, died in Albany, June 17, 1836.

Captain JOHN BOGART died in Albany, May 22, 1853, æ. ninety-one years, eleven months.

Captain JOHN BOGART was identified with the commerce of the city of Albany and the river at a period so early as to make him, at his death, the oldest mariner of the Hudson. He was in command of a vessel in the year 1776, and while in charge was sent with a flag of truce to convey the wife of a prominent general officer of the Hessians to the city of New York, which was then in the occupation of the British forces. He was identified with the incidents of the Revolution. He was a chosen friend of General Schuyler, and of the leading men of the day in this region, and shared the respect and warm friendship of the "Old Patroon," Stephen Van Rensselaer, during their mutual lives. He lived in the pleasant memories of a kind old age, of years far prolonged, but not diminishing the sound good sense, the distinct principle and refined courtesies which he possessed to the last, making him to all an object of honor and veneration.

343 Isabella Lee, m. Rev. FRANCIS H. BAGLEY.
344 Amanda Strong.

Dr. Stephen V. R. Bogert was educated at the Albany Academy, then under the charge of Doctor Romein Beck. Among his classmates were Joseph Henry, late President of the Smithsonian Institute, and others whose names have been known by their worth of character.

After leaving the academy he studied medicine with Dr. Peter Wendell until prepared to enter the College of Physicians and Surgeons of the Western District of New York, and was graduated there in 1825. Having made arrangements to settle in Norwalk, Ohio, he went there, but remained less than a year, when he removed to Geneva, N. Y., where for eighteen years he was a good physician and an esteemed citizen of that beautiful village situated on the banks of Seneca lake.

In 1844, having received the appointment of Resident Physician of the "Sailors' Snug Harbor," located on Staten Island, within sight of the bay and harbor of our metropolis, he left Geneva, and to this date, A. D. 1882, faithfully discharges a duty which yearly increases, as this "Snug Harbor," a richly endowed institution, constantly extends its benefactions; and from a mere handful, who first received its benefits, it now gives a home to more than seven hundred worn out seamen.

He established himself in business in Albany, being a partner in the firm of Yates, Bleecker and Bogart, which firm removed to the city of New York. Since the dissolution of the firm he has continued in business in New York.

Angelica, only child of (202) Isaac Henry Bogart and (96) Cathlina Visscher, was born in Albany, December 27, 1789; married, 1st, (202) Samuel, son of (51) Matthew Reed and Elizabeth ———, of Norwalk, Conn., in January, 1805, and had 350 Isaac Henry, b. November 28, 1805. See (360) Reed and (363) Visscher.

Samuel Reed died in Norwalk, Conn., November, 1809. She married, 2d (See 1802, Talcott Pedigree), GEORGE TALCOTT, U. S. A., November 17, 1810, and had 351 George Henry, b. July 16, 1811; m. CATHARINE J. STARKE, November 9, 1843; d. June 8, 1854.

352 Sebastian Visscher, b. November 24, 1812; m. (406) OLIVIA M., SHEARMAN, November 23, 1843.

Angelica, wife of General GEORGE TALCOTT, was attacked with apoplexy while coming out of the North Dutch Church, in Albany, about twelve o'clock on Sunday, September 1, 1861, and died the same evening at seven o'clock fifteen minutes, at her residence, 748 Broadway.

"In the character of Mrs. TALCOTT was presented one of the finest exhibitions of the 'beauty of holiness.' Gifted by her Creator with an attractive person, an intelligent mind, an amiable temper, and manners of uncommon gracefulness and refinement, to all these was superadded the exquisite charm of a true and exalted piety, which gave increased beauty to all her natural graces. She blended in her character, and her Christian life was her character, the earnest and calm good sense, the firmness where others faltered, the act of kindness, with a pervading and unceasing gentleness, which possessed the fineness of high cultivation, with the charity that thinketh no evil, and gives truth and power to the affections. In her this was the quiet, unvarying rule of life, which met some of the saddest of all human trials, and which knew what it was to lose what was among the dearest, and yet preserve its feelings of love to all around. The idea of the Christian lady could not have found better reality for all that is 'pure and lovely, and of good report,' than in her. Her life led her for a long series of years to mingle in the world in its most active scenes. At the seat of government, at important positions in the military defences of our country, she long resided. And from all these scenes she came the same gentle and true hearted being, interested in every recital of others' sorrow, to alleviate, and assisting by the irresistible influence of sincere kindness, all who came around her for sympathy in joy or grief.

"The counsels and prayers of a mother, eminent for her intelligent piety, and her knowledge of the Scriptures, were always remembered by her, and her union to the church in its visible structure, was only the progress of a union long before formed with it in the heart.

"There were several elements in the Christian character of Mrs. Talcott which were peculiarly prominent and very beautiful. She was a Christian of a peculiarly Catholic spirit; she was a cheerful Christian; she was a devoted Christian." (From an obituary by the Rev. Dr. Rogers.)

General George Talcott died in Albany, April 25, 1862. (See 1802, Talcott Pedigree.)

John Bogart was educated at the Albany Academy and at Rutger's College, N. J., whence he graduated in 1853. He directly began the practice of the profession of a civil engineer, and was engaged in the location and construction of railways and upon the enlargement of the Erie canal. For some time he acted as an instructor at the Albany Academy. He was engaged in the original construction of the New York Central Park; during the Civil war he was engaged in the engineers' service of the army, and stationed for most of the time at Fort Monroe, Va. He afterwards was connected with the construction of Prospect Park, Brooklyn, the West Chicago parks, the State Capitol grounds at Nashville, Tenn., and he designed and supervised the construction of the park at Albany, N. Y. He has also been in general practice as a civil engineer, and has been engineer-in-chief of the Brooklyn Park Commission, and chief engineer of the Department of Public Parks, New York. He is a director and secretary of the American Society of Civil Engineers. He was in charge of the Engineering exhibit at the International Exposition, at Philadelphia, in 1876. He resides in the city of New York.

Isaac Henry, son of (293) Angelica Bogart and (202) Samuel Reed, was born in New York city, November 28, 1805. He is unmarried, and resides in New York.

Colonel Reed began his mercantile career at the early age of fourteen, with Wynkoop & Stanton, wholesale grocers, and afterwards with Peck, Walton & Carley, both houses of high standing and credit, the former doing business at No. 5 Coenties Slip, on the corner of Water street, New York. At the age of twenty-one he entered into the same line of business with Henry Suydam, the firm being known as Suydam & Reed; they occupied the premises No. 5 Coenties Slip.

Before railways were known, and when stage coaches were but little used, Colonel Reed travelled frequently during the winters of his early mercantile life, on horseback through the Western states, particularly through Ohio, where he made many friends, who have continued to this day to give him their business and their friendship. He was one of the first, if not the very first, to introduce into the New York market the celebrated and well known "Round Hoop" Ohio flour. Colonel Reed retired from the firm of Suydam & Reed and formed a partnership with Charles Schermerhorn and Robert B. Lefferts, under the name of Reed, Schermerhorn & Co. On the death of Mr. Schermerhorn Colonel Reed continued the commission business in his own name for many years, and eventually took into partnership James R. Turner, who has been with him a long time and in whom he puts especial confidence. The firm then became Isaac H. Reed & Co., and so continues doing a produce commission business at No. 5 State street, New York. There are but few merchants in that city who have been in business so long whose high standing and credit have been so continuous, and who have had the uninterrupted confidence of their consignors, and of those who have done business with them, which he has always held. Colonel Reed, when a young man, was a member of the La Fayette Guards, a regiment of distinction in those days, and became its commanding officer. He has been a director of the Bank of the State of New York, of the American Fire Insurance Company, of the Republic Fire Insurance Company, a member of the Chamber of Commerce and president of the Produce Exchange. He still remains in active business.

14 Volckert, m. Margareta Van Tricht, November 16, 1701.

15 Greetje, m. (4) Gerrit Teunis Van Vechten.

Captain Volckert Janszen Douw died in 1681.

Dorothe, his widow, died November 22, 1701.

Embracing the principles of Mennon, who was also a native of Friesland, Captain Volckert Janszen Douw was driven by religious persecutions to Friedrichstadt, Denmark, a city where religious liberty was extended to the Mennonites. About 1637 the Calvinists again waged war against this hunted sect, and as the Holland colony of New Netherlands was already flourishing enough to attract emigration, many fled here for religious freedom, and among them Volckert Janszen Douw, his brother and two sisters, together with cousins and other relatives, which accounts for names that could not otherwise be placed. Volckert J. Douw held the rank of Captain in the Dutch army. He settled for a few months at Catskill, going to Beverwyck late in 1638. He was deacon in the church and guardian of the widows and poor in 1654, and was magistrate from 1654 to 1660. Was a wealthy brewer and real estate dealer. Owned much land at Esopus, N. Y., and was one of the original patentees. Held the office of commissary and continuously that of Indian commissioner. At different times he was attorney and guardian for large estates. Made his will in 1680 and died in 1681. In 1640 he received a conveyance of lands from the Indians, which was confirmed to his widow in 1693; a portion of which is the site of Douw's Building, corner of State street and Broadway. His brewery was situated on the east half of the Exchange block, now occupied by the Government Post-Office, and extended to the river. It was sold in 1675 to his nephew Harman Rutgers. He is spoken of as the "Honorable Volckert Douw, Burgher of the village and master (Heerschaps) of the Bouwery lying in the colony of Rensselaerwyck." His summer home was on Papsknae Island. In 1666 an extraordinary and frightful flood inundated the Island, sweeping away houses, breweries (of which he had two immense ones), cattle, and all his personal property, including his papers and records, the family barely escaping with their lives. Not a thing was saved but a small round table and a colt, which were carried by the current through the "Hoist-door" into the second story of the house. This accounts for the paucity of records. The same year he purchased the ground now known as "Douw's Point Wolvenhoeck," just below the village of Greenbush.

This branch of the family settled in Somerville, N. J. Those of the family now living there have dropped the "u" from the name.

It will appear from the following article, taken from the "History of Hudson County, N. Y.," that JOHANNES DOUW owned a Ferry across the Hackensack River.

"DOUW'S FERRY.

This ferry was located at the westerly end of Cherry Lane, about one hundred and seventy-five feet north of the present bridge of the New Jersey Railroad over the Hackensack River. It was probably set up about the time that Col. John Schuyler constructed the Belleville Turnpike during the French war, and remained in operation until superseded by the bridge erected in 1794. It received it name from JOHN DOUW, a friend of Col. Schuyler. He had formerly operated the ferry over the Passaic at Belleville. The ferry house was on the west side of the Hackensack. Douw used it also as a public house, where he entertained travellers and guests. Bangs says that here June 27, 1776, by him and Schuyler, 'many decanters of wine suffered shipwreck and mony bowles of grog were poured down. Nor was egg pop forgot among our dainties.' It was at this ferry that boats had been provided, on the night of Lee's attack on Paulus Hoeck, to carry over the troops on their retreat. Their delay induced those in charge to believe that the forces had retreated along the hill, and therefore the boats were taken away. Lee's advance passing down Cherry Lane, reached the ferry only to find it deserted.

HUN.

The first known ancestor of this name was Thomas Hun, who resided, possibly, at Amersfort, in Holland. He had

2 Harmen Thomas.

It is not known if he had other children.

It is found in the Notarial Papers, page 103, first part, on record in the County Clerk's office, Albany, that "On July 5, 1661, his son HARMEN and his wife CATALYNTIE BERCK,* gave a power of attorney to collect a certain sum of money from Angenitie Cornelisen, of Amsterdam, in Holland, belonging to the aforesaid CATALYNTIE as an inheritance from the late Tryntje Jansen van Rechter, her mother, late wife of Cornelis Stoffelse Bul, of Amsterdam, and also from her brother, HENDRICK BERCK, a certain sum on an obligation" dated "March 8, 1656;" also to close up the estate of WENDELTIE HARMENSE (maiden lady), late aunt, or father's sister, of the above-named (2) HARMEN THOMASE. She being dead at Alckmar, in Holland.

The christian name of the father of THOMAS and WENDELTIE HUN was probably HARMEN, as WENDELTIE, in the papers alluded to above, is called "WENDELTIE HARMENSE."

Harmen Thomas, son of (1) Thomas Hun, married Catalyntie Berck (b. in 1625), the widow of (1) Dirck Bensing, in 1661, and had

*Spelled Bercx in "Pearson's First Settlers of Albany County," and not Berex as misprinted on page 8.

3 Weintie, b. February 9, 1662; d. February 19, 1662.

6 Thomas H., b. October 2, 1668; m. (4) Mayeke Jants Oothout, November 20, 1692.

Catalyntie, wife of Harmen Thomas Hun, died April 14, 1693.

Harmen Thomas Hun was living as late as 1703. He is described, in 1661, as being from Ammersfort, in Holland, and then living in Beverwyck.

Catalyntie Berck, and her brothers Hendrick and William, were children of Tryntie Jansen van Rechter, widow of Samson Berck and late wife of Cornelisson Stoffelse Bul, of Amsterdam, Holland.

(2) Harmen Thomase emigrated from Holland. He had also a brother-in-law, John Van Droop, of Elslow, residing in Stuttin, in the land of Gulich.

(2) Harmen Thomase and Catalyntie Berck made a joint will in May, 1663, in which they mention her five children by (1) Dirck Bensen, the former husband of Catalyntie Berck.

Thomas Harmense, son of (2) Harmen Hun and Catalyntie Berck, was born October 2, 1668; married (4) Mayeke, daughter of (1) Jan Jansen Oothout and (4) Hendrickie Van Ness, November 20, 1692, and had

Anna Winne, wife of JOHANNIS HUN, died March, 1759.

JOHANNIS HUN died in Albany January 22, 1776.

He was probably buried in the church yard in Beaver street. In 1803 his remains were removed by his grandson ABRAHAM HUN to a vault which he built on a lot on Chestnut street, between Hawk and Swan streets. By the re-grading of the streets and the adjoining lots the vault was abandoned and the bodies contained therein were removed to the farm, at Normanskill, and there buried.

OBITUARY.

(MRS. THOMAS HUN.)

A great sorrow has fallen upon the hearts of many in every class and condition of life in this city in the death of Mrs. HUN, the wife of Dr. THOMAS HUN. No one was better known than she has been during her whole life among us, for her earnest and efficient interest in all that could contribute to the good of others, and especially of the poor and the ignorant. She inherited from her father, the late Marcus T. Reynolds, much of the vigor and acuteness of mind and also of the energy and decision of character, for which he was so eminently distinguished; and these marked natural endowments were enriched and strengthened not only by unusual advantages of early education, but by her life-long habits of reading and reflection, and perhaps even more, by the influence of the refined and cultured companionship and associations in which her lot in life was happily cast. Those who knew her in her earlier days, before her growing infirmity of hearing had shut her off from the intercourse of general society, will not fail to remember the ease, graces and attractiveness of her person and manners, her quick and playful wit, her happy turns of thought and expression and the airy grace, vivacity and spirit of her conversation. And through it all there ever ran a vein of exquisitely delicate and most feminine sentiment that marked the lady, and gave an inexpressible charm to all she said and did. And yet one could not but feel that back of it all there was the woman of strong convictions and of deep conscientiousness. In the qualities of her mind and character, she combined in a remarkable degree the theoretic and speculative with the practical. Few persons have ever set before them a higher ideal of duty in respect to living, not for one's self, but for the good of others, and still fewer have worked so faithfully and unwearied as she did to fulfil this duty. Her ever active mind found interest in every plan that promised to reform what was evil, and to help those upon whom the hardships of life press most sorely; but this was no mere speculative or sentimental scheming; on the contrary, she was eminently real and practical in her aims, and very energetic and efficient in carrying them out. To give liberally was the least of her well doing. She felt that the poor and ignorant needed far more than money — the hopeful advice, the foresight, the experience and the trained judgment of those in higher stations in life, and she, therefore, habitually sought to make her charities not merely a relief, but also an education in a better and more thrifty mode of life. At an early day she purchased and fitted up, and has since maintained, a sort of model tenement house, to be allowed to hire and occupy apartments in which came to be esteemed by the worthy poor a privilege and an object of ambition. Here she watched over them, encouraged them to form habits of neatness, order and economy, taught them to make small savings, and thus built up in them a sense of self-respect and of independence. To the very last and after she had given up all other cares in life, her thoughts and anxieties still followed "her poor," as she tenderly called them. She also labored, with some partial success, to establish in the neighborhood of poor and working people reading rooms and a place of cheerful and comfortable resort for them during the long evenings of winter. Surely such a life cannot fail of the benediction, "Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these, my brethren, ye have done it unto me."

But it was not among the poor alone that the influence of her character was felt. No lady in this city has done more to promote intellectual tastes and habits of good reading throughout the wide circle of her friends. The Ladies' Book Club in this city owes its establishment and success largely to her constant care of it and her sound judgment in the selection of books.

But after all, admirable as she was in her life and example, her friends were bound to her by more tender and endearing ties. To have her for your friend was no common privilege. It was not lightly given, but when given it was something worth having and something for one to try to be worthy of. It was to be believed in, to be trusted with a generous confidence, to be ever met with a smile and kind welcome, to know that your character and motives were in friendly keeping, that your successes would be rejoiced in and your errors and failures lovingly sorrowed for, and that among all the changes and chances of life you had a friend who would sympathize not less in your sorrows than in your joys.

Although during her latter years her intercourse with general society was more and more restricted by her increasing deafness, her buoyancy and sprightliness of nature never wholly forsook her, but threw a brightness over the comparative quiet and seclusion of her life. Great as is our loss, there is much to comfort us in our bereavement. The world has been the better and the happier for her life, and she leaves us remembrances that will abide with us and be a blessing and consolation till we shall be called to join her again. M.

THOMAS HUN, M. D., now Dean of the Faculty of the Albany Medical College, was born in Albany. Losing his parents at an early age, he and his sister were brought up by their maternal grandparents — Judge and Mrs. Leonard Gansevoort, Jr. As a very small boy he attended a school kept by an English gentleman and lady, Mr. and Mrs. Upfold. In 1818 he entered the Albany Academy, where he remained until he had completed his whole course of academical preparation for college. He was decided in character, intelligent, studious and always maintaining a good standing in his classes. The academy was then as it still is, one of the best classical and mathematical schools in the country, and young HUN left it in the autumn of 1824 and entered the junior class of Union College at the age of sixteen, with more than usual preparation for his college course. In college he had for his chum the late Prof. Isaac W. Jackson. Here he fully maintained his character for intelligence and scholarship, and graduated with honors in 1826, taking his degree of A. B.

Immediately after leaving college he commenced the study of medicine in the office of Dr. Platt Williams, then a practitioner of considerable eminence in Albany. In 1827 he entered the Medical Department of the University of Pennsylvania and in 1830, having completed its full course of medical studies, received from that institution the degree of Doctor of Medicine. He then returned to Albany and began the practice of his profession in connection with Dr. Williams. On the outbreak of the cholera, early in the summer of 1832, a cholera hospital was organized in Albany and Dr. Hun was appointed one of its physicians. He continued in this position, discharging the duties with marked skill and fidelity, until the disappearance of the cholera and the closing of the hospital in the autumn of that year. In the spring of 1833 he determined, with the view of the better prosecution of his studies, to go to Europe, and he went accordingly, and with the exception of two brief visits, during that time to this country, he remained abroad, residing chiefly in Paris, until 1839.

During the six years of his stay abroad, he availed himself of the opportunities thus afforded him for a wide and liberal range of studies bearing more or less upon his profession. For the first two or three years he gave himself rather to the broader and more general lines of scientific and professional study than to those relating to practice. But after his last visit to this country, and when he had decided to return home and resume the practice of his profession, he devoted himself exclusively for several years, to attendance on the hospitals and all the varied means that Paris offered to students for acquiring a knowledge of practice.

The Albany Medical College had been incorporated and organized in 1838, and Dr. Hun, previous to his return home, had been invited to accept in it the professorship of the Institutes of Medicine. On his return he accepted the appointment and entered upon its duties. His inaugural address excited much interest and admiration from its philosophic treatment of his subject and its large grasp of principles as well as from its lucid style and its clear and forcible illustrations. His lectures and instructions as professor were always regarded, especially by the best class of pupils, as most interesting and instructive, and added much to the reputation of the college. He continued to hold this class until 1858, when he resigned it and devoted himself wholly to his private practice, which had become large and of the best kind.

On the incorporation of the Albany Hospital in 1848, Dr. Hun became one of the board of Consulting Physicians. Subsequently, on the organization of St. Peter's Hospital in this city, he held the same position on its medical staff. In 1862 he became the president of the State Medical Society, and as such delivered an inaugural address which attracted much attention from the profession from the boldness of its position and its opposition to the traditional ideas of medical theory and practice. He maintained that neither medicine nor the physician, although both were important in their place, ever cured disease. That the curative power was in Nature alone. That the function of the physician was not to cure, but to preside over, watch and aid the efforts of nature to cure, by recognizing the true character of the disease, its course, its processes and effects, also the accidents and dangers to which it is liable, and thus be able to secure, as far as possible, such favorable circumstances, aids and conditions as may be most contributory to the restorative powers of nature. On the reorganization of the Albany Medical College in 1876, Dr. HUN was unanimously called to be the Dean of the Faculty, but he declined undertaking with it the duties of any professorship. Dr. HUN's natural tastes and tendencies have always inclined him more to a studious and contemplative life than to an active and practical one. He has a rare power of abstract thought, and philosophical studies, especially in the line of metaphysical and ethical investigation, have always had much attraction for him. He has, nevertheless, been a careful observer of what was going on in the world around him, and has had very decided views in regard to all such matters. In his profession he has always been regarded as a skillful and successful practitioner, and in the knowledge and treatment of pulmonary diseases, no physician in Albany has ever stood higher in the confidence of the profession and of the public. As a practitioner he has been especially noted not only for his sagacity and accuracy in the diagnosis of disease, but also for his calm far-sighted wisdom and his large comprehension of the constitutional tendencies, habits and other circumstances specially affecting the case and calling for consideration in its treatment. OBITUARY.

(Dr. EDWARD R. HUN.)

The many friends in this city and elsewhere of Dr. EDWARD R. HUN have been deeply pained to learn of his unlooked-for death, which took place early on Sunday morning last, at Stamford, Conn., where he had been staying for some time past for the benefit of his health. From almost the very outset of his professional life, he had a very large, laborious and responsible practice, and the zeal and devotion which he brought to it were so unremitting and exhausting that his friends have for many years feared that he was laboring beyond his strength, which was never very great. Several years since he was thrown from his carriage and received a stunning blow upon the head and a general shock to his system, to which he himself attributed much of his subsequent feeble health. About a year ago he found his health so much impaired, that he came to the conclusion to withdraw from practice, only temporarily as he then thought, and to seek rest and restoration in absence from home. Accompanied by his wife, he spent the spring of last year in Florida, but his stay was not attended with the benefit he expected, and he resorted during the summer to the more bracing air of the northern part of this State, and for the last few months he has been at Stamford, where he died. Until almost the time of his last and fatal attack, it was fondly hoped by himself and his friends that his health was slowly improving by this exemption from care and labor, and that in due time he would be able again to return to his professional work. Very recently, however, he found himself not quite as well as he had been, and on Friday last he had been to New York to consult his physician, and soon after his return he was suddenly struck down by apoplexy and became at once wholly unconscious and remained so till the time of his death. He had not yet quite completed his 38th year, and for so young a man his professional career had been quite a remarkable one. Probably no other physician in this city had ever had at so early an age so large and responsible a practice. From the very first, his abilities and acquirements were recognized, not less by his professional brethren than by the public, and he at once took his place in the very first rank of his profession. Those who have known his parents will be at no loss to know whence the rare qualities of his mind and character were derived. Much as he owed to his advantages of education at home and abroad, and to the hardly less valuable privilege of constant intercourse with a father eminent for learning, wisdom and experience in the same profession, he nevertheless owed even more to his own remarkable natural endowments and aptitudes for his profession. He had an almost feminine quickness of perception and great facility in acquiring knowledge. What cost others painful effort, he caught on the wing and made his own. He had remarkable sagacity and accuracy in diagnosis. In detecting the characteristics of disease, his power seemed to be intuitive and to reach its results at a glance, rather than by any slow process of examination and reasoning. His maternal grandfather, who was one of the most eminent members of the Bar of this State, was distinguished in a different sphere for very similiar qualities of mind. Dr. EDWARD R. HUN's nature was an ardent and sympathetic one, and in a case of any interest and importance he would throw himself into it unreservedly, and with all his heart and mind. At such times he showed not only untiring vigilance, but great fertility of resource.

There was about him in a marked degree that indescribable something that inspired confidence. He was a man of great kindness of heart, faithful, affectionate and of a high standard of integrity and honor. He had in a rare degree the faculty of winning the love and confidence of children, and of establishing pleasant relations with them. To the old, the poor and the lowly he was always especially gentle and considerate, having ever for them a kind and cheering word, which, if he could do them no other good, left them the better and happier for his coming. While in the fullness of his powers, and before the disease which overcame him had begun to throw its shadow over the brightness of his spirit, his presence was like a gleam of sunshine in a sick-room; and many a household in this city will mourn the loss of their warm-hearted friend not less than of their trusted and devoted physician.

This is not the place to speak of the traits that made the charm and happiness of his domestic life, nor of the unfailing love and fidelity that watched over him through all the long course of his declining health. Nor may we now dwell upon the quiet and unostentatious, but firm and decided religious faith and principle that underlay and gave its tone to his whole character. Now that he has gone from us and our anxieties for him are at an end, we can fall back upon the impressions of his honorable, useful and benignant life, which remain to us as a pleasant and cherished remembrance. Such lives are not to be measured by the number of their years, but rather by the good work well done which they have fulfilled M.

TESTIMONIALS OF RESPECT.

ACTION OF THE FACULTY OF THE ALBANY MEDICAL COLLEGE.

At a meeting of the Albany Medical College, held in the College Library, Monday evening, March 15, 1880, the following preamble and resolutions were unanimously adopted:

WHEREAS, We have received the sad news that Prof. E. R. HUN, M. D., died at Stamford, Conn., the 14th of this month; therefore, be it

Resolved, That the loss of EDWARD R. HUN, M. S., Professor of Nervous Diseases, is one deeply felt by his brother professors, and that they hereby tender their heartfelt sympathy to his family in their affliction.

Resolved, That by his death the Albany Medical College has lost an able professor and the profession at large one of its most earnest workers.

Resolved, That we attend the funeral in a body; that a copy of these resolutions be transmitted to the family of the deceased, forwarded to the Board of Trustees, entered upon the minutes of the faculty and published in the daily papers.

ACTION OF THE STAFF OF THE ALBANY HOSPITAL.

At a special meeting of the Staff of the Albany Hospital, held Monday evening, March 15, 1880, Dr. Joseph Lewi was made Chairman, and Dr. William Hailes, Jr., Secretary pro tem.

Dr. Lewi officially announced the death of Dr. EDWARD R. HUN, a member of the Staff, and in appropriate terms spoke most eulogistically of the deceased, saying that he was one of the most promising of our rising men in the medical profession, and that in his acquaintance, extending over a period of years, he had always found him to be a true friend, an able physician and a courteous gentleman.

Dr. F. C. Curtis moved that a committee, composed of Drs. Lewi, Boyd and Hailes, be appointed to draft resolutions expressive of the feelings of the Staff. The committee reported:

WHEREAS, It has pleased Almighty God to remove from our midst, by sudden death, our esteemed and lamented colleague,

Resolved, That we have heard with profound sorrow the death of our confrere Dr. EDWARD R. HUN, who was stricken down in the midst of his usefulness, and called from earth, just after passing the threshold of his professional career.

Resolved, That in his death we have lost an able adviser and associate, and the institution one of its most efficient friends and officers.

Resolved, That we tender our heartfelt sympathy to his sorrowing family in this, the hour of their deep affliction, and mingle our grief with theirs at his untimely departure.

MEDICAL STAFF OF THE CHILD'S HOSPITAL.

At a meeting of the Medical Staff of the Child's Hospital, held Monday evening, March 15, 1880, the following preamble and resolutions were adopted:

WHEREAS, We have just received the saddening information of the sudden death of our associate EDWARD R. HUN, M. D.; therefore be it

Resolved, That by the death of Dr. E. R. HUN, the Child's Hospital has lost one of its ablest physicians and a valued friend and counselor.

Resolved, That we tender to the family our most earnest sympathy in this their great loss, and mourn with them in their bereavement

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be transmitted to the family, forwarded to the Board of Managers, and published in the daily papers.

Chancellor John Lansing left Albany for New York, and the last that was seen of him was on the 12th of December, 1829, on the pier where the Albany steamboats landed, walking towards the boat. No event had caused a deeper sensation in the city since the death of De Witt Clinton. At an early period of his life he entered the office of Robert Yates, afterwards Chief Justice, as a clerk in the study of the law. He became a member of the military family of General Philip Schuyler, and during the Revolutionary war was a distinguished member of the State Convention that conducted the civil and military operations of the State. Soon after he was appointed Mayor of the City and in 1787 was, with Chief Justice Yates and General Hamilton, delegated by the State as members of the Convention which formed the Constitution of the United States. The latter two withdrew from the Convention and were known as anti-federalists. They opposed the adoption of the Constitution principally because it did not more effectually secure the rights of individual States, and to those men and their co-patriots we are indebted for the ten amended articles which were subsequently made a part of the Constitution. On his return he was made a Judge of the Supreme Court, and finally Chancellor of the State.—[Munsell.

Margarita Lansing, wife of HON. GIDEON HAWLEY, died in Albany May 22, 1869.

HON. GIDEON HAWLEY died in Albany July 16, 1870.

GIDEON HAWLEY was born in the State of Connecticut in 1785, but removed to New York in 1794. In 1809 he graduated at Union College, and in 1812 was admitted to the Supreme Court. From that time until his death he resided at Albany, engaged in the practice of the law and in the discharge of various important trusts committed to him by individuals and the State. But the great distinction of his life was his connection with the cause of education. He was always a leading trustee of the academies in Albany and of the State Normal school; the first secretary of the Regents of the New York University, and afterwards one of its chief members. He was also from 1846 one of the New York Regents of the Smithsonian Institution at Washington; and, as detailed in Randall's Digest of the Common School System of the State, the person to whom that noble institution was chiefly indebted for its organization and success. As a man Mr. HAWLEY was distinguished by a noble presence, great personal integrity and practical sense. He was also of broad culture and most generous character, illustrated by a work on human knowledge written (not published) near the close of his life, and by the rare fact that for many years previous thereto he divided all of his surplus income among his children.

558 Elizabeth T., b. June 30, 1839.
559 Egbert, b. December 28, 1842.

Judge Jacob Lansing died at the homestead corner of Broadway and Quackenbush street, which he inherited from his grandfather, Colonel Quackenbush's estate, March 20, 1858.

ELEANOR, his widow, died September 8, 1875, at her residence in the city of Brooklyn, N. Y.

The following biographical sketch of JUDGE LANSING was kindly furnished by a member of the family:

"JUDGE JACOB LANSING was educated at the Granville Academy in Washington county, N. Y., and afterwards entered Middlebury College and was graduated with honor. When the war of 1812 broke out he was appointed Quartermaster of the Twelfth regiment, New York State troops, by Governor Daniel D. Tompkins, Colonel John T. Dalsen commanding the regiment, and proceeded with the same to Sackett's Harbor where he was in service nearly twelve months, and from exposure contracted the seeds of disease which eventually terminated in his death. After the war he studied law in the office of Philip S. Parker, Esq., and was licensed in due time as an attorney and advocate. He acquired such a distinguished reputation as a sound and well-read lawyer that he was appointed Judge of the Albany Common Pleas in 1828.

In 1838 he was made first Judge of said court. During his term of office the decisions of that court were highly respected. As a presiding magistrate he was impartial, honest and capable, and gave character to the Bench."

The Christian Intelligencer, in speaking of JUDGE LANSING, says:

"As a man and a Christian he was without fear and without reproach; as a man he was just and tenacious of his purpose; as a lawyer, learned, logical, honest; as a judge, inflexible, incorruptible; as a politician, settled in opinion, fixed and stern; as a Christian, faithful, reliable, active; as an elder in the Middle Dutch Church, prompt, energetic, able." He was in all relations of life honored and respected.

The Army record of Captain Lansing, given below, will be found interesting and is valuable on account of the details it gives of the movements of one of the regiments engaged in the war of the Rebellion:

ARMY RECORD

Of CAPTAIN SPENCER STAFFORD LANSING, Company F, Twenty-fifth Regiment, Michigan Infantry Volunteers. Mustered in State service 15th day of July, 1861, and under orders and instructions from Colonel Gilbert of the Nineteenth Infantry, but that regiment being filled by transfer of Governor Blair of companies enlisted prior to mine, I reported to one of the four new regiments ordered, and selected the Twenty-fifth, Colonel O. H. Moore, commanding.

The regiment was organized at Kalamazoo, Mich., and was encamped at that place for two months before we were ordered to the front or near the seat of war — Louisville, Ky. — about the 1st of November, 1861. Remained there on Provost duty for one month, when ordered to Munfordsville, as Green River Bridge was threatened by the Rebels, and General John Morgan had given out notice that he would take his Christmas dinner there, but not liking the appearance of things concluded to let the job out. Moved from there to Bowling Green, Ky., remained there during the winter, and was honored by the detail of chief officer commanding Patrols of the city and inspector of papers. The regiment ordered back to Louisville, Ky., in the Spring of 1862, but on arriving at Lebanon Junction disembarked from cars and ordered to pursue General John Morgan, with whom, after a forced march, we came up with and routed him at Hall's Gaps, recovering one thousand head of cattle he was conveying to the enemy. Soon after this, while stationed at Louisville, Ky., Companies F, D, E. J and K ordered to Green River Bridge, after being encamped there about one month. The entire command, numbering about two hundred, was attacked by General John Morgan the morning of the 4th day of July, 1862, and here occurred one of the most memorable battles of the war, so stated by the leading generals of the army of the North as well as by generals of the Southern army.

A force of two hundred men compelled a force of four thousand eight hundred men to change their front, and by an oblique march pass their foe. "All honor to the boys in blue." I had the honor on this occasion to receive General Morgan's flag of truce, composed of Colonel Duke, Major Elliot and others, and after introducing them to Colonel Moore, he asked them the nature of their business, which was complied with by Colonel Duke, and presented him with a demand for the surrender of our force unconditionally. Moore's reply was that it was the 4th day of July, that on any other day there might be a slight possibility of his entertaining it, but on that day he would see them dammed first. (I use the language the Colonel did, being angry, that the demand, as he expresed it, should be made on that particular day of all others, sacred to every American freeman.) After the battle ordered from the front, being the extreme outpost to Lebanon, Ky. Division then formed, Colonel Moore commanding, to organize at New Market, Ky.

Marched through Hall's Gaps, a new military road over the Cumberland mountain to Lowden, Tenn. Ordered from this point to the state of Michigan for conscripts by General Burnside, receiving this order at the request of Colonel Moore, for gallantry at Green River fight, being second in command at that battle, and holding the enemy at bay with Company F alone, for the space of half an hour, while the Colonel was reforming his new line of battle, after being flanked out of the first position. The second position held until the battle was over and the enemy retired with a respectful request to be permitted to bury their dead. Arrived at Grand Rapids, Mich., sometime in the month of November, 1863, and from that post was removed by order of War Department to Niles, Mich., in the month of February, 1864, on recruiting service; remained there until April 25th, when I was ordered to join my regiment in the field near Knoxville, Tenn. Joined regiment at Cleveland, Tenn., without delay, and after that participated in all the principal battles in the forward movement to Atlanta and the sea.

Was at the battle of Stoney Face and complimented by General McLane for bringing the regiment in from the front, who had been ordered to lie down, they then being the only regiment charging — the line having broken on the right and left under a withering fire of artillery from Rebel forts, and were flying to the rear for cover. Finding myself the ranking officer I ordered the men to remain in the order they were until we were supported by artillery, when the order was given by the right flank, as skirmishers at long intervals, to move to the timber so as not to attract the enemy's attention, and the command was soon restored to the lines. The good conduct of officers and men obeying orders saved the command from terrible punishment, the enemy not understanding the movement until the men were safe.

First Brigade, Second Division, Twenty-third Army Corps, supported General Harker at Buzzard Roost, one of the hardest fights in the campaign. Wounded by a contusion at the battle of Resaca, received while storming the enemy's fort. The Twenty-fifth, the only regiment to reach the fort, when not being supported, were compelled to oblique march to a creek on the east side of the fort, taking refuge in the water, where they remained until night-fall, not daring to show themselves in the day light for fear of being shot by the enemy in the fort, who were watching them.

By record, was in one hundred battles and skirmishes for one hundred days, no day being out of the sound of cannon or musketry, with the Twenty-third Army Corps, Major-General Schofield commanding First Brigade, Second Division.

The Twenty-fifth Michigan, after they had made their mark at Tibb's Bend, Green River, Ky., were always known as the "Green River boys," and always in marching in review received the compliments that every brave soldier does from soldiers belonging to other corps of the army — hearty cheers for their gallantry. Was mustered out of service at the end of the war, after going through many scenes and trials of danger which would fill nearly an entire book to give a description of, by being honorably discharged.

Captain Livingston Lansing, of the New York Seventeenth regiment, was with the Army of the Potomac for more than a year, participating in the various battles. In the Fredericksburg slaughter the vizor of his cap was struck by a ball which passed out through the cap cover; a fragment of a shell tore a hole in his coat, another hit him on the hip and his horse was wounded in the foot. Colonel Stockton, commanding the Third brigade in the Fifth Army Corps, thus indorsed Captain LANSING's resignation when presented:

"Respectfully forwarded and strongly recommended. Captain LANSING has been my assistant adjutant general for most of the time since I assumed command of this brigade, and has always performed his duty most satisfactorily. He has already tendered his resignation a number of times for private reasons expressed. In the late bloody fight he was on the field throughout, ever efficient and prompt to carry my orders at all risks fearlessly risking his life in the service of his country. I feel it but just that he should now be permitted to resign, as he can honorably do, I therefore recommend the same."

LIVINGSTON LANSING is a lawyer and resides with his family in Buffalo.

Janse Marselis made his will June 11, 1690, which was proved and recorded May 22, 1722, in Kingston, N. Y., in which he names the above children. He probably resided in Kingston during the latter part of his life. He was called Janse Marselis Van Bommel. For 1655 and some years following he was "farmer of the excise, a man of good capacity and large business."

There was a Hendrick Marselis, one of Melyn's Colonists of Staten Island, having come over probably with the others in the "New Netherland's Fortune" in 1650. When the Island was attacked by the Indians in 1655, he fled with his wife and two children (daughters) and servant to Fort Orange (Albany), where he made a permanent settlement. In 1673 he dwelt "behind Kinderhook," where his son-in-law Mattys Coenraeds (Ten Eyck) lived. His other daughter, Maria, married Mathys Hooghteeling, whose daughter Zeytje married, 1st, Frans Morris, and 2d, Patrick McGregory, from Scotland, May 4, 1697. The name of Hendrick Marselis's wife was Tryn (Tryntje, Catharine) Vanden Bergh. It does not appear that he had other children. Hendrick and Janse were probably brothers.

QUACKENBUSH.

By some members of the family the name is supposed to have been derived from the dutch words "Quacken," to croak (like a frog) and "Boss," a bush or "Quackel," a quail, and Bosch, a forest.

The name first appears on the Beverwyck and the New Amsterdam records, spelled Quackenbos and sometimes Quackbosh or bosch, but the Albany branches of the family generally spell the name Quackenbush.

Pieter Quackenbos came from "Oestgeest," in Holland. He was in Beverwyck (Albany), before 1688, and in New Amsterdam (New York) at an earlier period. The name of his wife was Martje ——— , they had

COLONEL QUACKENBUSH was a provincial officer in the British army under Lords Amherst and Abercrombie during the French war. He was engaged in the attack on Crown Point and Ticonderoga. He was in the same mess with Lord Howe and was very near him when he was shot in the forest by the Indians. COLONEL QUACKENBUSH was Chairman of the Albany Committee of Safety in the revolutionary war. He was wounded when in command of his regiment in the last attack of the American troops led by General Arnold against the British army at Saratoga, and he commanded the guard of two hundred men who brought General Burgoyne to Albany, after the last battle, where he, General Burgoyne, was confined in the house of General Schuyler in the south part of the city. The house now, 1882, occupied by the Tracy family.

COLONEL QUACKENBUSH received an autograph letter from General Burgoyne, thanking him for kindness and attention shown the latter while a prisoner under his charge.

In 1835 he was chosen clerk of the Senate of the State of New Hampshire. In 1836 he was elected a representative from his native town to the State legislature; was re-elected in 1837 and again in 1838, and during the last two years was Speaker of the House. In 1836 he was appointed by the Governor and Council, Register of Probate for Stratford County, and continued to hold the position until 1839. In that year he was elected a member of the House of Representatives of the 26th Congress; two years later was elected to the 27th, serving with distinction as a member of that body from 1839 to 1843. After his retirement from Congress he was called to the Bench where he served continuously until 1859, as a Judge of Common Pleas from 1844 to 1849, of the Supreme Court from 1849 to 1855, and of the Superior Judicial Court from 1855 to his retirement from the Bench.

In 1863 he was complimented by the Democratic party of New Hampshire with a nomination as candidate for Governor, and in 1866 he was supported by the same party as candidate for United States Senator. In 1858 his "Alma Mater" conferred upon him the degree of LL. D., and in 1859 he was chosen one of the trustees of that institution, which position he continued to hold until his death.

From 1834 up to the time of his decease, when not engaged in the performance of official duties, he was in the active and successful practice of his profession, in which he ranked among the strong men of the State.

At the age of 27 the chosen representative of his native town in the Legislature of the State; at the age of 28 Speaker of the House; at 30 a representative from the Granite State in the National Congress; at 35 a Judge of the Court of Common Pleas; at 40 a Judge of the Supreme Court; at 50 voluntarily retiring from the Bench and laying aside his judicial robes after fifteen years of honorable and distinguished service. For nearly half a century he was prominently before the public and an important character in the history of the State of New Hampshire.

To whatever official position he was called he more than filled its requirements, and ever answered the just expectations of his friends. He was faithful to every trust. Unswerving fidelity, tireless industry and marked ability were all illustrated in his public life. From the beginning to the close of his career he ever retained the confidence and respect of the people whom he served so long and well. At the age of over three score and ten, ripe in years, rich in honors, he passed away without a stain to mar the fair record. Upon the Bench he never arrogated to himself a superior wisdom; he gave to all a patient and courteous hearing; he made the young practitioner feel that he had "a friend at court," and on the Bench, as in the Bar, he never forgot the amenities due to his professional associates."

John Van Pelt, M. D., son of (117) John N. Quackenbush and Nancy Smith, was born in Albany June 3, 1819; married Elizabeth A., daughter of Deodatus Wright and Louisa Maria Herrick, September 9, 1846, and had 178 Louisa Maria, b. July 24, 1848; m. Lieutenant-Commander CHARLES H. DAVIS, U. S. N., March 31, 1875.

Dr. John Van Pelt Quackenbush died in Albany June 8, 1876.

His father John N. Quackenbush was trained to the profession of Law, but his interests at an early period forced his attention to other affairs, and he became largely concerned in the lumber trade — one of the most important departments of business in Albany. Dr. JOHN QUACKENBUSH when a boy lived among his books and found his chief diversion in games that called into exercise his ingenuity or his love for fun. At school he easily maintained high rank. His preparatory studies for college were pursued at the Albany Academy, and he entered an advanced class at Williams College, joining the Sophomore class in 1835; the same diligence, love of study and thoughtful manner characterized him in college that marked him at home. While in college he became a member of the "Sigma Phi" society. Of his studies he specially excelled in the Classics, and in the Junior year of his college course he was assigned the honor of delivering the Greek oration. He was honorably graduated at Williams College in 1838. He then commenced the study of Medicine in the office of Dr. Peter Wendell, of Albany, and received his diploma of Doctor of Medicine in 1842 from the Albany Medical College. During the period of his medical course he was noted for his earnest and energetic devotion to study. He opened an office at once, after being qualified for practice, and such was the early recognition of his powers that he was soon surrounded by a large circle of patients. It was the habit of close observation of his patients, the critical scrutinizing study of their conditions and symptoms that gave him his unequivocal confidence in his diagnosis. In 1855 Dr. QUACKENBUSH became Professor of Obstetrics and Diseases of Women at the Albany Medical College, where his suavity and tact made him exceedingly popular with the students. In 1868 he became President of the Medical Society of the State of New York. He occupied the position of Surgeon-General of the State of New York, under the administration of Governor Seymour, for two years during the war of the Rebellion, which made his office arduous and responsible, but he conducted all its affairs with ability and faithfulness. He took occasion during his term of office to visit the theatre of war and to personally inspect the solders' hospitals. He took a lively interest in political matters and was well informed in public affairs.

His latest position in his profession was that of delegate from the Medical Society of the State of New York to the International Medical Congress, to be held in Philadelphia in September of the Centennial year. He was famed for his intellectual quickness and discernment that seemed like the insight of genius and made his timely judgments of great value. His love of justice and fair play came in to intensify his influence where differences existed. This love of justice always swayed him in matters of right and wrong. In his relations with his medical associates he was ever genial, affable and sympathetic. He early made it his rule to answer every summons that he could to render professional assistance and advice. He believed that he was responsible to God for the right use of his attainments in knowledge and skill in behalf of suffering humanity, and maintained that he would be acting unworthily toward himself, and contravening the humane spirit of a liberal profession by withholding assistance when invoked, because the sufferer had not recognized medical distinctions and had become the patient of a practitioner unassociated with himself.—[Extracts from obituary by C. A. Robertson, M. D., of Albany.

Stephen P. (U. S. N), son of (117) John N. Quackenbush and Nancy Smith, was born in Albany, January 23, 1823; married Cynthia, daughter of Deodatus Wright and Louisa Maria Herrick, January 18, 1849, and had 181 John Van Pelt, b. March 19, 1859.

Stephen P. Quackenbush is now a Commodore in the United States Navy.

COMMODORE QUACKENBUSH entered the navy as midshipman, February 1840. His first cruise was in the Sloop of war "Boston," around the world, and since he has been actively engaged in duties pertaining to his profession. He participated in the engagement (naval) at Vera Cruz during the Mexican war serving on board of the Sloop of war, "Albany", as Passed midshipman. At the breaking out of the Rebellion, he was a Lieutenant on board of the U. S. Frigate "Congress," Flag Ship of the Brazil station. When war was declared the "Congress" returned home and during the continuance of the war he was actively engaged, commanding the following vessels, viz.: "Delaware," "Unadilla," "Mingoe," "Pequot," and "Patapsco," which latter vessel was blown up by a torpedo off Fort Sumpter, and out of a crew of one hundred and four, sixty-one men were lost; seven officers out of twelve. While commanding the "Unadilla," off Charleston Harbor, he captured the blockade runner "Princess Royal," a most important acquisition for our government, as she was intended for a cruiser in the confederacy, and had on board steam engines for an Iron-clad; Whitworth guns, powder, shot and shell in large quantities, as also a machine for cutting steel-pointed shot. This was one of the most important captures for our government that occurred during the rebellion, and the loss to the Confederate government cannot be estimated. From the sale of this vessel and cargo, the treasury gained nearly one-quarter of a million dollars. While in command of the steamer "Pequot," he captured the blockade runner (steamer) "Don," having blankets for the confederate troops. His services in the sounds of North Carolina were recognized and appreciated by Flag-officer Goldsborough and General Burnside, as also by Vice-admiral Rowan then captain, whose flag he carried on board of the "Delaware" which ship Commander Quackenbush, then Lieutenant-commander, commanded in the battles of Roanoke Island, Elizabeth City and Newbern.

Charles H. Davis was born in Cambridge, Mass., August 28, 1845. He entered the Naval academy in 1862 and graduated in 1865. He went immediately after graduating on his first cruise, which was to the Mediterranean, in the "Colorado," the flag-ship of Admiral Goldsborough. In 1867 he went on his second cruise to South America, where he was ordered to the "Guerriere," the flag-ship of his father Admiral Davis. On the return of the Guerriere in 1869 he was transfessed to the "Portsmouth" and remained another year on the South Atlantic Squadron. During this cruise he was promoted to the rank of Lieutenant.

LIEUTENANT DAVIS returned from South America in 1870 and was attached to the receiving ship "New Hampshire," at the Norfolk Navy yard. In 1872 he went in the "Omaha" to the Pacific Squadron and returned in 1875. He was at the Torpedo Station the summer of 1875, and on duty at the Naval Observatory, Washington, until 1877. In the autumn of 1877 he, now LIEUTENANT-COMMANDER DAVIS, was ordered on scientific duty; after a year's absence he was home for six months and then again ordered on scientific duty in 1879; then on duty at the Hydrographic office, Washington, until the spring of 1881, when he was ordered on the same duty to Japan and China.

TEN EYCK.

Coenraedt Ten Eyck came from Amsterdam, in Holland, with two or three children, and settled in New Amsterdam about 1650. The name of his wife was Maria Boele; they had

2 Jacob, probably born in Holland ; m. GEERTRUY COEYMANS.
3 Dirck, probably born in Holland ; m. AEFJE BOELEN, March 31, 1675 ; d. in New York in 1711.
4 Margarite, b. August 20, 1651.
5 Tobias, b. January 26, 1653 ; m., 1st, AELTJE DUCKING, January 30, 1678 ; 2d, ELIZA or ELIZABETH HAGEMAN, widow, April 27, 1684.
6 Coenraedt, b. November 22, 1654 ; m., 1st, BELETJE HEREKS, May 19, 1675 ; 2d, ANNETJE DANIELS, widow, April 15, 1682.
7 Hendrick, b. April 30, 1656 ; m. PETRONELLA DE WITT, March 21, 1676.
8 Matthys, b. March 20, 1658 ; m. JANNEKEN ROSA, in 1679.
9 Margriet, b. October 22, 1659.
10 Andries, b. July 15, 1662 ; m. BARENDENA HARDENBERGH, February 1, 1710.
11 Metje, b. April 11, 1664.

Coenraedt Ten Eyck died in New York in 1687.

In 1660 COENRAEDT TEN EYCK was assessed on two rods, two and one-half feet (Rineland measure (?), the width of his lot on the west side of, now, Broad street, New York, being the tenth lot and about twenty-five rods from the East river. The amount of the assessment was forty guilders (sixteen dollars) per foot for the building of the "Graff," or canal, which extended from the river through the centre of Broad street to Beaver street. This canal was made by widening, deepening, straightening and planking the sides of a natural rivulet that led from the swamp back of Wall street to the river.

It was, however, soon ordered to be filled up, paved and made into a street. A sewer was laid through the street in 1703, from Exchange Place to Water street. In 1674 Mr. TEN EYCK was estimated to be worth $5,000 — a fortune in those days. After his death his sons DIRCK, TOBIAS and COENRAEDT succeeded him in business.

Jacob,[*] son of 1 Coenraedt Ten Eyck and Maria Boele, was probably born in Holland; married Gertruy, daughter of Barent Coeymans (who married a daughter of Andries DeVos, their daughter Gertruy was born in 1654), and had 21 Coenraedt, b. June 15, 1684.

22 Mayken, b. December 12, 1686; d. y.

[*] There was a Jacob Ten Eyck in New York who, Valentine says, "married Neeltje Hardenbergh in that city, February 25, 1701. Nothing further is known of him." He had no children recorded in New York, and the probability is that it was a mistake in printing. Jacob of Albany was undoubtedly the son of Coenraedt, Sen., of New Amsterdam or New York, and removed to Albany."

23 Mayken, b. February 10, 1689.
24 Abraham, b. June 15, 1691; m. JACINTE BERKELS; d. in 1765.

VISSCHER.

The name of Visscher has been known in Holland from very early times in the history of that country, and was borne by men of distinction as clergymen, artists, statesmen and soldiers, as well as by those in the humbler walks of life.

While many other families of the emigrants who came to America lost their surnames on this side of the water, the Visschers have retained theirs, and, although the spelling has been somewhat changed in many instances, the original name is easily recognized. We find on the records Visscher, Visger, Visser, De Visser, Visselaer and Vyselaer.

The tradition in the family is that two brothers only, of this name, came over from Holland and settled in Rensselaerwyck. That one of them being a Roman Catholic was dissatisfied with his surroundings and returning to Holland was lost sight of by his relatives in this country.

Of the five sons of the other brother three settled in or near Beverwyck (Albany), one in Greenbush and one in Schenectady. From these points they spread to other localities.

Bastiaen Visscher, of Hoorn, in Holland, who was living there in 1675, had two sons who emigrated to America previous to 1644, and came to Rensselaerwyck

2 Frederick, supposed returned to Holland.

3 Harmen, b. 1619; m. Hester Tjerkse.

Frederick, son of (1) Bastiaen Visscher of Hoorn, owned a small house in Greenbush. Of him nothing further is known. Tradition says he was a Roman Catholic and returned to Holland.

3.

Harmen, son of (1) Bastiaen Visscher of Hoorn, was born in [illegible] and married Hester Tierkse probably in New Amsterdam where his son Tierk was born; he had 13 Geertje, m. CORNELIS DIRKSE VAN SCHELLYNE before 1684.

Harmen Bastiaense Visscher died a short time previous to the year 1693. In November of that year his widow was still alive.

He and his son Tierk were householders in Beverwyck in 1678. He had a garden on the river side below Hudson street, and a house and lot on the west side of Pearl street, between Maiden Lane and Steuben street. In 1666 he was the village surveyor. July 1644 he made an affidavit stating he was about 25 years old. In 1693 letters of administration were granted to HESTER TJERKSE, his widow, upon the effects of Volkie Peters, widow of Genet Stavast; second, of Peter Mees Vrooman whom she married in 1675.

Matthew Visscher died in Albany August 8, 1793, æ. 42 years, intestate.

Lydia Fryer, his widow, died in Albany April 11, 1841, æ. 88 years.

Matthew Visscher, was counsellor-at-law in high standing at the bar and at various times held offices of trust under the government. June 20, 1775, he was appointed second lieutenant of the second company of militia in Albany, and June 8, 1776, captain of the same regiment. He went with his company to the war but was recalled to act as clerk to the Committee of Safety. After the war he was town clerk, clerk of the mayor's court and clerk of the Court of Common Pleas of the city and county of Albany.

The first time the Declaration of Independance was read before an Albany public was by MATTHEW VISSCHER from the steps of the old court house, corner of Broadway and Hudson avenue. He was then twenty-four years of age.

105 Lydia Ann.

Sebastian Visscher died in Albany October 2, 1824.

ROSANNA, his widow, died in Albany March 5, 1837, æ. 65 years.

COLONEL SEBASTIAN VISSCHER was admitted to practice as attorney and counsellor in the court of common pleas and in the supreme court on February 3, 1795, and was appointed master in chancery April 26, 1812. He was a justice of the peace and clerk of the state senate and colonel of the Eighty-ninth regiment of militia of the State.

Thomas Shipboy, the father of ROSANNA, the wife of COLONEL SEBASTIAN VISSCHER, was a wealthy Irish gentleman and merchant. He had a country seat on State street, opposite the old capitol, on the ground where "Johnny Cook's garden used to be." In company with Robert and John V. Henry he came from Coleraine to Dublin, thence to Albany, in America. They were young men, full of enterprise and industry.

"In the First Presbyterian church, organized in 1762, tradition says, were four pews with canopies, one for the occupation of Mr. Thomas Shipboy, one for Mr. Robert Henry, one for the governor and corporation and the fourth for distinguished strangers."

Sarah Fryer, born February 19, 1752, who married Edward S. Willet, and was the mother of Catharine Willet, second wife of (213) JOHN B. VISSCHER, and Lydia Fryer, born October 26, 1753, who married (90) MATTHEW VISSCHER, and was the mother of SEBASTIAN VISSCHER, were the only children of John Fryer and Annetje Van Zandt who lived to maturity.

Rosanna and Lydia Ann are the only surviving children of SEBASTIAN VISSCHER.

GERRIT TEUNIS VISSCHER died January 5, 1805. He made a will November 10, 1804; proved January 16, 1805.

He lived in Broadway on the east side, north east corner of North Lansing street, near where the railroad crosses and just above it. The old house, built by him in 1766, was demolished to construct the viaduct at the railroad crossing in 1882. In front of it until lately was a large willow tree, which sprang from a twig used by the messenger who brought to Albany the news of the defeat of Burgoyne and his army, which twig he threw away opposite the house (it was picked up and planted by Mrs. VISSCHER), as he went by at a full gallop shouting "Bergyne is taken, Bergyne is taken," a crowd of delighted men, women and children following him to the City Hall, corner of Hudson street and Broadway, then South Market street, where the news was proclaimed.

ALIDA LANSING, widow of TEUNIS G. VISSCHER, died in Albany December 4, 1848, æ. 82 years

The above children were all born in the old homestead corner of Broadway and North Lansing street. When this house was built by his father there were no streets in the "Colonie." Broadway was a road leading from the north gate, near Orange street, to Watervliet, and North Lansing street was a road leading to the river. His father owned the land on the road to Watervliet down to the river, bounded on the south by what is now North Lansing street. Between his house and the city gate there were but a few scattered houses fronting on the road.

David Van Der Heyden died in Albany May 30, 1770. He was a merchant doing business in Albany. He made a will February 7, 1770.

GEERTRUY VISSCHER, widow of DAVID VAN DER HEYDEN, died in Albany September 27, 1784.

On excavating the trenches for the foundation of the addition to the Market (which was formerly the Middle Dutch church) on Beaver street, in November, 1882, the remains of Mr. and Mrs. VAN DER HEYDEN were exhumed, and the grave-stones under which they rested were taken up. They bore the following inscriptions:

Memento Mori.
Here Lies the Body of Gertrude,
Wife of David Van Der Heyden,
Who died the 27th day of September, 1784. Aged 88
Years and 6 months.

Lower down and near the right hand corner is the name "T. Brown," probably that of the workman who cut the inscription. Another stone found near by was inscribed:

Here Lies the Body of David Van Der Heyden,
Who Died the 30th of May Anno Domini, 1770. Enter'd in the 76th Year of his Age.

The Beaver street burial ground had been used for that purpose for many years before the church at the foot of State street was demolished in 1806, and the dead from under the church were removed to this ground. When the Middle Dutch church was built the grave-stones were laid down upon the graves and covered with earth to the depth of three feet. The records show that before this, as soon as the ground was wholly occupied, it was customary to add a layer of earth upon the surface and commence burying over the top of the last tier of coffins. After the lot was abandoned as a place of burial, the new church yard was located south of the Capitol park in the vicinity of State street. When the excavations were made at the head of State street to bring the ground to a proper grade the remains found there were removed to the ground now occupied by Washington park.

Colonel Frederick Visscher died at the family mansion at Caughnawaga, June 9, 1809.

GAZENA DE GRAFF, widow of COLONEL FREDERICK VISSCHER, died September 9, 1815.

COLONEL VISSCHER is justly entitled to be called the hero of the family. Several accounts have been given of his courage, and remarkable escape from death when the family mansion near Caughnawaga was attacked by the Torys and Indians in 1780, under the command of his bitter enemy, Sir John Johnson, the fullest account of which and probably the earliest will be found in "Sims' Border Wars of New York." The following extracts are taken from Sims' and from Sanders' early history of Schenectady families, a highly interesting work, lately published:

COLONEL VISSCHER was married and resided a short distance from the paternal mansion, the other brothers John and Harmon, with their sisters Geertruy and Margaret, were unmarried and resided with their mother at the homestead. The VISSCHER brothers were uncompromising patriots and exceedingly obnoxious to their Tory neighbors, headed by Sir John Johnson. Apprehending invasion, and a few days before Sir John Johnson's terrible descent on the settlement, COLONEL VISSCHER sent by bateau his young wife and infant family to Schenectady for safety, and took up his residence at the homestead. On Sunday night, the 21st of May, 1780, Sir John Johnson, at the head of about 500 men, British, Indians and Tories, entered the Johnstown settlements from Canada by the expected northern route. Dividing his forces Colonel Johnson sent part of them, mostly Indians and Tories, to Tribes Hill under the direction of Henry and William Bowen, two brothers who had formerly lived with the Johnsons in Canada. After sacking and burning the house of Barney Hansen, the enemy proceeded to the house of COLONEL VISSCHER and finding it unoccupied they plundered it and setting it on fire hastened onward to the VISSCHER mansion, where they arrived just at day light. There were in the house COLONEL VISSCHER, his mother, two brothers and two sisters, mentioned above. The attack was commenced by twenty of the enemy, who arrived first on the ground, who were soon followed by the main body of 300. The brothers defended the house for some time after the enemy gained an entrance below, and while fighting on the stairs the sisters escaped from the cellar kitchen and fled to the wood not far distant. Their mother, about to follow her daughters, was stricken down by a blow on the head from the butt of a musket and was left without being scalped. The brothers still continued to fight until their ammunition gave out and the house was no longer tenable, and as the enemy ascended the stairs COLONEL VISSCHER discharged his pistol and throwing it behind him in token of submission, called for quarter. An Indian running up struck him a blow upon the head with a tomahawk which brought him to the floor. He fell upon his face and the Indian took the crown scalp from his head, which entitled him to a reward, then giving him a gash in the back of his neck turned him over and attempted to cut his throat, which was only prevented by his cravat, the knife penetrating just through the skin. His brother, Captain John, as the enemy approached retreated to a corner of the room that he might there repel his assailants. An Indian, seeing him armed with a sword, hurled a tomahawk at his head which brought him down. He was killed outright, scalped and left where he fell. Harmon jumping from a back window attempted to escape, but in the act of leaping a garden fence a few rods off he was shot and killed and scalped. The house was then plundered and set on fire.

After the enemy had left, COLONEL VISSCHER'S consciousness returned, and he discovered that his brother John was dead and the house on fire. Descending the stairs he found his mother near the door faint from the blow dealt upon her head and too weak to render him any assistance. With no little effort the Colonel succeeded in removing the body of his brother from the burning house, and then assisted his mother — who was seated in a chair the bottom of which had already caught fire — to a place of safety. (This chair is preserved as a sacred relic by the De Graff family at the Visscher house.) And having carried out a bed lay down upon it, at a little distance from the house, in a state of exhaustion, where he was discovered by Black Tom, a slave belonging to Adam Ziely. Tom brought him water from the brook which revived him, and under the direction of the Colonel harnessed a span of horses to a wagon and took him with his mother and sisters, who came out of the woods on hearing the noise of the wagon, and the bodies of his murdered brothers, to the river at David Putnam's. The family was taken across the river in a boat to Ephraim Wemp's, and the Colonel's friend, seeing that he required proper medical aid, sent him forward in a canoe to Schenectady.

COLONEL VISSCHER bore through life the broad scar left on his head by the scalping-knife, and on all public occasions this was covered by a silver plate made for the purpose. But previous to this he was a notable hero in the battle of Oriskany, which occurred August 6, 1777. In June, 1782, when Washington made a tour through this portion of the country, an elegant entertainment was given him in Schenectady, on which occasion he placed COLONEL VISSCHER at his right hand in honor of his distinguished services.

He was appointed Brigadier-General by Governor George Clinton February 6, 1787, but declining to accept this office he was on the 27th of March following appointed first Judge of the Court of Common Pleas of Montgomery county, which office he filled with ability and honor till January 24, 1801. He was also a member of the Legislature of 1782.

VAN DER BOGAERT.

Harmen, son of Myndert Van der Bogaert, was born in Holland in 1612. He came to New Amsterdam in the ship "Endraght," May 24, 1630, as a surgeon of the ship, having sailed from Texel on the 21st of March previous. He married Jellisje, daughter of Claas Jansen Schouw or Switts, of Zierickzee, in Holland, and had

2 Frans, bp. in New York August 26, 1640; m. ANNETJE TJERKSE.
3 Myndert H., bp. in New York May 3, 1643; m. (10) HELENA SCHERMERHORN.
4 Lysbet, m. HARMEN JANSE KNICKERBACKER.

No other children are found on the record.

Harmen Van der Bogaert, in 1638, sailed for the West Indies, upon which occasion he made a will leaving his property, in case of his death, to his wife, "the daughter of Jellisen Claas Janssen, of Zierickzee, provided she gave to his relatives six carlous guilders." In 1648 his property in New Amsterdam was sold, and he was at Fort Orange (Albany) that year holding the office of commissary of the fort. He came to a violent death in 1648.

The names of Bogaert, Van der Bogaert and Uyt den Bogaert have often been confounded in this country, so much so that it has been difficult to trace the descendants of the two families that came to New Amsterdam. They were distinct families and not known to have been at all related to each other in this country, whatever connection there may have been in Holland.

Frans, son of (1) Harmen Myndert Van der Bogaert

77 Catalyna, bp. February 10, 1712.
78 Maritje, bp. November 13, 1715.

Harpert Van Deusen was buried in the church at the foot of State street July 6, 1742.

20.

Abraham, son of (4) Jacob Abrahamse Van Deusen and Catalyntje Van Eslant, was born January 11, 1667; married Jacomyntje, daughter of Gerrit Hendrickse Van Schoonhoven, May 23, 1697, and had 79 Guert Hendrickse, bp. September 27, 1702.

80 Isaac, bp. December 24, 1704.
81 Henrick, bp. June 15, 1707.

33.

Melchert, son of (6) Harpert Melcherts Van Deusen and (17) Helena Van Deusen, was baptised December 27, 1719; married Neeltje Quackenbos, and had 82 Harpert, bp. January 12, 1746.

83 Lena, bp. February 4, 1750.

VAN DRIESSEN.

Petrus Van Driessen had two sons

2 Petrus (Dominie), m. Eva Cuyler, August 26, 1712.
3 Johannes (Dominie), m., 1st, Margarita Van Stryer, July 8, 1727 (Pearson); 2d., (20) Margariet Oothout, October 22, 1736.

Nothing respecting Petrus, the father, has been found on the Albany records by the Compiler. It is probable he never came to America, but that his sons were educated in Belgium and came over at different times, Johannes later than his brother.

Dominie Petrus Van Driessen came to Albany April, 1712. He was the son of (1) Petrus Van Driessen. He married Eva, daughter of Hendrick and Anna Cuyler, August 26, 1712, and had 4 Petrus, bp. January 17, 1713; m. Engeltje Vrooman, June, 1738.

5 Hendrick, bp. October 30, 1715; removed to New York. Of Hendrick, the Dominie says: "This my son Hendrick was the first child baptised in the new church."
6 Johannes, bp. September 29, 1717.
7 Anna, bp. November 15, 1719.
8 Maria, bp. September 16, 1722.

Dominie Petrus Van Driessen made a will January 29, 1737–38, leaving all his estate, both real and personal, to his wife Eva, during her life time, with power to sell and dispose of the same. In conjunction with two of her children, Hendrick (Henry) and Annetje (Anna), she did sell, on the 21st day of July, 1748, the whole of the estate to Philip Lansing for a nominal sum, and he reconveyed it to her in fee. Later, March 9, 1754, Petrus conveyed his interest (whatever that might be) to his brother Henry.

Dominie Petrus Driessen was buried in the church at the foot of State street February 3, 1738.

Eva Cuyler, widow of Dominie Petrus Van Driessen, was buried in the church August 10, 1756.

Dominie Van Driessen was the seventh minister of the "Nether Dutch Reformed Congregation of the City and County of Albany," succeeding Dominie Johannes Lydius. To him belongs the credit of having a new church erected at the foot of State street of stone in place of the old and decayed one of wood. A petition was drawn up by him June 8, 1714, and signed by himself and the elders and deacons of the church, asking the approval of Robert Hunter, captain-general and governor of the provinces of New York and New Jersey, of their purpose of building a new church. He also obtained an act of incorporation for the church on petition August 3, 1720, which was approved August 10, 1720.

Petrus, Jr., son of (1) Dominie Petrus Van Driessen and Eva Cuyler, was baptised in Albany January 17, 1713; married Engeltje, possibly daughter of Hendrick Vrooman and Marytje Wemp (Glen), (b. September 27, 1713), June, 1738, and had 9 John, bp. March 11, 1744; m. Margarita Truax, June 22, 1770.

10 Petrus, Jr., bp. October 2, 1746; m. Hanna Johnson.
11 Mary.
12 Anna, bp. December 2, 1750.
13 Eva, bp. September 3, 1754; m. Johannes De Graaf.

Petrus Van Driessen, Jr., resided in Schenectady for a time. He made a will March 12, 1751, mentioning the above children.

Johannes, son of (4) Petrus Van Driessen and Engeltje Vrooman, was baptised in Albany March 11, 1744; married Margarita, daughter of Isaac Truax, of Schenectady, June 22, 1770, and had 14 Catalyntje, bp. June 20, 1771.

15 Hendrick, bp. March 21, 1773.
16 Annatje, bp. September 10, 1775.
17 Sarah, bp. July 4, 1778.

There was a Hendrick Van Driessen who was possibly the son of (4) Petrus Van Driessen, Jr., who had 18 Petrus, bp. May 9, 1773.

19 Willem, bp. October 20, 1776.
20 Hendrick, bp. May 2, 1779.

Hendrick Van Driessen died before his last child was born.

3.

Dominie Johannes, [illegible] (4) Petrus Van Driessen, married (according to Pearson) 1st Margarita Van Stryer July 8, 1727. If this be correct he married 2d (20) Margariet, daughter of (3) Hendrick Jans Oothout and (9) Caatje Volkers Douw (bp. July 13, 1701), October 22, 1736, and had 21 Catharine, b. April 15, 1738; m. ABRAHAM LANSING; no ch.; d. February 11, 1823.

22 Rachel, m. a SALISBURY, of Catskill; no ch.
23 Maria (Mary ?), m. 1st, THOMAS ELLIS March 26, 1764; 2d, HENDRICK (HENRY) GREVENRADT, February 24, 1773.

There is much doubt as to the correctness of this family of DOMINIE VAN DRIESSEN's. The marriage of DOMINIE VAN DRIESSEN and that of Mary are taken from "New York marriages" published by the authority of the State. The birth and death of Catharine is taken from a record in a Psalm book originally belonging to CATHARINE VAN DRIESSEN in which is written "Maritje Oothout her book, born March 11, 1690," and below it "August 15, 1738, is born my eldest daughter and is named Catharine." In another hand is written "CATHARINE VAN DRIESSEN, her book," and later "1823, February 17th, Aunt Catharine died aged 84 years. (See Grevenradt Bible record in this book.) Maritje Oothout died single, and the inference is that the book passed into the hands of Margariet, her sister, who married Dominie Jan (Johannes) Van Driessen. In settling the estate of (3) Hendrick Oothout a portion was given to (20) Margariet, wife of Jan Van Driessen. Letters about this estate were received by (25) Isaac Bogart and (19) Hendrickie Oothout, his wife, from Dominie Jan Van Driessen (written from Aquickanonck, N. J.) as late as November 11, 1748. That Rachel was the daughter of Dominie Jan Van Driessen, and that she married a Salisbury from Catskill and had no children, the compiler believes to be correct, but unfortunately has lost the reference from whence the note was taken. As to the marriage of Catharine to Abraham Lansing that is also in doubt.

The Rev. Johannes (Jan) Van Driessen was a younger brother of the Rev. Petrus. He was born in Holland or Belgium in 1697. He completed his education in the latter country and came to America probably later than his brother Petrus with whom he continued his studies for the ministry. He was given a license to preach by the Presbytery of New Haven April 13, 1727, after sustaining a thorough examination in the Halls of Yale College. He was acting as the Pastor of the Dutch Reformed Church at Kinderhook from 1727 to 1738, but was never regularly installed as such in consequence of his not having been ordained and licensed by the mother church at Albany. He was officiating as Pastor of the French church at New Paltz from 1731 to 1736, supplying also Claverack, Livingston Manor and Germantown. He received a call from and removed to Aquickanonck, N. J., where he remained till 1748, and was alive as late as the 11th of November of that year.

Maria (Mary), daughter of Dominie Johannes (Jan) Van Driessen, and [illegible] Margariet Oothout, married Hendrick (Henry) son of Isaac Grevenradt, March 2, 1772, and had 24 Alida, b. May 24, 1773; m. General ROBERT DUNBAR, son of William Dunbar and Elizabeth Van Deusen (b. June 19, 1773). He died June 30, 1837.

25 Henry, b. ——— ; m. MARY LAUGHTON.

Henry, son of (24) Maria (Mary) Van Driessen and Hendrick (Henry) Grevenradt, was born ———; married Mary Laughton, and had 26 Maria, b. March 11, 1812 (an only child); m. DAVID VAN NESS RADCLIFFE, May 7, 1834; d. January 23, 1853.

Henry Grevenradt early removed to Mackinaw, Mich., where he resided until his death. His only child Maria was adopted by her Uncle and Aunt Dunbar and resided with them in Albany.

Maria, daughter of (25) Henry Grevenradt and Mary Laughton, was born March 11, 1812; married David Van Ness, son of John Radcliffe and Jane Van Ness, May 7, 1834; and had 27 Alida G.

28 Jane, m. MONROE DEWEES, May 7, 1867; d. June 17, 1870.
29 Henry G., d. in New York June 23, 1882.
30 Mary G.
31 Robert D., m. CLARA ROGERS, June, 1869.
32 Cornelia, m. MARTIN HEERMANSE, April 27, 1881.
33 Albert, d. in infancy.

Maria Grevenradt, wife of DAVID VAN NESS RADCLIFFE, died in Albany January 23, 1853.

JUDGE DAVID VAN NESS RADCLIFFE died in Albany February 6, 1866.

30.

Robert Dunbar, son of (29) Maria Grevenradt and David Van Ness Radcliffe, was born in Albany; married Clara, daughter of Carlton Rogers and Sarah Perrine, of Palmyra, N. Y., and had 34 Carlton.

35 Robert D.
36 Clarance.

Robert Dunbar Radcliffe and family reside in New York city.

VAN DER POEL.

A.

Teunis (Anthony Cornelis Van der Poel, alias Spitsbergen, was in Beverwyck in 1660–87; married Catrina, daughter of John Croon (and probably sister of Dirk Janse Croon, who was a magistrate in Beverwyck in 1655–58 and 60), and had b Elizabeth, m. 1st (5) Sybrant Van Schaick; 2d, Benoni Van Corlaer June 2, 1686.

c Maria, m. (4) Anthony Van Schaick.

d Johanna, m. 1st, Barent Lewis; 2d, Jan Van Struyden June, 1694.

Teunis Van der Poel made his will June 17, 1687, in which he mentioned his wife, to whom he left a house in Amsterdam, Holland, which she devised to her three daughters. Catrina, widow of Teunis Van der Poel, made a will December 11, 1694, in which she refers to the will of her late husband Anthony Cornelis Van der Poel and to their three children above-mentioned. Teunis Van der Poel owned half of "Constapel's Island opposite Paerde Hoeck." In 1671 he was one of the magistrates of Albany. He resided in what is now known as Watervliet. He seems to have left no male descendants.

There was a Jacobus (James) Van der Poel married in New York to Margaret Jans July 25, 1693. Also a Gerrit Van der Poel, widower, married Deborah Warren, February 12, 1697.

The Van der Poel's were originally from Gorichem (Groningen?) on the Rhine. In the year 1600 they dispersed, one branch going to Amsterdam, in Holland, from which those in America are descended.

Wynant Gerritse [illegible] Gerrit Van der Poel, [illegible] in Albany as early as 1657. He was probably born in Holland. He married Tryntje Melgers, and had

2 Cornelia, m. (3) CORNELIS GYSBERTSE VAN DEN BERGH before 1685.
3 Melgert, m. 1st, ARIAANTJE VERPLANCK; 2d, ELIZABETH TELLER widow of Abraham Van Tricht, June 29, 1692.
4 Gerrit, m. CATRINA VAN ZANDT.
5 Catryn, m. (2) WILLEM G. VAN DEN BERGH before 1685.
6 Margariet, m. JOHANNES VAN ZANDT about 1683.

Wynant Gerritse Van der Poel resided in Albany until about the year 1694. In 1674 he purchased a half interest in a saw-mill on the east bank of the Hudson river, on what is now called Wynant's Kill. This property he purchased of Gertruy Pieterse, widow of Abraham Vosburgh. He made two wills, the first in 1694, the second in 1695, the latter was indorsed "The Will of WYNANT GERRITSE VAN DER POEL, late of Albany, now of New York," dated February 29, 1695; proved April 17, 1702. He died between 1695 and 1702. By his last will he bequeathed to his son Melgert only six shillings and gave all the rest of his estate to his son-in-law William Van den Burgh.

Melgert, son of (1) Wynant Gerritse Van der Poel and Tryntje Melgers, married Ariaantje, daughter of Abraham Isaacse Verplanck and Maria Vigne (bp. December 2, 1646), and had

7 Melgert, m. CATHARINE VAN ALEN May 17, 1696.
8 Maria.
9 Trinke.
10 Abraham, m. ANTJE VAN DEN BERGH January 3, 1713.
11 Wynant, bp. October 14, 1683; m. CATHARINA DE HOOGEN or DE HOOGES, August 17, 1706.
12 Gelyn, bp. May 17, 1685.
13 Jacobus (James), bp. March 9, 1687.
14 Hendrick, bp. June 2, 1689.

Ariaantje Verplanck, wife of MELGERT VAN DER POEL, died. He married, 2d, ELIZABETH, daughter of William Teller, Sr., and Margaret Douchesen, and widow of Abraham Van Tricht (b. 1652), June 29, 1692, and had

*This name where it occurs on the records is frequently spelt "Melchert."

15 Wilhelm, b. March 19, 1693.
16 Ariaantje, b. November 17, 1695.

Melgert W. Van der Poel resided in Albany where he probably died before 1700. His house and that of his father fronted the Fort in 1675, probably on the south side of State street.

ELIZABETH TELLER, widow of MELGERT W. VAN DER POEL, made a will February 19, 1720, in which she mentions Margaret (Margareta), wife of (14) Volckert Douw, Maria, wife of (2) John Vinhagen, Magdalena, wife of (9) Abraham Lansing and Helena, all children by her first husband; also Ariaantje, daughter by her second husband MELGERT W. VAN DER POEL. She died in 1720.

Gerrit, [illegible] (6) Wynant Gerritse Van der Poel and Tryntje Melgers, married Catryna, daughter of Johannes Van Zandt and Jannetje, and had 17 Wynant, b. in New York August 27, 1690; d. y.

18 Wynant, b. in New York in October 11, 1691.

Catryna Van Zandt, widow of GERRIT WINANT VAN DER POEL, died April 8, 1709. She resided in Albany in 1708 on the east corner of State and Pearl streets.

7.

Melgert, Jr., [illegible] (3) Melgert W. Van der Poel and Ariaantje Verplanck, was baptised in Albany; married Catharina, daughter of *Lourens Van Alen, of Kinderhook, and Elbertje Evertse (?), May 17, 1696, and had 19 Elbertje, bp. February 3, 1697; m. (7) MARTIN VAN DEUSEN, December 23, 1719.

20 Ariaantje, bp. September 3, 1699.
21 Lourens, bp. January 26, 1701; m. ARIAANTJE VAN DEN BERGH, October 29, 1726.
22 Maria, bp. January 10, 1703; m. (12) DAVID GROESBECK, November 8, 1724.
23 Johannes (John), bp. March 4, 1705; m. 2d, ANNATJE (NAUTJE) STAATS, May 5, 1743.

Dr. S. O. Van der Poel says "Lourens Van Alen was son-in-law of de Bruyn, to whom a large patent on the Hudson river had been granted.

24 Abraham, bp. February 9, 1707; m. ELIZABETH QUINLEN, October 26, 1738.
25 Jacobus (James), bp. April 17, 1709; m. NEELTJE HUYCK, October 16, 1740.
26 Isaac, bp. October 14, 1711; m. ANNA ——
27 Catryna, bp. December 16, 1716.

Melgert Van der Poel, Jr., resided in Kinderhook. After his marriage he removed to Poelsburgh, where he died. His wife inherited large estates from her father Lourens Van Alen.

10.

Abraham, son of (3) Melgert Van der Poel and Ariaantje Verplanck, married Antje Van den Bergh January 3, 1713, and had 28 Melgert, bp. February 7, 1714; m. (14) MARGARITA VINHAGEN.

29 Ariaantje, bp. September 23, 1716; d. y.
30 Teuntje, bp. August 3, 1718; d. y.
31 Gerrit, bp. June 11, 1721; m. CATARINA HOES.
32 Teuntje, bp. November 3, 1723.
33 Maria, bp. November 21, 1725; m. PETER M. VAN BUREN about 1746.
34 Ariaantje, bp. June 9, 1729; m. BARENT VAN BUREN.

Wynant, son of (3) Melgert Van der Poel and Ariaantje Verplanck, was baptised October 14, 1683; married Catharina, daughter of Johannes De Hoogen (or De Hooges) of Ulster county, New York, August 17, 1706, and had 35 Johannes, bp. August 3, 1707.

36 Abraham, bp. February 13, 1709.
37 Melgert, bp. March 4, 1711.
38 Ariaantje, bp. March 1, 1713.
39 Margarita, bp. December 25, 1714.
40 Anthony, bp. August 18, 1717.
41 David, bp. August 30, 1719; d. y.
42 David, bp. September 27, 1721.
43 Maria, bp. November 4, 1722.

Lourens, son of (7) Melgert Van der Poel, Jr., and Catharina Van Alen, was baptised January 26, 1701; married Ariaantje Van den Bergh, October 29, 1726, and had 44 Catharina, bp. March 5, 1727.

45 Jacobus (James), bp. July 3, 1737.
46 Jan, bp. March 30, 1740.

Jacobus (James), son of (7) Melgert Van der Poel, Jr., and Catharina Van Alen, was baptised April 17, 1709; married Neeltje Huyck, October 16, 1740, and had 47 Marytje, bp. October 11, 1741.

48 Catharina, bp. December 10, 1749; d. y.
49 Catharina, bp. May 10, 1752.

Melgert, son of (10) Abraham Van der Poel and Antje Van den Bergh, was baptised February 7, 1714; married (14) Margarita, daughter of (7) Johannes Vinhagen and Maria Van Tricht (bp. May 12, 1723), and had

50 Abraham, bp. July 10, 1748.
51 Maria, bp. June 21, 1752; d. y.
52 Jacobus, bp. May 27, 1759; m. MARYTJE MULLER, January 27, 1783.
53 Gerrit, b. March 26, 1762; m., 1st, MARGARITA WILSON; 2d, CORNELIA MULLER, about 1785.
54 Maria, b. May 1, 1766.

Gerrit, son of (10) Abraham Van der Poel and Antje Van den Bergh, was baptised June 11, 1721; married Catarina Hoes, and had 55 Jannetje, bp. February 9, 1752; m. CORNELIS VAN BEUREN, about 1775.

56 Abraham, bp. May 27, 1753.
57 Mattheus, bp. September 22, 1754.
58 Melgert, bp. November 30, 1755.
59 Peter, b. March 22, 1767.

52.

Jacobus, son of (28) Melgert Van der Poel and (14) Margarita Vinhagen, was baptised May 27, 1759; married Marytje Muller, January 27, 1783, and had 60 Margarita, b. February 25, 1784.

61 Catharina, b. April 9, 1786.
62 Jerime, b. February 26, 1788.

Johannes (John), [illegible] Mabert Van der Poel, Jr., and Catharina Van Alen, was born in Kinderhook March 4, 1705; married at the house of Madam Schuyler, "The American Lady," Annatje (Nautje), daughter of Dr. Samuel Staats and Catharine Howarden, May 5, 1743, and had 63 Isaac, b. December 8, 1747; bp. at Albany December 25, 1747; Philip Schuyler and Gertruy Lansing, Sponsors; m. MOYCA HUYCK 1783; d. at Chatham, Columbia county, December 25, 1807.

64 Maria, m. LAURENCE VAN DYCK November 19, 1762.
65 Catharine, m. JOHN PRUYN October 27, 1767.
66 Etje, bp. April 22, 1750; sponsors, Isaac Staats and Maria Staats; m. JOHN VAN VALKENBERGH.
67 Sarah, m. 1st, JOHN VAN ALSTYNE; 2d, COL. JACOB SCHERMERHORN.

Johannes (John) Van der Poel died in Kinderhook April 11, 1777, and was interred in Poelsburgh. It is supposed he was a widower when he married Nautje Staats, and that his first marriage took place November 8, 1736, to whom is not known. He devised nearly the whole of his estate to his son Isaac.

His wife ANNATJE (NAUTJE), the daughter of Dr. Samuel Staats, was a granddaughter of Maj. Abram Staats, surgeon, who came to Rensselaerwyck with Dominie Megapolensis in 1642.

Major Abram Staats married Catrina Jochemse, daughter of Jacob Wessels, and had

1 Elizabeth, m. 1st, (4) JOHANNES WENDELL; 2d, JOHANNES SCHUYLER April 25, 1695.
2 Jacob, m. RYCKE [illegible]
3 Abraham, b. 1665; m. (3) ELSJE WENDELL.
4 Samuel, Dr., m. 2d, CATHARINE HOWARDEN.
5 Jochem, m. ANTJE REYNDERS.

Elizabeth, daughter of Major Abram Staats and Catrina Jochemse Wessels, married 2d, Johannes, son of Philip Peterse Schuyler and Margaret Van Slichtenhorst (bp. April 5, 1668), April 25, 1695, and had

1 Philip, b. December 25, 1695; killed by the French at Saratoga November 28, 1745.
2 Johannes, b. October 31, 1697.
3 Margarita, b. Jan. 12, 1701. "The American Lady"; m. her cousin COL. PHILIP, son of Pieter Schuyler and Maria Van Rensselaer, who lived on "the Flats," on the bank of the river at Port Schuyler, above Albany and below West Troy.
4 Catalyntje, b. March 5, 1704; m. CORNELIS CUYLER.

Dr. Samuel, son of Major Abram Staats and Catrina Jochemse Wessels, married 1st (name unknown), by whom he had nine children, four of whom only were born in America, viz.:

1 Catrina, bp. June 16, 1689, in New York.
2 Anna Elizabeth, bp. December 21, 1690, in New York; m. PHILIP, son of Brant Schuyler, of New York, August 28, 1719.
3 Joanna, bp. January 31, 1694.
4 Tryntje, bp. April 5, 1697.

Dr. Samuel Staats married, 2d, Catharine Howarden, in New York, May 7, 1709, and had

5 Annetje, m. (23) JOHN VAN DER POEL May 5, 1743.

Dr. SAMUEL STAATS was a prominent leader during Leisler's administration of the government, and probably left New York soon after its collapse, and settled in Poelsburgh. His tombstone was seen at the grave-yard in that place some years since.

The Hon. AARON VAN DER POEL in a letter to his nephew S. OAKLEY VAN DER POEL, M. D., of New York, dated January 17, 1867, says in relation to Annetje Staats:

"JOHANNES VAN DER POEL married on the Flats between Albany and Troy, Annetje Staats, the niece and adopted daughter of 'Aunt Schuyler,' who has been called and distinguished as the 'American Lady' by Mrs. Grant, of Edinburgh, who was with her father, a British officer, stationed at Albany more than a hundred years ago, and who has written a book chiefly laudatory of 'Aunt Schuyler.' On page 203 of the book my grandmother (your great grandmother), is mentioned as Mrs. Van der Polen. She was the daughter of a Doctor Staats who had married, I think, a sister of 'Aunt Schuyler,' and who died at my grandfather's (JOHANNES VAN DER POEL) house, and was buried at Poelsburgh. His headstone was seen there some years ago, but I suspect the old grave-yard is now obliterated."

The Hon. AARON VAN DER POEL was probably wrong in supposing Annetje Staats to have been a niece of "Aunt Schuyler 'The American Lady.'" She was, no doubt, her cousin, some twenty or more years younger, and her daughter by adoption.

Mrs. Schuyler was called "Aunt" by every one, a compliment to her great kindness and generosity. JUDGE VAN DER POEL probably received the impression that his grandmother was her niece from this circumstance.

Isaac, son of (23) Johannes (John) Van der Poel and Annatje (Nautje) Staats, was born in Kinderhook, Columbia county, N. Y., December 8, 1747; married Moyca, daughter of Jacobus (James) Huyck and Elizabeth Van Dyck (b. October 17, 1758), in 1783, and had 68 Anne, b. January 3, 1785; d. September 5; 1787.

69 James, b. January 10, 1787; m. ANNA DOLL, April 7, 1808; d. October 3, 1843.

70 Anne, b. July 30, 1789; d. April 3, 1793.

71 Elizabeth, b. January 19, 1791; m. LUCAS J. VAN ALEN, January 16, 1815; d. August 23, 1833.

72 John, b. August 24, 1796; m. SARAH W. OAKLEY, January 14, 1823; d. October 27, 1851.

73 Aaron, b. February 5, 1799; m., 1st, HARRIET BALDWIN, September 3, 1821; she died April, 1837; 2d, ELLEN MCBRIDE, April 2, 1839.

Isaac Van der Poel was commissioned adjutant of the Seventh regiment (Kinderhook district), October 20, 1775.

He was removed from this position for disaffection to the American government. He afterwards joined the British forces and commanded a company of Refugees on Staten Island. While acting in this capacity he was taken sick, and it is said through the influence of his mother with her relative General Pieter Schuyler, a pass through the American lines was secured for him. She brought him home, cared for him until his recovery, and returned him to his company on Staten Island.

His estate was confiscated by the government and he was thus rendered almost penniless. He was a man of extraordinary intellect, and of a frank, noble and generous nature, but he never enjoyed a day of peace after the mistaken step he took in the Revolution. After his marriage he purchased a small farm in Chatham over the hill, about a mile and a half from Kinderhook Lake. He died in Chatham December 25, 1807.

Moyca Huyck, widow of Isaac Van der Poel, died in Stuyvesant, N. Y., November 20, 1827, and was interred in the Kinderhook cemetery.

Her mother Elizabeth Van Dyck was the daughter of Arent Van Dyck and Heyltie Van Alen. She married Jacobus (James) Huyck, of Pompaonie. She had three children, Arent, Burger and Moyca, who married as above.

Arent Van Dyck was one of His Majesty's justices of the peace for the colony. He was a gentleman of education and talents, and the general scribe for the region in which he lived. He was a lineal descendant of Hendrick Van Dyck, who was the attorney-general of the Dutch province of New York, and who came from the West Indies with Governor Stuyvesant. He and Stuyvesant were two obstinate Dutchmen, and seem to have quarreled all the way from the West Indies to New York.

[illegible] Isaac Van der Poel and Moyca Huyck was born in Kinderhook, January 10, 1787; married Anna, daughter of the Rev. George Jacob Leonard Doll (b. July 19, 1782), April 19, 1808, and had 74 Elizabeth, b. May 22, 1810; m. John Van Buren, June 22, 1841; d. November 18, 1844.

75 Susan Christina, b. February 16, 1812; m. WILLIAM COOPER, September 10, 1833; d. March 30, 1841.

76 Sarah Ann, b. April 26, 1816; m. JAMES M. FRENCH, December 2, 1835; d. November 30, 1857.

77 Mary, b. June 25, 1818; d. April 9, 1821.

78 Isaac, b. May 7, 1821; m. SUSAN FOSTER, May 14, 1850; d. December 28, 1868.

79 Harriet, b. June 6, 1824; m. JOSEPH C. Y. PAIGE, September 10, 1844.

Judge James Van der Poel died in Albany, N. Y., October 3, 1843.

ANNA DOLL, widow of JUDGE JAMES VAN DER POEL, died in Albany March 14, 1855.

"For many years previous to his appointment to the Bench, JUDGE VAN DER POEL had acquired a high reputation at the Bar and was prominent in public and professional life among eminent men of Columbia county. As circuit judge of the Third Judicial district of the State he was distinguished for learning, ability and promptitude, for rapid and clear-sighted views of the law and the facts, as he was also in his intercourse with his fellow-citizens for all manly and honorable qualities. But if his public life was honorable and elevated, his domestic life was eminently beautiful. He was truly the venerated and beloved centre of a family circle that appreciated the great and good qualities that shed a lustre over his life and sustained and cheered the long period of his illness. To all indeed who were allied to him by the ties of family or kindred, or who came within the circle of his friendship, he was an object of the highest respect and the warmest attachments."

"He was born in Schenectady, graduated at Williams' College, Massachusetts, in 1838; studied law in the office of Judge Alonzo C. Paige, his uncle, in Schenectady, and afterward entered the law office of Charles M. Jenkins and Dudley Burwell in Albany. He held a clerkship in the Albany City Bank until 1861, when he was appointed Chamberlain of the city of Albany, which position he held for eleven years, after which he became assistant teller of the Albany City National Savings bank, holding that office until his death. Mr. PAIGE possessed an eminently genial and social nature, was a gentleman of culture and refinement, of sterling integrity and strict probity. He was unostentatious and of an extremely kind nature, well known and highly appreciated. Among the many deaths of prominent citizens that have occurred none are more regretted than that of JOSEPH C. Y. PAIGE."

120 Gertrude Wendell, b. November 2, 1864.

These children were all born in Albany, N. Y.

"Dr. S. Oakley Van der Poel, late Health officer of the Port of New York, was born at Kinderhook, Columbia county, February 22d, 1824. His father was a physician of considerable local celebrity, and other members of the family have become prominent in various departments of intellectual effort and business enterprise. His boyhood and youth were passed in his native place, and much out-door life in that beautiful and healthful district contributed to the development of a vigorous and robust constitution. At an early age he completed his preparatory training in the Kinderhook Academy, and entered upon his collegiate course in the University of New York, of which institution the venerable and scholarly Theodore Frelinghuysen was then Chancellor. Bearing its diploma, he returned to begin the study of medicine with his father, and after a thorough course at home and in the institution, graduated at Jefferson Medical College, Philadelphia, in the spring of 1845. For the next two years he was associated in business with his father. But he still regarded his labors as only preparatory to the real professional career he had marked out, and, in the fall of 1847, went to Paris to pursue his studies with the superior advantages belonging to that brilliant capital. It was a remarkable period. Paris was in the midst of profound agitation. The unpopular ministry of Guizot and the trembling throne of the citizen king were tottering to their fall. This political ferment culminated in the violent revolution of February, 1848, ending in the abdication of Louis Phillipe, and the proclamation of the Second Republic. Dr. VAN DER POEL witnessed these memorable and turbulent scenes, and, as the seething tumult was unpropitious to the calm prosecution of studies, he traveled through the south of France and Italy witnessing at Lyons, Marseilles, Naples, Rome, Florence and Milan, the various acts of the revolutionary drama then exciting all Europe. Immediately after the bloody days of June he returned to the French capital and remained for a considerable period. In the spring of 1850 he settled in Albany where he speedily acquired a remunerative practice, which continued thereafter flattering and progressive. He was soon after married to Gertrude, daughter of Dr. Peter Wendell, Chancellor of the Regents of the University. In 1857 Governor King appointed him Surgeon-General of the State, and three years later he was chosen President of the Albany County Medical Society, being also re-elected the following year. In 1861 he was again invited to the office of surgeon-general by Governor Morgan. The position proved in this case not one of mere empty honor. The inauguration of the war, shortly after his term began, imposed duties and responsibilities far more arduous, delicate and important than had ever before devolved upon that or any other similar position in this country. It became necessary, without the guide of precedent or experience, to improvise a vast and systematic bureau, meeting every requirement attaching to the complete medical organization of a great force. There were many militia regiments to be promptly provided with medical supplies and instruments as they hurried to the field. There were numerous volunteer regiments rapidly assembling, requiring immediate care for their sick and attention to their permanent organization. There were hundreds of surgeons and assistants coming from every section of the State, representing every grade of the profession, whose qualifications were to be examined and decided. New regiments were uninterruptedly organized and old regiments demanded constant attention, even after they had passed into the service of the United States, in order that a competent medical staff might be maintained. This last duty was made peculiarly harassing and exhausting by the crude system of the General Government during the first two years of the war. In many cases the medical officers no sooner became conversant with their duties than the novelty and romance vanished, their resignations were offered and accepted, and the surgeon general required to fill the vacancies with such promptitude that the public service should suffer no detriment. The magnitude of the responsibility and the severity of the labor thus imposed, may be judged from the fact that there were between six and seven hundred positions upon the medical staff to be kept filled with competent officers. A still more significant testimony is embodied in the statement that at one time the surgeon general was called upon to make over five hundred appointments in the space of six weeks. Nor was this all. He was obliged to establish and perfect a system of promotion which should be just, without favoritism, and confer reward without impairing the efficiency of the service. His patronage was immense. With hundreds of officers in this department, upon whose respective merits none but himself could decide, it required a nice sense of honor and a wise discrimination to distribute the appointments in such a way that the good of the general service might be harmonized with a recognation of just personal claims. Nothing could put the professional acquirements and the executive talents of a man to a severer test than these varied, complicated and difficult duties; and it is but to repeat the judgment of the highest authorities to say that they were performed by Dr. VAN DER POEL with signal ability. His successful administration elicited the official approval of both the Secretary of War and the Governor of the State, and constitutes an important chapter in the association of New York with the great contest. In 1867 he was appointed to the chair of General Pathology and Clinical Medicine in the Albany Medical College, which he held for three years, and then resigned for personal reasons. About the same time he was appointed a manager of the State Lunatic Asylum at Utica, a position, still retained. In February, 1870 he was elected President of the Medical Society of the State of New York, the highest recognition in the power of his professional brethren to bestow. Dr. VAN DER POEL was in 1872 called by Governor Hoffman to take charge of the Quarantine Department of the Port of New York as Health Officer of the Port. The irregularities of this office for many years had been the theme of discussion in legislative councils and commercial conventions, and nothing in the way of reform seemed effective. The antagonisms of commerce and quarantine were developed to the fullest extent. In this field, with all its complications, there was full scope for the executive ability which Dr. VAN DER POEL had displayed so often before. Taken as it really exists, and executed honestly, this is the highest medical office in the world. To Dr. VAN DER POEL is due the credit of restoring it to its true position. His first action was to reduce the various parts of it to one system. The enormous expenditures, averaging more than a quarter of a million annually for some years, had grown into a heterogeneous organization without much system. Taking charge of it purely as a sanitary interest, Dr. VAN DER POEL placed in the hands of those who owned merchandise and ships, the work which had to be done on their vessels, and which thus could be done by them under the ordinary business rules that controled such things elsewhere. The quarantine law, which had grown by successive enactments into an authority for oppressive administration, was codified and relaxed from some if its provisions, only retaining what was necessary of sanitary restraint for the public safety, and these changes urged upon the legislature. For the first time in the history of quarantine, we find commerce sustaining it. Mercantile associations passed complimentary and approving resolutions, and petitioned the legislature in favor of every change recommended by Dr. VAN DER POEL. Branches of trade which had left New York apparently forever, to avoid the expenses incident to their quarantine detention, are returning. In all this there is no relaxation of sanitary restraint necessary for the protection of the whole northern and western United States, which depend upon this port for their immigrations, but sanitary regulations which the doctor considered as his legitimate care, were made more strict than before; the whole success of his administration being the judicious "re-arrangement of the system under curtailed expenses, and the exercise of the same executive ability for which he had been distinguished in previous positions. In January, 1876, he was elected to the chair of Theory and Practice of Medicine in the Albany Medical College, a position which, with his duties of Health Officer of the Port, he has since earnestly sustained. As a physician he is equally learned in theory, and skillful in practice. To large native endowments he adds the highest cultivation. An extensive library, whose ample stores are carefully enriched with all the latest publications, both American and foreign, keeps him fully abreast of the ripest thought and best achievements in medical science. He has also a keen taste for general literature, and, besides being a successful physician, is a gentleman of large public spirit and genial culture."—[From the Contemporary Biography of New York.]

VAN NES.

Hendrick Gerritse Van Nes, from Emberland, married in New Amsterdam Anneken Wessels, from Colen, April 19, 1654, and had, probably by a former wife,

2 Cornelis, m., 1st, MAYKEN HENDRICKSE BURCHGRAEFF; 2d, MARIA DAMEN, widow, in 1664.

Cornelis, son of (1) Hendrick Gerritse Van Nes, was betrothed to Mayken, daughter of Hendrick Adriaensen Burchgraeff, July 31, 1625 (notarial papers county clerk's office, Albany), and made an ante-nuptial will; they were married and had

3 Gerritje, m. ROELF CORNELIS VAN HOUTEN.
4 Hendricke, m. (1) JAN JANS OOTHOUT.
5 Hendrick, m. 1st, ANNATIE EVERTS; 2d, CATRIN VAN DAM, November 25, 1688.
6 Gerrit, b. 1645; m. MARITJE TELLER, widow, about February 14, 1676.
7 Jan, m. AALTJE ——, about 1683.
8 Grietje, m. PIETER CLAAS, of Amertsfort, L. I.

Mayken Burchgraeff, wife of CORNELIS VAN NES, made a will June 12, 1635, and died probably about that time. He married, 2d, MARIA DAMEN, in 1664, widow, first, of Dirk Van Eps; second, of Hendrick Audriese Van Doesburgh. By Van Eps she had Jan and Elizabeth, who married Gerrit Banker. By Van Doesburgh she had one daughter, Jannetje, who married Martin Cregier.

Cornelis Van Nes and his first wife lived, when first married, in 1625, upon the Hazendyck, in Holland. His wife's mother, Annetje Janse, of Loeckervelt, in 1630, left her a legacy of three morgens of land in Scherpenwyck. March 24, 1664, he was "Raets Persoon" (magistrate) of Rensselaerwyck and still widower of Mayken Burchgraeff. He, with Hendrick Burchgraeff, Roelff Cornelis (Van Houten), husband and guardian of GERRITSE CORNELIS VAN NES, (1) Jan Jants Oothout, husband and guardian of (4) HENDRICKIE VAN NES, HENDRICK, GERRIT and JAN VAN NES, Pieter Claaes, husband and guardian of GRIETJE CORNELIS VAN NES, residing in Amertsfort, L. I., all sons and daughters, with their husbands, of CORNELIS VAN NES and Mayken Burchgraeff, applied for a division of their mother's estate.

In 1681 the will of CORNELIS VAN NES and MARIA DAMEN, both deceased, was presented for letters of administration by her children Jan Van Eps, Gerrit Bankers, husband of Elizabeth Van Eps, and Martin Cregier, husband of Jannetje Hendrickse Van Doesburgh.

14 Evert, m. GEERTJE GERRITSE VAN DEN BERGH, October 27, 1700.
15 Gerrit, b. in 1681.

Maritje Teller, wife of Gerrit Van Nes, died about 1707. She had a son William by Van Alen, and probably a daughter. In a will made by her and her husband Gerrit Van Nes, December 6, 1707, they refer to a contract made February 14, 1676–7, before they were married, according to which William Van Alen, mariner, was to have property belonging to his mother, wife of Gerrit Van Nes, at her decease, provided Jannetje, the wife of Lourens Van Schaick, a daughter of (1) Jan Jans Oothout (niece of Gerrit Van Nes), and (4) Mayeke (another daughter fo (1) Jan Jans Oothout), the wife of (6) Thomas Harmense Hun, have an amount of equal value in clothing.

Gerrit Van Nes made a will March 10, 1715, proved July 2, 1715, in which he mentions his deceased wife Maria, William Van Alen and niece (Mayeke), the wife of (6) Thomas Harmense Hun. He resided in Greenbush.

The records in regard to Gerrit Van Nes and his family are very obscure.

7.

Jan, son of (2) Cornelis Van Nes and Mayken Burchgraeff, married Aaltje ———, about 1684, and had 16 Hendrikje, bp. November 2, 1684.

VAN SCHAICK.

Gozen Gerritse, son of Gerrit Van Schaick, [illegible], 1st, Geertje Barents, and had

2 Geertje, m., 1st, HENDRICK COSTAR; 2d, (4) JOHANNES LANSING.

Geertje Barents, wife of GOZEN G. VAN SCHAICK, died. He married, 2d, ANNETJE LIVESEN, July, 1657, and had

3 Gerrit, b. in 1650; m. ALIDA VAN SLIGHTENHORST; d. November 11, 1679.

4 Anthony, b. in 1655; m. (c) MARIA or MARY VAN DER POEL.

5 Sybrant, b. in 1653; m. (B) ELIZABETH VAN DER POEL.

6 *__Gerritje__, b. in 1657; m. Captain ANDREW DRAYER, commander of the Fort at Albany, June 17, 1674.

There were other children.

Gozen G. Van Schaick died before 1681. He first appears in Albany about 1652. He owned land at Esopus in 1663. (See deed book C county clerk's office and volume 1 common council records.)

4.

Anthony, son of Gozen Gerritse Van Schaick and Annetje Livesen, was born in Albany; married (c) Maria or Mary, daughter of (A) Anthony Van der Poel and Catrina Croon, of Watervliet, and had

7 Catrina, m. SAMUEL COEYMANS, December 29, 1724.

8 Gozen, bp. October 5, 1684; d. y.

9 Geertje, bp. September 11, 1687; m. (12) COENRAEDT TEN EYCK, September 24, 1704.

10 Gozen, bp. in 1694; d. y.

11 Gozen, bp. February 16, 1696.

12 Anna Margarita, bp. December 6, 1702.

* Holgate says Geertje, daughter of Levinus Van Schaick, married Andrew Drayer, admiral in the Dutch service, but this cannot be correct if Levinus was the son of Gozen by Annetje Livesen, whom he married in 1657. For if Levinus was 25 years old when married and his daughter was born the next year, she would have been born eight years after the records say Captain Drayer was married.

Sybrant G., son of (4) Gozen Gerritse Van Schaick and Annetje Livesen, was born in Albany; married (B) Elizabeth, daughter of (A) Anthony Van der Poel and Catrina Croon, of Watervliet, and had 13 Gozen, m. Catharine Staats, December 10, 1699.

14 Gerrit, m. Sarah Goewey.
15 Maria, m. Johannes Glendoff.
16 Anthony, married and had children.
17 Catrina (Catharina), m. (8) Adriaan Quackenbush, January 18, 1699.
18 Alida, m. Solomon Goewey.

Sybrant G. Van Schaick died and his widow married Benoni Van Corlaer, June 2, 1686, and died his widow in 1750.

13.

Gozen, son of (5) Sybrant G. Van Schaick and (A) Elizabeth Van der Poel, married Catharine Staats, December 10, 1699, and had 19 Sybrant.

20 Debora, m. (19) Johannes Janse Beeckman (his second wife), December 10, 1748.
21 Jacob.
22 Abraham.
23 Sarah, bp. November 27, 1715; m. (56) Robert J. Lansing (his second wife), February, 1748.
24 Ricke, m. (47) Abraham A. Lansing (his first wife), December 27, 1731.

Gozen Van Schaick died March, 1725.

VAN VECHTEN.

In "O'Callaghan's History of New Netherlands" mention is made of Teunis Cornelissen Van Vechten as succeeding Michaelse Jansen on his farm in 1646, and as living in 1648 at the south end of Greenbush, Rensselaer county, N. Y. Also of Teunis Dircksen Van Vechten who came to this country with wife, child and two servants in the Arms of Norway, and had a farm in 1648 at Greenbush, north of that occupied by Teunis Cornelissen Van Vechten. He is referred to in 1663 as an old inhabitant. Of the former nothing further has been found on the record. The children of the latter settled in Rensselaerwyck and on the banks of the Hudson below Fort Orange. The following notes relate chiefly to the Catskill branch of the family, and were furnished in part by Henry Brace, Esq., of New York.

Teunis,* son of Dirckse Van Vechten, as stated above, came to this country in the "Arms of Norway," with wife, child and two servants, in 1638, and settled in Greenbush. They had living in 1700:

2 Dirck T., m. Jannetje Michielse Vrelant.

3 Cornelis T., m., 1st, Sara Salomense Goewey, in 1668; 2d, Annatje Leendertse; 3d, Maria Lucase, widow of Jacob Claase, July 3, 1689.

4 Gerrit T., m., 1st, Antje Janse; 2d, (15) Greetje Volckert, daughter of (1) Volckert Jans Douw.

5 Pietertje, m. Myndert Frederickse Van Yveren, in 1663.

*The decendants of Teunis Dirckse Van Vechten, with the exception of the family of (2) Dirck Teunise Van Vechten, were taken from Professor Pearson's "First Settlers of Albany."

Direk Teunise, son of 1 Teunis Direkse Van Vechten, married Jannetje, daughter of Michiel Jansen Vrelant and Fytje Hartman, of Communipaw, N. J., and had 6 Jannetje, b. September 25, 1660.

7 Wyntje, b. January 17, 1662; m. Philip Leendertse Conyn, of Coxsackie.
8 Michiel, b. November 28, 1663; m., 1st, Marytje Parker, November 21, 1686; 2d, Jannetje DuMont, April 2, 1691.
9 Neeltje, b. March 24, 1665.
10 Johannes, b. June 24, 1666; d. s. June 1, 1735.
11 Teunis, b. May 24, 1668; m. Cathlyntje (Caatje) Van Petten, November 28, 1694; d. in 1707.
12 Antje, b. May 4, 1670.
13 Fytje, b. December 6, 1671; m. probably William Janse Casperse Halenbeck, of Coxsackie, May 23, 1697.
14 Samuel, b. April 12, 1673; d. s. March 30, 1741.
15 Saatje (Sara), b. January 8, 1675.
16 Abraham, b. April 14, 1679; of Raritan, N. J.; d. s. before October 16, 1739.

Direk Teunise Van Vechten died November 25, 1702. He made his will April 4, 1687, proved March 30, 1703.

Samuel, son of Direk Teunise Van Vechten, made the following will December 3, 1739, proved April 15, 1741:

In the name of God, Amen, the third day of September, in the thirteenth year of the reign of our Sovereign Lord George the Second, by the grace of God of Great Britain, France and Ireland, king, defender of the faith, etc., and in the year of our Lord Christ one thousand, seven hundred and thirty-nine, I, Samuel Van Vechten, of Catskill, in the county of Albany and colony of New York, in America, yeoman, being weak and sickly of body, yet of perfect mind and memory, praised be Almighty God therefor, but calling to mind the mortality of my body and knowing 'tis appointed for all men once to dye, do therefore make, constitute, appoint and ordain this my last will and testament in manner and form following, that is to say:

Principally and in the first place I recommend my soul into the hands of Almighty God who gave it, and my body to be buried in a Christian-like and decent manner, at the discretion of my executor hereafter named, nothing doubting, but at the general resurrection I shall receive the same again through the sorrowful sufferings, painful death and joyfull resurrection of my Blessed Saviour and Mighty Redeemer Jesus Christ, being thereby fully persuaded to obtain full pardon and remission of all my sins and to inherit everlasting life. To which the Holy Trinity one eternal Deity, be all honor, power and glory, world without end, Amen.

And, whereas, my honored father DIRCK THUNISSE VAN VEGHTEN (deceased), did on the 20th day of October, Anno Domini 1681, purchase of Stephen Van Cortland a certain tract of land in Catskill, in the county of Albany, which was afterwards confirmed by a patent under the hand and seal of his Excellency Thomas Dongan, State Governor of New York, bearing date the 21st day of March, Anno Domini 1686, and which was afterwards made over to me and my brother JOHANNES VAN VEGHTEN (deceased), by my brothers, namely, MICHAEL and ABRAHAM VAN VEGHTEN (deceased), by deed bearing date the 30th day of March, Anno Domini 1715, and my brother JOHANNIS VAN VEGHTEN (deceased), his part or share was made over to me by deed bearing date the 9th day of August, Anno Domini 1721, all of which premises I am seized of fee and in actual possession of and as touching all such temporal estate of lands, goods and chattels as the Lord hath been pleased (far above my deserts) to bestow upon me in this life. I give, devise, order and dispose of the same in manner and form, following:

Imprimis — It is my will and I do order that at my decease the second son of my brother THUNIS VAN VEGHTEN (deceased) namely, my nephew THUNIS VAN VEGHTEN, who hath been under my care from his childhood and now abiding with me, shall, hold, use, occupy, possess and enjoy all my lands at Catskills wherein I am now in the possession and enjoyment of, with all the houses, out-house, grist mill, barns, barracks, orchard garden, with all and singular the appurtenances to the premises belonging or appertaining and all other my real estate wheresoever and of what nature or kind soever for and to the whole and sole use, benefit and improvement of him, the said THUNIS VAN VEGHTEN, for and during his natural life time, and no longer without impeachment for waste.

Item — It is my will and I do bequeath and order that at the decease of him, the said Thunis Van Veghten, the before-mentioned estate shall come into the full possession and enjoyment of the right heir or heirs of him, the said Thunis Van Veghten, lawfully begotten of his own body, and thence to descend from the said lawful heir of him, the said Thunis Van Veghten, to his heir lawfully begotten, and thus to descend from heir to heir lawfully begotten of the preceeding heir, successively, to the end of the world, with this restriction, that he, the said Thunis Van Veghten, or his said heir, and from heir to heir aforesaid, successively, shall not by any way or means whatsoever, convey or make over any part or parcel of the before-mentioned estate, but that the same shall abide, continue and remain, the visitations of Almighty God in his allwise providence, only excepted, a perpetual estate of inheritance for and to the use and uses of him, the said Thunis Van Veghten, during his life, and after his decease, of the heir of his body and thence from heir to heir aforesaid, successively, to the end of the world as is before expressed, he, the said Thunis Van Veghten, and his said heir, and then from heir to heir, successively, rendering and paying therefor yearly and every year for ever, on the 25th day of March, to his majesty, his heirs or successors, the Quit Rent due for the same, namely, the quantity of three bushels of good winter wheat.

Item — I give and bequeath to my said nephew, Thunis Van Veghten, his executors, administrators and assigns for ever, all my household goods, furniture, utensils and implements, namely: Beads, beading lining, woolen, iron, brass, puter, wooden-ware, waggons, slays, ploughs, harrows, plate, cash, money and moneys worth in hand or owing to me, together with all my personal chattels as negro slaves, male and female, horses, cows, sheep, swine, poultry, with all and every other part of my moveable and personal estate wheresoever, and whatsoever none excepted. And lastly I make, constitute, appoint and ordain my before-mentioned nephew Thunis Van Veghten, the only and sole executor of this my last will and testament, revoking hereby all former will or wills, testament or testaments by me before this time made, willed or bequeathed, ratifying and confirming this to be my last will and testament.

In testimony whereof I have hereunto put my hand and seal in my dwelling-house at Catskill, in the county of Albany, the day and year first above written

N. B.—That the rasure in the word (this) was before signing and sealing.

SAMUEL VAN VEGHTON [L. S.]

Signed, sealed, published, pronounced and declared by the said SAMUEL VAN VEGHTEN to be his last will and testament, in the presence of us,

F. SALISBURY,
ABRAHAM SALISBURY,
WILLIAM SALISBURY.

ALBANY, the 15th day of April, 1741.

Be it remembered that, on the day and year above written, personally appeared before me, Myndert Schuyler, being thereunto delegated and appointed by Francis Salisbury, Abraham Salisbury and William Salisbury, the subscribing witnesses to the within written will of SAMUEL VAN VEGHTEN, and made oath on the Holy Evangelist of Almighty God, that they saw the said SAMUEL VAN VEGHTEN sign and seal, publish and declare the same to be his last will, and that at the time thereof he was of sound disposing mind and memory to the best of their knowledge.

(was signed) MYNDERT SCHUYLER.

Recorded in Book of Records held for the city and county of Albany, in Book No. F, pages 302, 303 and 304, and I do hereby certify that I find no material rasures or interlineations in the within will, and that I have examined the same with the record thereof. Recorded April 15, 1741.

PHILIP LIVINGSTON, JR.,
Deputy Clerk.

Catharine Schuyler, wife of ABRAHAM VAN VECHTEN, died in Albany September 10, 1820, æ. 54 years, 5 months and 18 days.

HON. ABRAHAM VAN VECHTEN died January 6, 1837.

"This distinguished lawyer and statesman was the youngest son of TEUNIS VAN VECHTEN and JUDITH TEN BROECK. Few men have been called to so extensive a sphere of usefulness and filled it so long and well as ABRAHAM VAN VECHTEN. He entered upon the scenes of active life shortly after the Revolutionary war. He received his elementary education at a public school in Esopus, which has been the nursery of many of our distinguished men. He pursued his professional studies under the direction of the late Chancellor Lansing, and began to practice law in the county of Montgomery, but was soon invited to occupy a more extensive field in the city of Albany. The high places of the bar were then filled by a gifted race of advocates, among whom were Hamilton, Harrison, Burr, Jones and Livingston. But the brilliancy of the bar could not cast young VAN VECHTEN in the shade. He soon ranked among his illustrious seniors as an equal and a competitor for the highest professional eminence. Untiring in his efforts, the powers of his highly-gifted mind were continually developed and expanded. His intellect was formed to grapple with the most abstruse and difficult of judicial investigations, and he early inured himself to the most intense application of mental industry. In acuteness and the ready comprehension of any subject presented for his investigation, he had few equals. And nature seemed to have furnished him with powers eminently adapted to the illustration of legal principles. He made no display of legal lore, his learning seemed to be incorporated with his thoughts. What he had once read was well digested and remained ever ready for application. A large portion of his life was spent in the discussion of legal questions in our highest tribunals of law and equity; there he was always listened to with profound attention by our most eminent judges. His arguments were calculated to elucidate and instruct, and greatly to aid the tribunals to which they were addressed, in forming correct conclusions. His style was remarkable for purity, perspicuity and strength. His train of thought was unimpassioned, yet earnest and forcible. His talents were too conspicuous to allow him to confine his efforts to the bar. He was repeatedly chosen to represent his fellow citizens in both branches of the Legislature. The Senate chamber was the theatre of some of his highest intellectual efforts. As a member of the court for the correction of errors, he has left behind him enduring monuments of his legal wisdom. For a number of years he filled the office of Attorney-General with distinguished ability. At an early period of his life a seat on the bench of the Supreme Court was offered him by Governor Jay, a similar offer was made to him at a later period. He declined these proffered honors, preferring the labors of the bar as more congenial to his habits and feelings. The causes in our books of reports, in which he took part as counsel, numerous as they are, give but a faint idea of the amount of professional labor performed by him. For more than half a century his brilliant mind was constantly shedding its light over the jurisprudence of the State. The bar had long delighted to accord to him the highest honors it could bestow. To the younger members of the profession he had greatly endeared himself by his kindness and courteous manners, and by all he was venerated as an illustrious model of professional excellence. In his daily consultations with his clients he was emphatically a peacemaker. It was his constant habit to advise the settlement of disputes whenever it was practicable. He allowed no sordid motives to influence his advice nor to bias his mind in giving his opinions. He was Recorder of the city of Albany from 1797 to 1808; State Senator from 1798 to 1805, and from 1816 to 1820; member of Assembly from 1805 to 1815; Attorney-General of the State for the year 1810, and was again appointed in 1813, and served two years, and was a member of the Constitutional Convention of 1821. His character as a citizen in the private walks of life afforded a model of excellence. He constantly displayed in his intercourse with his neighbors and acquaintances the most amiable social qualities which adorn the human heart. To his other traits of character was added one which is justly deemed of far the most importance, he was a sincere believer in the Saviour of the World, and a venerated member of the Dutch Reformed church. In her judicatories his paternal counsels were listened to with reverence, as eminently calculated to promote the peace and prosperity of the church. His disinterestedness was a prominent feature in his character, and was the foundation of that unbounded confidence which was reposed in him by all who knew him. In his domestic circle he was remarkable for kindness and affectionate attention to the feelings and wants of those who were dependent upon him."—[Munsell's Annals of Albany.

"Hon. Teunis Van Vechten died at his residence in Broadway, Albany, N. Y., February 4, 1859. He was Mayor of the city from 1837 to 1838. He graduated with high honors at Union College and commenced the study of law in the office of Chancellor Lansing. He continued the practice of the profession, at different times, with Recorder Baldwin, John Davis, Daniel Cady and Charles M. Jenkings, until his illness, in February, 1850. Upon the death of his uncle, the venerable and distinguished Abraham Van Vechten, he became the counsel and adviser of General Stephen Van Rensselaer (the Patroon) in the manorial controversies. He had the deserved reputation of being a sound discriminating lawyer, and was in all respects a man of mark. He was a representative man of his race and nation, cherishing the traditional traits of his Holland ancestry, their scrupulous integrity, industry, economy, family devotion and hospitality. He was proud of his native city and true to its interests. He might have aspired to the positions due to an extended reputation and liberal fortune, but he was contented to be an Alderman or Supervisor or Mayor of the city of his birth, a director in its moneyed institutions and a manager of its charitable and religious societies."—[Albany Evening Journal.

WENDELL.

The following genealogy of some of the branches of the Wendell family was compiled from documents left by the late JOHN L. WENDELL, ESQ., in possession of Mr. WILLIAM WENDELL, of Albany, N. Y., at whose expense they were arranged by Dr. C. B. O'Callaghan, and from Prof. J. Pearson's "Albany Families," and from other data obtained by the compiler. The greater part is taken from the documents above mentioned, as being the most reliable, from the fact that Mr. WILLIAM WENDELL had access to all the records in the hands of the different members of the family and devoted much time and study to perfect its genealogy.

Evert Jansen Wendell was born in 1615, at Emden, a town of about 12,000 inhabitants, situated at the mouth of the river "Ems," in the northwestern extremity of Hanover, now part of Prussia. He came to New Amsterdam about the year 1642; married, 1st, Susanna, daughter of ——— Du Trieux (who was probably the father of Philip Du Trieux, court messenger in New Amsterdam at an early day), July 31, 1644 (the name is now spelled Truax), and had

2 Thomas, eldest son, bp. September 8, 1645.

3 Elsje, b. in 1647; m. ABRAHAM STAATS, July 3, 1696. (See Van der Poel, under Family No. 23.)

12½ Susanna, m. JOHANNES L. TELLER, August 18, 1686.

Maritje Abrahamse Vosburgh, wife of EVERT J. WENDELL, died He married, 3d, ARIAANTJE ———.

Evert J. Wendell died in Albany in 1709, æ. 94 years.

On the 8th of February, 1647, he obtained a patent for a lot in what was then called the "Graft" (now Beaver street), New York, but on or about the year 1651 he moved to Fort Orange (now Albany), where he was a ruling elder of the Dutch church in 1656, orphan master in 1657, and magistrate in 1660 and 1661. His lot in Albany was on the west corner of James and State streets, which after his death was owned by his son Thomas.

Thomas, son of (1) Evert J. Wendell and Susanna Du Trieux, was baptised in New Amsterdam September 8, 1645. He resided in New Amsterdam until his father's death, which Prof. Pearson says happened in 1702, seven years earlier than is stated in Mr. WILLIAM WENDELL's record. Nothing further is known of him.

3.

Elsje, daughter of (1) Evert J. Wendell and Susanna Du Trieux, was born in New Amsterdam in 1647; married Abraham, son of Major Abraham Staats, surgeon, and Catrina Jochemse Wessels (b. in 1665), July 3, 1696, and had 37 Jacobus, bp. August 11, 1691 ; m. SARAH OLIVER, August 12, 1714.

Captain Johannes Wendell died between November 20, 1691, and February 20, 1692, as his will was made on the former date and recorded on the latter.

In 1682 he was agent for Maryland to receive the indemnity from the five nations of Indians for depredations they had committed in that province. He was Justice of the Peace in 1684 and 1685, Ruling Elder of the Dutch Reformed church in 1685, Commissioner of Indian Affairs from 1684 to 1690. In 1685 he was commissioned Captain of the Albany company, and in 1690 was Mayor of Albany. He left one hundred and forty beavers,* to each of his daughters Elsje and Maritje, begotten by his first wife, together with movables to them belonging from their mother's estate. To Abraham he gave his part of the land called "Sarachtoge" (Saratoga?), being the farm lying south of Fish creek; to Johannes his land called "Steenarabia" (now Lansingburgh) and the island called "Whale Island;" to Ephraim the land called "Klinkenbergh," and to his wife his dwelling house in Albany. Besides the above he owned a "piece of land outside the stockade in Albany on both sides of the Ruttenkill, south of the fort on the hill, bounded on the south by the hill that the gallows stands on." (Book of Patents, volume 6, page 282.) The present Wendell street runs through part of that land.—[O'Callaghan.

His widow married Johannes Schuyler April 25, 1695.

43 Elsje, b. April 21, 1689; m. NICHOLAS SCHUYLER, December 2, 1714.

Jeronimus or Hieronimus Wendell made his will April 25, 1690, whereby he left to his wife his entire property during her widowhood, but in case she should remarry the estate was to be divided, whereof she was to receive one-third and the children two-thirds, share and share alike without preference of sex, to be paid to each on attaining majority. To each of his daughters he gave in addition a Psalm-book with silver clasps, and to Elsje a silver cup marked "J. W."; to Harmanus the new Bible, a fowling piece and fourteen dozen silver buttons attached to the testator's clothes; to Evert his chest with his name thereon and his silver shirt buttons. What further belonged to the testator's body was to be divided among his sons. To Johannes he left a silver goblet with the testator's name thereon. By a codicil dated March 3, 1690–1, he ordered the just half of all his real and personal property to be given to his wife, to whom he left also a special legacy of twenty-five beavers (beaver skins).

The above was translated and copied from the original Dutch will belonging to Mr. PHILIP WENDELL, by Dr. O'Callaghan.

Philip, [illegible] (3) Evert A. Wendell and Susanna Du Trieux, was born in Albany in 1658; married (11) Maria, daughter of (3) Harmen Bastiaen Visscher and Hester Tjerkse, June 17, 1688, and had Abraham, son of (1) Evert J. Wendell and Maritje ———.

*See (32) Robert and under Family No. (55).

Vosburgh, his second wife, was born in Albany ———; married Mayeke, daughter of (possibly, although not recorded as one of his children) Cornelis Van Ess (Van Nes) and Mayeke Hendrickse Burchgraff, April 12, 1696, and had 64 Evert, bp. August 14, 1698; d. y.

65 Anna, bp. January 7, 1700; m. (13) WYNANT VAN DEN BERGH.
66 Maritie, bp. September 27, 1702; m. (10) JAN OOTHOUT, June 23, 1729.
67 Evert, bp. February 27, 1706.
68 Hendrick, bp. September 19, 1708.
69 Maria, bp. October 23, 1709.
70 Catharina, bp. March 4, 1711.
71 Hendrick, bp. October 19, 1713.
72 Susanna, bp. June 31, 1716; m. (47) EVERT WENDELL, June 2, 1736.

Abraham Wendell is supposed to have died January, 1755.

11.

Catharine, daughter of (1) Evert J. Wendell and Maritje Vosburgh, his second wife, was born ———; married Thomas Millington (b. in Old England), September 17, 1699, and had 73 Mayeke, bp. April 28, 1700.

74 Thomas, bp. January 21, 1702.
75 Anna, bp. April 23, 1704.

12.

Maria, daughter of (1) Evert J. Wendell and Maritje Vosburgh, his second wife, was born August 16, 1677; married Barent, son of Robert (?) Sanders and Elsie Brentse, September 9, 1704, and had 76 Robert, bp. July 15, 1705.

77 Maria, bp. December 3, 1707.
78 Johannes, b. July 12, 1714.

Barent Sanders was Mayor of Albany from 1750 to 1754. He was buried in the church June 22, 1738.

MARIA WENDELL, widow of BARENT SANDERS, was buried in the church November 21, 1757.

There is a discrepancy in the date of these burials between Dr. O'Callaghan and Prof. Pearson. The above figures are according to Prof. Pearson's statement. O'Callaghan says Sanders was born May 8, 1678, and died November 18, 1757, and also that he married a second wife CATALYNA WENDELL, which he learned from JOHN L. WENDELL, but could find no such marriage in the records of the Sanders family.

12½.

Susanna, daughter of (11) Evert J. Wendell and Maritje Vosburgh, his second wife, was born ———; married Johannes Lucasen, youngest son of William Teller, Sr., one of the first settlers of New Amsterdam, August 18, 1686 (?), and had 79 Margarita, bp. February 19, 1693.

80 Willem, bp. October 4, 1695.
81 Jacobus (James), bp. July 15, 1698.

Johannes L. Teller settled in Schenectady.

27.

Abraham, son of (4) Johannes Wendell and Elizabeth Staats, was baptised December 27, 1678; married Katrina de Kay, of New York, May 15, 1702, and had 82 Johannes, bp. May 2, 1703; m. ELIZABETH QUINCY, November, 1724.

83 Elizabeth, bp. August 20, 1704; m. EDMUND QUINCY, April 15, 1725.
84 Abraham, bp. March 3, 1706.
85 Helena, bp. September 21, 1707.
86 Catharina, bp. March 27, 1709.
87 Jacobus, bp. August 31, 1712.
88 Lucretia, bp. July 18, 1714.
89 Theunis, bp. June 24, 1716; d. y.
90 Theunis, bp. October 30, 1717.
91 Hendrickus, bp. August 3, 1719.

Mr. Wendell Phillips states in his "Memorials of the Dead in Kings Chapel Burying Ground, Boston," page 237, that the above mentioned Abraham Wendell (the progenitor of the New England branch of this family), settled as a merchant in Boston, where he died September 28, 1734, æ. 55 years and 9 months.

31.

Evert.* son of (4) Johannes Wendell and Elizabeth Staats, was born ———; married (25) Engeltje (WENDELL according to Prof. Pearson), daughter of (4) Johannes Lansing and (2) Gertruy Van Schaick, December 12, 1710, and had 92 Gertruy, bp. October 7, 1711.

93 Johannes, bp. June 20, 1713.
94 Abraham, bp. April 24, 1715; buried June 30, 1753.
95 Ariaantje, bp. May 19, 1717.
96 Ephraim, bp. April 5, 1719. (Not repeated under Family No. 40.)
97 Evert, bp. January 13, 1723.
98 Elizabeth, bp. November 29, 1724.
99 Engeltje, bp. September 25, 1726.
100 Harmanus, bp. July 2, 1731.
101 Philip, bp. July 7, 1734.

Evert Wendell made a will July 29, 1749, proved June 20, 1750. He was buried May 4, 1750.

32.

Johannes, son of (4) Johannes Wendell and Elizabeth Staats, was baptised March 2, 1684; married Elizabeth Walters, and had 102 Johannes, bp. February 8, 1708.

103 Robert,† bp. November 27, 1709.

111 Maria, bp. January 6, 1723.
112 Ephraim, bp. May 16, 1725.
113 Sarah, bp. October 13, 1728.

Captain Johannes Wendell was buried on "The Flats" (now Port Schuyler, above Albany) January 13, 1729.

* It is doubtful whether this Evert was the son of (4) Johannes or (7) Jeronimus Wendell, authorities differ. Dr O'Callaghan and Mr. Philip Wendell say he was the son of Jeronimus. The above is the family as given by Prof. Pearson. See Family No. (40); this family is repeated there as children of Evert, son of Jeronimus.
† See Family No. (55) Robert Wendell.

35.

Isaac, son of (4) Johannes Wendell and Elizabeth Staats, was born November 5, 1688; married Catalyna, daughter of Hendrick (?) Van Dyck and Maria Schuyler (b. October 6, 1695), November 28, 1717, and had 114 Johannes, bp. November 15, 1718; buried in Boston, Mass., November 12, 1755.

1 Margaret, m. JUDGE SAMUEL COOPER.
2 Sarah, m. MARK NEWMAN.
3 John, father of Wendell Phillips.

Jacobus Wendell died September 7, 1761. He removed from Albany to Boston, Mass., where he became a merchant. He was, in 1733, a Director of the First Bank of Massachusetts, Colonel of the Boston Regiment in 1742, member of the Governor's Council from about 1737 to 1750, and Commissioner from Massachusetts to the conferences with the Indians at Albany in 1744, 1745 and 1750..

SARAH OLIVER, widow of JACOBUS WENDELL, died in Boston July 22, 1762.

Sir Jonah Barrington says: "Dress has a moral effect on mankind. Let any gentleman find himself with dirty boots, old surtout, soiled neckcloth and a general negligence of dress, he will in all probability find a corresponding disposition, by negligence of address. We should perhaps feel the force of this could we but see one of the 'solid men of Boston' of olden times, as he came down State street at the hour of high change, then twelve o'clock. His appearance would cause as much or more excitement than that of the Turkish Ambassador, who recently made us a visit. COL. JACOB WENDELL, merchant, who died in 1761, is thus described: 'His dress was rich, being a scarlet embroidered coat, gold-laced cocked hat, embroidered long waistcoat, small clothes, with gold knee buckles, silk stockings with gold clocks, shoes and large gold or silver buckles, as the importance of the occasion or business demanded, full ruffles at the bosom and wrists, and walking with a gold-headed cane.' Now we have a portrait of one of the old school gentleman of a century ago."

39.

Harmanus, son of (71) Jeronimus Wendell and Ariaantje Harmense Visscher, was born in 1678; married Anna, daughter of Jacob Sanders Glen, about 1699, and had 134 Ariaantje, bp. August 25, 1700.

135 Jacob, bp. November 22, 1702; m. HELENA VAN RENSSELAER December 19, 1728.

136 Catharine, bp. January 10, 1705 ; m. JOHN A. CUYLER, March 28, 1727.

137 Evert, bp. January 19, 1707 ; m. MARIA TRUAX, widow, in 1761.

138 Anna, bp. February 9, 1709 ; m. (64) JACOB HENRY TEN EYCK, November 30, 1737.

139 Johannes, bp. October 11, 1711 ; contractor for Oswego from 1737 to 1743 ; d. October, 1743.

140 Harmanus, bp. April 11, 1714 ; m. CATHARINE VAN VECHTEN, March 6, 1741.

141 Abraham, bp. June 24, 1716 ; m. (184) ELIZABETH WENDELL, September 27, 1740.

Harmanus Wendell, merchant, signed an address to the Earl of Belmont in 1700. He was Alderman of Albany in 1714, 1720, 1726 and 1727 ; Commissioner of Indian Affairs from 1728 to 1732 ; contractor to victual Oswego in 1729. He died at 98 State street, Albany, and was buried in the church December 15, 1731. (So stated in the record of burials ; O'Callaghan says he died in 1732.)

ANNA GLEN, widow of HARMANUS WENDELL, was buried September 19, 1756.

10.

Evert, son of 7. Jeronimus Wendell and Ariaantje Visscher, was born February 8, 1680–1 ; married (25) Engeltje, daughter of (4) Johannes Lansing and (2) Gertruy Van Schaick (b. August 12, 1690), December 12, 1710, and had 142 Gertruy, b. September 30, 1711 ; d. s. November 8, 1746.

143 Johannes, b. June 27, 1713 ; m. MARIA VAN SANTVOORD, July 16, 1741 ; d. August 18, 1756.

151 Engeltje, b. July 18, 1728 ; m. JAMES HEWETSON, November 6, 1772.

152 Harmanus, b. July 2, 1731 ; d. of measles September 17, 1747.

153 Philip, b. July 3, 1734; m. SARAH PACKARD.

Evert Wendell died May 3, 1750.

ENGELTJE LANSING, widow of EVERT WENDELL, died December 18, 1769, and was buried beside her husband.

EVERT WENDELL was a lawyer and Commissioner for Indian Affairs from 1724 to 1734, also Commissioner for receiving fines under the Oswego act of 1727. He made a will dated July 29, 1749, which was proved June 20, 1750, in which he gives to his oldest son Johannes all his surveying instruments and law books in lieu of all claims he may have to his father's estate, whether real or personal, "for reasons to him best known"; to his other surviving children he gave all his real estate in the town of Schenectady; to his "dear, trusty, faithful, beloved, honest son Abraham," he left all his lands, houses and premises on both sides of the Beaver Kill, Albany, with the saw mill, dam, saws, grist mills, grinding stones, brew house, kettles, orchard, etc., horse, cow, pleasure sleigh, and large Holland gun, marked with his name on the lock; also two lots in the south part of Albany; one lot in the north part of said city on condition that he pay his father's debts, if he keep said lots; also a farm on Norman's Kill on condition of paying the tenth of the produce to the lord of the manor, according to the custom of the Colonie of Rensselaerwyck; to his youngest son Philip he bequeathed his dwelling-house and lot in the first ward of Albany, with all his pasture land on both sides of the Rutten Kill, with right to his, the testator's widow, and his two unmarried daughters Elizabeth and Engeltje to occupy said house and lots whilst sole. Philip was also to remain with his sisters as long as he remained unmarried, and the testator's meaning is "that they shall never be put out of doors as long as they remain unmarried." He is also to have free grinding of his bread corn at the mill left to Abraham, two chocolate pots and pans, and he and Abraham are to build a chocolate mill in which Abraham may grind fifty pounds of chocolate yearly; he is likewise left his father's wearing apparel and one gun and his large clock; to each of his three daughters Ariaantje, Elizabeth and Engeltje he left one-third of a lot of pasture in the south part of the city of Albany "just behind the stockades." The remainder of his estate, real and personal, negro slaves, horses, cows, gold and silver plate, debts and bonds, were to be divided, share and share alike, among his five aforesaid children, viz., Abraham, Ariaantje, Engeltje, Elizabeth and Philip. The executors to his will were his son Abraham and his daughter Engeltje.

The names, dates of births, marriages and deaths of EVERT WENDELL's children, etc., were taken from the family record of PHILIP WENDELL, ESQ., by Dr. O'Callaghan. This is the EVERT WENDELL that Prof. Pearson supposes may have been the son of (4) JOHANNES WENDELL, and who appears in this record under Family No. 31.

Johannes, son of (7) Jeronimus Wendell and (12) Ariaantje Visscher, was baptised January 13, 1684; married Susanna Viele, June 5, 1708, and had Harmanus Wendell was Assistant Alderman in 1749; assistant judge of the Court of Common Pleas from 1752 to 1758, and one of the proprietors of the Jersey Field patent in 1770. He made a will May 1, 1769, proved April 27, 1771. He left to his wife his share of the lot in the township of Schenectady, released to him by the heirs of Jacob Sanders Glen; also her clothes and the household furniture she had at the time of her marriage, and sufficient support during her widowhood; to his unmarried daughters an outfit of the same value as that given to their married sister; to each of his sons one-fourth of his Indian purchase at Canajoharie, on condition that they give to each of his daughters one-eighth of three-fourths of the value thereof.

While workmen were making excavations for the piers to support the main floor of the addition to the Public market on Beaver street, in Albany, November 8, 1882, they came across a head-stone and a number of human bones. The tablet is of brown stone, similar to the others taken out, and bears a fantastical face in the scroll work on the top. On the slab is the following inscription:

Hier Leydt Het Lighaem
Van Harmanis Wendell
Out 57 Iaer Obit den 13
February, Anno Domini 1771.

This interpreted means: "Here lies the body of Hermanis Wendell, aged 57 years, died the 13th of February, in the year of our Lord 1771."

Abraham H. Wendell made his will April 13, 1793, proved February 18, 1800, whereby his sons Harmanus, John and Jacob were given the house and lot occupied by the testator and the house occupied by Harmanus for one fourth less of the value as appraised by them and his daughter Janneke and John Van Vechten, son of his deceased daughter Annatie. Should they disagree it was to be appraised and sold and one-fifth part paid to his daughters and grandson. He left to his sons his lot back of the fort on the hill. His lands in Saconduga and his lot in Schenectady he left also to his children and grandson. In case his daughter Janneke should marry she was to have a decent outfit, but until then she might live in his house and be supported out of his estate, but if they disagreed and one hired another house, the others were to pay half his house rent.

355 Dora, b. at Washington, D. C., April 6, 1860; d. August 21, 1861.

Cornelius Wendell died October 9, 1870, at Northampton, Mass.

CORNELIS WENDELL had been during all his life-time a conspicuous man in his business avocation, in the political world, in the social sphere, and in the many associations with which he has been connected. Starting in youth as a humble apprentice in the typographical calling, he rose steadily to the proprietorship of a prominent daily journal, to the responsible position of government printer at Washington, and to the occupancy of several other public trusts, and in all these stations he so distinguished himself by his energy, fitness, talent, and social qualities, that he had acquired a fame throughout the country, exceeded in extent by but few men. He learned, or at least the rudiments of the "art preservative of all arts," in the printing office of Denio & Richards, who then published the Daily Morning Chronicle, commencing his indentureship in 1828. It was a political newspaper, established to promote the re-election of John Quincy Adams to the Presidency. Upon leaving that office he was employed in the extensive establishment of Obadiah Van Benthuysen, where he finished his trade. While still at work as a journeyman, he, with several others of like position in the craft, started a newspaper entitled The Albanian, which, though ably managed, did not long survive. In 1840, associated with Mr. George Vance, he published a vigorous Democratic campaign paper called The Plaindealer. In 1840 the Albany Atlas entered upon its busy life and eventful career, under tutelage of Vance & Wendell as proprietors, and William Cassidy as editor. Mr. WENDELL'S connection with that journal ceased upon his removal to Washington, in or about 1851, to assume a leading position in the government printing office, and of which he subsequently became the head. He never held any public office except the one last mentioned, though during the administrations of Presidents Buchanan and Johnson he was assigned to the discharge of several missions of importance and of intimate relationship to the government. In these positions, as well as in all his other relations in life,

MR. WENDELL so demeaned himself by his courtesy, his intelligence, his candor and his generous instincts as to extort the good opinion and the warmest admiration of all to whom he became known. He was, perhaps, best known in this city, where he spent the earlier period of his life, and with which he has ever kept alive and fresh his social attachments. Without being in any wise obtrusive in disposition or manner, his presence everywhere and at all times, by the charm of his address, assuredly brought to him a circle of friends who delighted to join in the presence of his society. He attached himself while here to several associations, in all of which he was assigned to an active and prominent part. He was one of the projectors and first members of the Albany Burgesses Corps, and so long as he could, continued to be an active member. When his relations to that company were necessarily sundered by his removal from the city, he continued to retain all possible connection with it. Several years since he inaugurated a plan of giving each year, as a prize to the best soldier, an elegant medal, and upon each recurrence of the day of the organization of the company that medal has been bestowed. He has warmly kept alive all his social relations in this city, and his death now will awaken a sentiment of sorrow as fervent and as wide-spread as would the announcement of the decease of any person that ever lived among us. Though during nearly his whole lifetime he has been more or less actively employed in the business of politics, he has never, by speech or conduct, given offence. Towards political adversaries he has ever been courteous and magnanimous. And so it will transpire that the remembrance of his political sentiments or action, will never endure in their memories to lessen in the least the regret that his death shall awaken. —[Albany Morning Express.

FIFTY YEARS IN BUSINESS.

Announcement is made elsewhere of the retirement from active business pursuits of Mr. WILLIAM WENDELL, who thus terminates a career in the prosecution of the jeweler's trade, extending over precisely half a century. In a series of articles published in The Journal on "Old Albany Firms" Mr. WENDELL's methods and movements were discussed at some length, and the moral pointed that honest endeavor and strict adherence to rigid rules must result in the needs of prosperity. Fifty years ago Mr. WENDELL, than an ambitious youth in his teens, was bound out to Henry Hoyt, a jeweler, whose humble shop occupied the present site of the Argus building. At the bench the young apprentice proved himself an expert at his [redacted] Mulford on State street, now occupied by Gray's book store, he was received as a partner in 1842. The principle which advanced his prospects at that time, became his own guide in business thereafter. Whenever Mr. WENDELL found behind his own counters a spirit which had justified sufficient confidence, he never hesitated to reward it with an interest in his business. William P. Feltman, Richard H. Roberts and James H. Leake, the latter his present partner, were at one time and another elevated from clerkships to association with him, where they shared the profits of his business. During Mr. WENDELL's protracted career, he has at no time failed in the respect of the people with whom he dealt. His retirement, the rest and relief of which has been earned by arduous toil, will be passed in the enjoyment of a competency got by strict integrity.—[Albany Evening Journal.

Robert B. Minturn died in the city of New York January 9, 1866.

"He was a prominent citizen and a member of the firm of Grinnell, Minturn & Co., of which he was the master spirit. He was in its best and broadest sense a 'merchant prince,' an enterprising citizen, a practical philanthropist and a devoted Christian. He rendered efficient aid in the establishment of Castle Garden as an emigrant depot, and was one of the Emigrant Commissioners. He took an active interest in establishing Central Park in New York and was one of the first promoters of the object. In the palmiest days of New York's commercial prosperity, he was one of those distinguished alike for enterprise, intelligence, public spirit, patriotism, liberality, and last but by no means least, for their bountiful and refined hospitalities."

BOGART.

(See page 45.)

Henrietta Bogart, widow of Abraham S. Brinckerhoff, died November 28, 1882.

Entered into rest on her 85th birthday,

Mrs. Henrietta Bogart Brinckerhoff.

Few among us are called upon to live so continuously a life of self-denial as Mrs. Brinckerhoff did, from first to last, thinking always of others and what she could do for their real good. Her devotion to a large family circle and to her invalid sister for many many years, in the midst of cares and responsibilities as the head of a prosperous school, called forth always my admiration and caused others as well as myself to exclaim that Mrs. Brinckerhoff was the Saint. "Faithful unto death" must surely have been her watchword as she patiently bore her cross on earth waiting for her crown in Paradise.

And so it came to pass that late in the evening of her unselfish life, in the darkness of night the "Angels came and tenderly bore her for whom they had waited long, knowing that even here she was learning their blessed song."

"They bore her soul away
Beyond the fading stars.
To the brightness of the day."

GREVENRADT.

From the Bible of (25 Van Driessen) HENDRICK GREVENRADT, now in the possession of Miss (27 Van Driessan) Alida G. Radcliffe, who formerly lived at 708 Broadway, Albany, but now of New York (1883.)

(Year gone) (1662 ?) The 27th of June on Tuesday, between 6 and 7 o'clock in the evening, was I (25 Van Driessen) Hendrick Grevenradt born in New York, and baptised in presence of Samuel Drisses and Engeltje Jeverient (probably Van Yeveren.) (He was the son of Isaac Grevenradt and Lysbet Juriaens, who were married March 24, 1652, in New York, where he resided.) The New York records show he was born in June, 1662.

1667, the 5th of September, being about — o'clock in the evening I, Sara Sanders, was born at Albany and baptised in presence of Jan Harperdinger and Sara Sanders. (She was the daughter of Robert Sanders and Elsje Barents, and granddaughter of Thomas Sanders, of Amsterdam, Holland, and Sarah Cornelisse Van Gorcum, of New Amsterdam.)

1686, the 5th of May, was I, Hendrick Grevenradt, married to Sara Sanders in Albany.

1687, the 20th of December, was born my first daughter Elizabeth, baptised in Albany in presence of Robbert Sanders and Elsse Sanders.

1690, the 24th of March my daughter died in New York.

1690, the 14th of February was born my second danghter Elsse on Friday ; baptised in New York in presence of Jan Harperding and Anna Grevenradt.

1692, the 5th of June, on Saturday at 6 o'clock in the morning was born my third daughter Elizabeth; baptised in New York in presence of Andries Grevenradt and Maritje Silius.

1695, the 27th of July, on Saturday between 11 and 12 o'clock before noon, was my son Isaac born, and baptised in New York in presence of Jacobus Van der Speighel and Mayeke Harperding.

1697, July 24, was my fourth daughter, named Maria, baptised in New York in presence of Barent Sanderse and Ameleya Sanderse.

1698, August 8, my daughter Maria died.

In another hand is written (probably by his wife) :

1699, July 21, was my (laeste) youngest son named Hendericus (born), and in presence of Anna Van der Spiegle and Tomas Sanderson baptised by Hendrickus Seleynis.

1699, March 16, my (Hueysman) husband died, and on the 3d of August my son Hendrieckus died.

In still another hand is written :

1715, January 10, on Sunday, was born my child's child Samuel.

1717, April 15, on Monday, between 5 and 6 o'clock, he rested in the Lord.

1728, June 10, did my beloved mother rest in the Lord and was buried 1728 ; her age was 58.

In another hand is written :

1727, June 10, did my mother, Sara Grevenradt, rest in the Lord on a Saturday night about midnight, and was buried on Monday. My dear mother was 58 years old when she rested in the Lord. (This appears to be a repetition of the death above as occurring a year later. The latter is correct, as the record of interments shows that Sara Grevenradt was buried on the 12th of June, 1727, but the age 58 years does not tally with the record of her birth by one year and nine months.)

In another hand (probably that of his son ISAAC's wife and inserted here out of place, as it should have come in later and after the death of ISAAC, her father) is written:

1761, April 8, my daughter, Else Greverat, rested in the Lord on Thursday morning about 8 o'clock, and on Saturday at 3 o'clock was buried.

On another page and written by ISAAC, son of HENDRICK GREVENRADT, is the following:

1715, June 27, Sara Grevenradt, my beloved mother, has had a raising cough for eleven years now increased. It breaks my heart when I hear this sad cough. I feel that my mother is passing from me. Isaac Grevenradt. (She nevertheless lived twelve years after this was written.)

1727, November 11, was I, Isaac Grevenradt and Alida Gerritse (spelt Gerse) married on Saturday evening. (Alida was the daughter of Elbert Gerritse and Maria Pruyn, born January 12, 1696.)

1728, June 10, was born my first daughter Sara on (Wednesday ?) night about 1 o'clock in the night; baptised in presence of Elbert Gerse and Mareitje Gerse, her grandfather and grandmother.

1729, August 30, was born my second daughter Maria on Saturday about 1 o'clock in the night. Sponsors Hendrick Gerse and Anna Gerse (her mother's brother and sister.)

NOTE.

On excavating the trenches in November, 1882, for the foundation of the addition to the public market (which was formerly the Middle Dutch Church) on Beaver street, Albany, several tombstones were unearthed and the remains were removed from the graves beneath. Among them was that over the grave of Margaret Oothout, daughter of John Oothout above, and wife of Col. Hendrick (Henry) Quackenbush (Quackenboss.) The stone was in excellent preservation and the following inscription, remarkably well cut, upon it in Holland Dutch:

Heir Leidt het Lignaam
Van Margareta Oothout
Echtgenoot Van
Hendrick Quackenboss
Gebooren Te. new york. Woensdag
Den 5. January. Anno. 1736–7.
In den Heere Gierust Saturdag,
Den 19. May, Anno 1770. Oudt: 33.
Jaaren, 4 maanden and 14 daagen.

Here lies the body of (60) Margareta Oothout, consort of Hendrick Quackenboss; born at New York, Wednesday, the 5th day of January, in the year 1736–7; rested in Heaven Saturday, May 19, 1770, aged 33 years, 4 months and 14 days.

A quantity of human bones, yellow and discolored by age, was also found near the head-stone, but all traces of the coffin had long since vanished. A small iron field piece, in a fair state of preservation, was also discovered in one of the trenches.

RECORD OF BURIALS.

Copy of a book kept by Barent Bradt of the burials in the Reformed Dutch Church graveyard and under the church in the city of Albany, from 1722 to 1757 inclusive. Previous to 1703 Hendrick Roseboom was clerk or sexton, and was succeeded in that year by Anthony Bradt, father of Barent. The first burial recorded under Barent Bradt's administration was that of Teunis (Anthony) Bradt, his father.

This copy was made from the original book owned by the Hon. Harmanus Bleecker, by the compiler of this work, and subsequently, at his suggestion, was published in Munsell's Annals of Albany.

The compiler has introduced, in parentheses, only such explanations as were found necessary to show the relation to the families in this work.

This is the end of the book kept by Barent Brat.

The above is as nearly as possible a literal translation of both the record of burials and list of winding-sheets from the Dutch record of Barent Bradt.

MISCELLANEOUS NOTES.

1638, JACOB TEUNISSE, of Amsterdam, was "Skipper" (Captain) of the yacht Dolphin.

1692, February 6, ELIZABETH TELLER, widow of ABRAHAM VAN TRICHT, kept a store-house. After the death of her first husband, ABRAHAM VAN TRICHT, who was Surgeon of the Fort at Albany, she married MELGERT W. VAN DER POEL. Her sister, HELENA ROMBOUTS, was also a widow. They were daughters of WILLIAM TELLER.

1693, November 8, the Mayor and Common Council of Albany granted letters of administration upon the effects of VOLKIE PIETERS to HESTER TIERCKS, widow and relict of HARMEN BASTIAENSE (VISSCHER.) (VOLKIE PIETERSE was the wife of PIETER MEESE, (i. e., BARTHOLOMEW) VROOMAN, to whom she was married March 1, 1675,)

DE VOS.

ANDRIES DE VOS was in Beverwyck as early as 1640. He owned land in the town north of "Vossen Kill" (Fox's Creek), which probably derived its name from him. The creek runs from the hill to the river, crosses North Pearl street between Monroe and Canal streets and Broadway between Van Tromp and Columbia streets. He had by his wife, whose name is unknown, three or four children. One of them, CATALYNTIE, had three husbands, 1st, ARENT ANDRIES BRADT, by whom she had ANDRIES; SAMUEL, married SUSANNA JACOBSE VAN SLYCKE; DIRCK, married MARIA VAN EPS in 1684; EFFE, married CLAAS VAN PETTEN; ARIAANTJE, married REYER JACOBSE SCHERMERHORN; CORNELIA, married JAN POTTLEMAN. She married, 2d, BARENT JANSE VAN DITMARS, who was killed by the Indians at Schenectady in 1690, by whom she probably had no children. She married, 3d, CLAAS JANS VAN BROCKHOVEN, of Schenectady, who made a will January 11, 1698, devising his property to the children of his wife by ARENT ANDRIES BRADT. He mentions "ARENT ANDRIES, son of ANDRIES BRADT, who was eldest son of my beloved wife CATELYNTIE ANDRIES DE VOSS," also "CATELYNTIE CLAAS, daughter of my well beloved wife's daughter EFFE VAN PETTEN, wife of CLAAS VAN PETTEN, who was lately married to TEUNIS, the son of DIRK TEUNISE (VAN VECHTEN)." He gave his estate, after the death of his wife, as follows; First, to the children of ANDRIES BRADT, deceased; second, to SAMUEL BRADT; third, DIRK BRADT; fourth, to EFFE, wife of CLAAS VAN PETTEN; fifth, to ARIAANTJE, wife of RYER SCHERMERHORN; sixth, to CORNELIA sometime wife of JAN POTTLEMAN, all six being the children of his wife by her first husband ARENT ANDRIES BRADT.

1702, The following persons resided in the north ward of the city of New York: Andries Douw, one male, one female, and two female children; William Visser, one male, one female, two male, four male children and one servant; Willem Roseboom, one male, one female, three female children; Gerrit Lansen(g), one male, one female, two male and three female children; John Lansing lived in the Dock ward, one male, one female, one male and one female children.

1739, August 13, LORENS CLAASEN, otherwise known as CLAASEN VAN DER VOLGE, of Schenectida, in his will mentions his first wife GEERTRUY VAN PETTEN (daughter of CLAAS FREDRICKSE VAN PETTEN?) and her children NEELTJE, wife of SANDERS VAN NES, EVA and MARITIE; also his second wife SUSANNA WALLEVEN(?) deceased, and her children CATHRINA ELIZABETH, ARIAANTJE and GERTRUY; also his own three sons CLAAS LORENSEN, CORNELIS and PETER, his brother TEUNIS VAN DER VOLGE, and his father CLAAS LORENSEN VAN DER VOLGE.

1789, November 16, GERRIT A. LANSING, of Schenectady, made a will in which he mentions his wife RUTH, nephew ABRAM A. LANSING, son of his brother ABRAHAM, nephew HENRY, son of his sister ELIZABETH, late wife of JONAS OOTHOUT, brother-in-law JOHN J. BEECKMAN, sisters-in-law EFFIE GANSEVOORT and DEBORA STAATS, niece MACHTEL, daughter of brother-in-law JOHN J. BEECKMAN; VOLKERT and ABRAHAM, sons of sister ELIZABETH OOTHOUT; ABRAHAM and JOHN LANSING, sons of sister ELSIE LANSING; also HENDRICK and GERRIT G. LANSING.

CROW.

(Introduced to show the intermarriages with this family.)

There appear to have been two John Crows, co-temporaries, one who settled in Charlestown, Mass., in 1635, and the other in Hartford, Conn., in 1639, both of whom married wives whose first names were ELIZABETH.

1 John, m. ELIZABETH ———.
2 Yelverton (supposed brother of [1] JOHN), m. ELIZABETH ———.
3 John, b. in 1606; m. (2) ELIZABETH GOODWIN.
4 Christopher (supposed brother of [2] JOHN), m. MARY BURR.

John Crow, of Charlestown, Mass., arrived there from England in 1635. Elizabeth, his wife, came from England the year previous. They had the following children:

5 John, m. MEHITABEL ———.
6 Thomas, m. AGNES ———.
7 Samuel (?).

Probably other children.

John Crow removed to Yarmouth, Mass., in 1638 and died there in 1672. He was a distinguished man and one of the three to whom the lands at Yarmouth were granted. A magistrate, etc., etc. According to tradition he came from Wales.

5.

John, son of (1) John Crow and Elizabeth ———, married Mehitabel ———, and had

8 John, b. in 1662; m. BETHIAH SEARS, May, 1684; d. October 15, 1728.
9 Samuel.
10 Mehitabel.

11 Lydia.
12 Jeremiah.
13 Elizabeth.
14 Hannah.

6.

Thomas, son of (1) John Crow and Elizabeth ———, married Agnes ———, and had 15 John.

16 Thomas.

7.

Samuel, son of (1) John Crow and Elizabeth ———, married ———, and had 17 Hannah, b. February 14, 1676.

8.

John, son of (5) John Crow and Mehitabel —— —, was born in 1662; married Bethiah Sears, May, 1684, and had 18 Joseph, b. in 1685.

19 Paul, b. in 1687.
20 Bethiah, b. in 1689.
21 Mehitabel, b. in 1691.
22 John, b. in 1693.
23 Deborah, b. in 1695.
24 Christopher, b. in 1698.
25 Elizabeth, b. in 1700.
26 Mary, b. in 1704.

Bethiah Sears, wife of JOHN CROW, died in 1724.
JOHN CROW died October 15, 1728.

Yelverton Crowe, supposed to have been a brother of (1) John Crow, married Elizabeth ———, and had 27 John, b. in 1642.

28 Edward.
29 Thomas, } b. May 9, 1649.
30 Elizabeth, }

And probably other children as he had many descendants in Yarmouth.

3.

John Crow, born in 1606, was one of the first settlers of Hartford, Conn., as early as 1639, from whence he removed to Hadley. He married (2) Elizabeth, the only daughter and heiress of (1) Elder William Goodwin, one of the first settlers of Hartford, Conn., and had 31 John, merchant in Fairfield, Conn.; d. at sea in 1667; no ch.

32 Esther, m. (B 1) GILES HAMLIN, in 1655.
33 Sarah, d. y.
34 Hannah, b. July 13, 1649; m. THOMAS DICKINSON, March 7, 1685.

42 Ruth, m., 1st., WILLIAM GAYLORD, December 21, 1671; 2d, JOHN HALEY.

John Crow was made a freeman in 1666. He returned from Hadley after remaining there some time and made his permanent home in Hartford, Conn. By the vote of the town of Hartford he became possessed of the original right of "Bartholomew Green." His own wealth was great, and this, together with the property brought by his wife, made him one of the largest landholders in Hartford.

4.

Christopher, supposed brother of (2) John Crow, married Mary Burr, of Hartford, Conn., and had 43 Mary, b. October, 1665; m., 1st, JOHN CLARK, of Simsbury, Conn. in 1685; 2d, WILLIAM RANDELL, of Enfield, about 1720.

Christopher Crow died and his widow married Josiah Clark, of Windsor, Conn., about 1681.

32.

Esther, daughter of (3) John Crow and (2) Elizabeth Goodwin, married (1) Giles Hamlin. (See Hamlin.)

In the third generation the name of CROW was changed to CROWELL by many of the descendants of JOHN CROW.

13 Richard, b. January 5, 1698; d. May 20, 1713.

14 Daniel, b. April 11, 1701; m. SARAH HOOKER, in 1728; d. September 6, 1765.

15 Samuel, b. November 1, 1702; m. JERUSHA PITKIN, in 1731; d. November 4, 1732.

Richard Edwards, Esq., died in Hartford April 20, 1718. MARY TALCOTT, widow of RICHARD EDWARDS, Esq., died April 19, 1723.

RICHARD EDWARDS was the grandfather of Rev. JONATHAN EDWARDS, the distinguished theologian and president of Princeton College, New Jersey, who was the son of the Rev. TIMOTHY EDWARDS and ESTHER STODDARD, born October 5, 1703, Y. C. 1720, and president of the college 1758.

EDWARDS, OF WETHERSFIELD, CONN.

1.

John Edwards, of Wethersfield in 1640, had probably lived in Watertown, Mass., and by a first wife, before he settled in Wethersfield, had 2 Thomas, b. in 1621; d. July 27, 1683, æ. 62 years.

3 Abraham, b. August 12, 1637. (According to Savage, but more probably a son by the second wife DOROTHY.)

———, wife of JOHN EDWARDS, died. He married, 2d, DOROTHY, widow of Abraham Finch, and had

4 John (Corporal), b. December 16, 1638; killed in battle December 19, 1675.
5 Esther, b. June, 1641.
6 Ruth, b. December, 1643.
7 Hannah, b. January, 1645.
8 Lydia (doubtful), b. July, 1646.
9 Joseph, b. May, 1648; m. SARAH ———, November 12, 1670; d. December 12, 1681.

John Edwards lived in Wethersfield, Conn., and died about 1664. His inventory was produced in court in Hartford March 2, 1664, showing lands given to his son Thomas, his supposed only son by his first wife. His son John, by his second wife, was killed in a fight with the Indians January 20, 1675, and before he died gave lands to his brother Joseph.

DOROTHY, widow of JOHN EDWARDS, married Thomas or Richard Towsley, in 1676, and died November 13, 1712.

Joseph, son of (1) John Edwards and Dorothy, widow of Abraham Finch, was born May, 1648; married Sarah ———, November 12, 1670, and had 10 Sarah, b. October 12, 1671; m. ——— WEBSTER.

11 Mary, b. May 25, 1674; m. ——— CONKLIN.
12 Hannah, b. November 21, 1676; m. JAMES BUTLER, May 6, 1703; d. January 10, 1742.
13 John, b. May 30, 1679; m. (25) LUCE DEMING, May 15, 1707; d. March 25, 1716.
14 Dorothy, b. September, 1681; m. JOSEPH CURTIS, December 7, 1708; d. April 18, 1760.

Joseph Edwards died in Wethersfield December 12, 1681. SARAH ———, widow of JOSEPH EDWARDS, died in Wethersfield.

The deposition in relation to the death of his brother John, made by Benjamin Adams and Samuel Williams, January 10, 1675–6, states that "Being in the late service against the enemy in the company of (4) Captain (Corporal according to Savage) JOHN EDWARDS, of Wethersfield, the said EDWARDS being mortally wounded, did order that his estate should remain to his mother during her lifetime, and after her death he willed that his brother (9) Joseph should inherit all the estate. Sworn to before me, Daniel Witherell, commissioner, April 12, 1676." Administration on his estate was granted to his mother, the widow TOWSLEY.

John, son of (9) Joseph Edwards and Sarah ———, was born May 30, 1679; married (25) Luce, daughter of (3) Jonathan Deming and (3) Elizabeth Gilbert (b. February 16, 1676), May 15, 1707, and had 15 Sarah, b. December 16, 1710; m. (49) DAVID GOODRICH, February 13, 1729; d. May 11, 1790.

16 Ann, b. January 2, 1713; d. July 3, 1713.
17 John, b. August 1, 1715; m. ——— CHURCH (?).

John Edwards died at Rocky Hill March 25, 1716. His monument is standing in the old Wethersfield burying-ground.

Sarah, daughter of (13) John Edwards and (25) Luce Deming, was born in Wethersfield, Conn., December 16, 1710; married (49) David Goodrich, of Glastonbury, February 13, 1729, and died in Glastonbury, Conn., May 11, 1790, æ. 80 years.

Their son (113) John married (74) Abigail Deming for his second wife. (See Goodrich 49 and 113).

EGGLESTON.

(Introduced to show the intermarriages with this family.)

1.

Bagot or Begat Eggleston [illegible]; came from England to Dorchester, Mass., in 1630, and was made a freeman in 1631. His first wife was said to have been Sarah or Mary Talcott, whom he married in England before he came to America. She might have been a sister of (11 Talcott Ped.) the worshipful John Talcott, of Hartford, Conn., who came from Braintree, England, in 1632. If so she was unmarried in 1623 and lived with her mother and step-father, Moses Wall, in Braintree, Old England, and is the only Sarah Talcott found on any of the English county visitations of so early a date, except (21 Talcott Ped.) Sarah, daughter of (3 Talcott Ped.) Robert Talcott, who married Richard Dorsley, of Hockley on the Hill, county Essex, England.

Bagot Eggleston removed from Dorchester to Windsor, Conn., and was one of the first settlers there in 1635. He had (born in England by his first wife)

2 James.
3 Samuel.

Elizabeth, wife of JOSIAH GILBERT, died October 17, 1682, æ. 50 years.

JOSIAH GILBERT, in 1684, was about 56 years of age.

Josiah, son of (1) Josiah Gilbert, made his will January 24, 1704, and died February 2, 1705. It mentions brothers Benjamin, Moses and Caleb and sisters Mary, wife of Simon Willard, and Elizabeth Deming.

GOODWIN.

(Introduced to show the intermarriages with this family.)

1.

William Goodwin (Elder), [illegible] of the "Braintree Company" which went first to Newtown (now Cambridge), Mass., and thence to Hartford, Conn. He was admitted freeman in 1632, and removed to Hartford from Newtown in 1636 with the Rev. Mr. Hooker's Company. He moved to Hadley and subsequently to Farmington. He was one of the most wealthy men in the Colony. He married Susanna ———, and had an only child

2 Elizabeth, m. (3) JOHN CROW, of Hadley.

Elder William Goodwin died in Farmington March 11, 1673, æ. about 75 years. He left his estate by will to his only child Elizabeth, wife of John Crow.

GOODRICH.

(1) John, Sr., and (2) Ensign William Goodrich, his brother, came from Bury St. Edmond's, England, probably first to Watertown, Mass., and thence to Wethersfield, Conn., where JOHN held lands in 1644, and WILLIAM held lands in 1666. There appears to have been another WILLIAM GOODRICH who lived in Watertown and died in 1647, and whose widow MARGARET, died the wife of John Hale February 3, 1683. There is a tradition in the family that JOHN and WILLIAM were orphans and came to this country from South Wales about 1644 with their mother's brother, William Stillman, and first settled in the New Haven Colony.

1.

John Goodrich, Sr., one of the first settlers of Wethersfield, Conn., was twice married, 1st, to Elizabeth, daughter of Thomas Edwards, in 1645, and had

HAMLIN.

The Hamlin's are of French origin; they came to England about 1080. Tradition says that two brothers came to New England and settled at Barnstable Mass. JAMES, probably the eldest, brought his wife and at least one child with him, and remained permanently at Barnstable. GILES, a sea captain, soon went to Middletown, Conn., and made that place his home. JAMES, with his family, came to America in 1640. GILES, his brother, a single man, probably came later, though this is not known. To the Barnstable family is traced the lineage of Vice-President HANNIBAL HAMLIN.

The name of HAMLIN has been variously written, often HAMBLEN, and as often HAMLIN and HAMLEN.

John Hamlin served in the war of the Revolution, and died in Plainfield April 15, 1852.

JOHN HAMLIN, in the year 1776, at the age of thirteen, removed with his parents to Cummington three years before it took the municipal rank of a town. It was among the most distinct of his recollections that while at Northampton, on his way to Cummington, the news of our country's Declaration of Independence reached that town, surprising yet rejoicing the inhabitants. At the age of sixteen he entered the service of his country for the maintenance of this declaration, in which service he continued about six months. For this he was subsequently moderately pensioned by the government, and was, at the time of his death, the last of the Revolutionary pensioners in Plainfield. At the age of twenty-eight he married and removed to Plainfield, then a district belonging to Cummington, thus becoming one of its earliest inhabitants, though it was not incorporated as a town till about seventeen years later. As a citizen Mr. HAMLIN was respected and honored, having received many offices of trust by the suffrages of his fellow citizens. For nineteen years he was one of the Selectmen of the town, and was five years, including ten sessions, a member of the General Court, as a representative of his town. He was also early appointed a Justice of the Peace, but steadily declining the legal qualifications, he never exercised the functions of that office.

Joanna or Joan Treat, widow of John Hollister, died October, 1694.

John Hollister, Sr., made a will April 3, 1665, leaving his farm at "Noag" (Glastonbury) to his eldest son John "when he shall be 22 years old, paying to his mother twenty barrels of apples and two barrels of cider yearly." All the children that were mentioned in his will were John, Thomas, Joseph, Mary and Sarah, and his grandchildren. His inventory was dated April 20, 1665.

He is said to have been born in Glastonbury, England, but Mr. ALPHEUS HOLLISTER, of Hollisterville, Pa., says: "The HOLLISTERS were from Bristol, England, a good old family as early as Henry VIII. There was a JOHN HOLLISTER, Lord of the Manor of Stinchcombe in 1608. DENNIS HOLLISTER was a member of Cromwell's Privy Council after the Protectorate was established. The name is derived from two words, "Holly" and "Ter" or "Terre," which means Holly land or the place of Holly trees. There is still a hamlet in England bearing the name of "Hollester" or "Hollesterre." From this it would appear that the name is truly English and of Somerset county, England."

57 Pamela, b. March 27, 1778; m. DAVID E. HUBBARD.

Deacon Elisha Hollister died at East Glastonbury November 12, 1800.

He was a farmer and inn-keeper and a man of prominence in Glastonbury. He served faithfully as an officer in the Revolutionary war and also as a member of important committees.

PENELOPE GRAVES, widow of Deacon ELISHA HOLLISTER, died in 1801. She was spoken of as having been a wonderful woman. It is related as a common saying among the people of Glastonbury, that "she was better calculated to govern the town of Glastonbury in its legislature than any ten men representing it," and it is said that the town was governed by men of ability and integrity.

NOTE.—PENELOPE GRAVES HOLLISTER had by her first husband Elihu, son of Capt. Nathaniel Dwight and Hannah Lyman (b. March 31, 1737), 1, Margaret (Peggy) b. 1758, m. Thomas Asa Gates; 2, Hannah ——. Elihu Dwight died March 22, 1760.

69 A son, died probably in infancy.

Note—There is a tombstone which records the death of Mehitable Hollister June 2, 1787, supposed by some to be this Mehitable. This is evidently a mistake, as one of the descendants of Deacon Elisha Hollister remembers personally her Aunt Mehitable Hollister who married the Rev. ——— Chapin, a Presbyterian minister, and lived in Addison, Vt., and who died at an advanced age. This "Aunt Chapin" used to visit her relatives in Greenfield and Gill, Mass.

ELIZA ANNA IVES, wife of CHARLES CALHOUN KELLOGG, died in Chicago, October 15, 1870.

CHARLES CALHOUN KELLOGG died in Chicago, January 10, 1871.

115 Mary Bishop, b. in Akron, O., April 8, 1846; m. WILLIAM FREDERICK KIDDER, February 23, 1869.

Fidelia Elvira Field, wife of LEVERETT JOSEPH IVES, is thus spoken of in the "History of Summit Co., Ohio:" "Prominent in the early history of Akron, was the wife of LEVERETT JOSEPH IVES — FIDELIA ELVIRA IVES. She traces her lineage through a number of original settlers of New England, among whom may be mentioned Samuel Wright, of Springfield, Mass., Elder John Strong, of Northampton, Mass., (1) Lieut. John Hollister and (1) Richard Treat, both of Wethersfield, Conn., and Zachariah Field, of Northampton, Mass., grandson of John Field, of England, the astronomer, who in 1556 wrote the first astronomical work in England, ever published, based on the tables of the Copernican system. In consequence of which he has become known to history as the 'Proto-Copernican, of England.' Like her ancestors, Fidelia E. Ives, possesses energy, activity, and strength of character. Through all the years of her residence in Akron her gentleness of spirit, and large benevolence secured her many friends."

LEVERETT JOSEPH IVES removed about 1833 from Western New York to Hamilton, C. W. In the spring of 1837, owing to the Canada Rebellion, being unwilling to swear allegiance to the British Crown, he removed to Cleveland, O., and in the following autumn went to Akron, thirty miles distant, where he settled as a druggist, remaining there for twenty-three years. In 1860 he removed to Chicago. After remaining in the west a number of years, he returned east, and died September 20, 1876, at his residence in East Orange, N. J., æ. 70 years. The "History of Summit County" says of him: "He was honest and upright in his dealings with men. A good citizen, a kindly friend and neighbor, his manners were pleasing and full of hospitality." In politics he was a firm Republican, sympathizing largely with the cause of freedom to the slaves. When "Old John Brown the Martyr" went to Kansas, he presented him with the rifle he carried with him.

Leverett Joseph Ives is a descendant of William Ives, one of the original free planters of New Haven, and according to Savage came over in the ship "Truelove" from London, in 1635, to Boston, at the age of 28. In 1639 he is recorded as one of the original signers of the "Fundamental agreement of Quinnipiack." He died at New Haven in 1648, and soon after his widow married William Bassett. Joseph Ives, son of William, married Mary Gale and had a son, Ensign and Deacon Samuel, who married Ruth Atwater; they had a son Capt. Jonathan, who married Thankful Cooper; they had a son Jeremiah, who married Hannah Bassett (the great granddaughter of William Bassett, the second husband of the widow of William Ives); they had a son Joseph, who married Sarah Bishop; they had a son Leverett Joseph, who married Fidelia Elvira Field.

Helen Powers, daughter of [illegible] Fidelia Elvira Field and Leverett Joseph Ives, was born in Hamilton, Ontario, June 27, 1836; married at Chicago, Ill., in Trinity P. E. church, by Rev. James Platt, to Edwin Louis, son of Louis Bomeisler, of Munich, Bavaria, and Elizabeth McKaraher, of Philadelphia (b. November 16, 1827), January 2, 1861, and had 128 Louis Edwin, b. in Philadelphia July 22, 1862.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin L. Bomeisler reside in Elizabeth, N. J.

NOTE — Louis, father of EDWIN L. BOMEISLER, was of Jewish birth, the son of Nathan Loebl Bomeisler, of Munich, Bavaria, and ——— Heller, his wife. He was a highly educated and accomplished gentleman. In 1815 he was a resident of Paris, where he was decorated by King Louis XVIII with the "Order of the Lily."

Col. Daniel McKaraher, the father of Elizabeth McKaraher, was a Scotch Irish Presbyterian and a patriot from the North of Island. He fled to Philadelphia in consequence of his patriotic sentiments. He was the friend and co-laborer of Robert Emmett.

Mary Hastings, daughter of [illegible] Fidelia Elvira Field and Leverett Joseph Ives, was born in Akron, O., April 8, 1846; married at Newark, O., in St. John's P. E. church, by the Rev. William Bower, to William Frederick, son of William Kidder, Jr., and Rebecca Ann Ackerman (b. July 29, 1842), February 23, 1869, and had 131 Rebecca Ives (Reba), b. at Watsessing, East Orange, N. J., September 21, 1875.

Mr. and Mrs. William F. Kidder reside at Orange, N. J.

NOTE — William, Jr., the father of WILLIAM FREDERICK KIDDER, was the son of William Kidder, of Boston (a well-known chemist) and Charlotte A., daughter of Samuel Adams, of Boston, and Thankful Chamberlain. Samuel Adams was familiarly known as "Merchant Adams" to distinguish him from his cousin Samuel Adams, the patriot and signer of the Declaration of Independence. Both marched side by side at the battle of Bunker Hill.

Rebecca Ann Ackerman was a daughter of Catharine J., daughter of Col. John Gilbert Bogart (a lineal descendant of [11] Tennis Guysbert Bogart through [52] Guysbert Bogart and Jannetje Van Arsdale) who died while on the way to join his regiment in Boston Harbor, during the war of 1812.

Capt. ELIZUR HOLYOKE died in Springfield, Mass., February 6, 1676. In the old graveyard at Springfield, some time since removed to make way for the Boston & Albany Railroad, a tall white monument stood bearing the following inscription:

"Here lyeth the body of Mari, the wife of Elizur Holyoke who died October, 26, 1657.

She that lies here was while she stood
A very glory of womanhood ;
Even here was sown most precious dust
Which surely shall rise with the just."

Deacon Edward Stebbins of Hartford, Conn., made his will August 1668, in which he mentions his wife Frances, son-in-law John Chester, grandson Edward Cadwell, son-in-law John Wilson "dear sister HOLYOKE (second wife of [4] ELIZUR HOLYOKE, of Springfield, Mass.), son-in-law Gayler and brother-in-law ELIZUR HOLYOKE.

Frances, widow of Deacon Edward Stebbins, made her will November 12, 1673, in which she mentions son-in-law John Chester, now living in or near London, Old England, and his two sons John and Samson, also son-in-law Thomas Cadwell and his wife.

LANMAN.

The compiler is indebted for the entire notes relating to this family to Mrs. M. P. Ferris, of Brooklyn, N. Y.

ARMS.

"He beareth az. and or, 3 garbs, a sickle, by the name of Lanman."

[The JAMES LANMAN branch carry the shield as above, with the Chandler crest, i. e., a "Pelican in her piety." The PETER LANMAN branch carry the shield az. 3 garbs or, with the Trumbull crest, i. e., a Bull's head, with the motto "Fortuna favet audace."]

Arthur's "Family Names" defines LANMAN as "a spearman, a lanceman."

Prof. Charles Dod gives the derivation "the son of Lanval."

Hon. Charles Lanman resides at Georgetown, D. C.

The following interesting account of Mr. LANMAN is taken from "Good Literature:"

An interesting account of the life and works of Hon. CHARLES LANMAN, of Washington, is printed in a recent number of the Turf, Field, and Farm. "Many years ago," it says, "Washington Irving christened his friend and brother of the quill, Mr. CHARLES LANMAN, as 'the picturesque explorer of America,' a sobriquet highly gratifying to the author and artist, whose works, both of pen and pencil, are familiar to American sportsmen. Mr. CHARLES LANMAN was born in Monroe, Mich., June 14, 1819, and received his education in Connecticut, after which he spent nearly ten years in New York city as a merchant's clerk, He was subsequently connected with several of the leading newspapers in various cities of the Union — notably the Chronicle, of Cincinnati; Express of New York; National Intelligencer, of Washington, and such foreign journals as the News and Athenæum, of London. This association with literary men and the most prominent journals of the day finally led to the vocation of authorship, in which he was equally successful.

Here he had ample opportunity to embellish with the skill of the artist those wild scenes of forest, lake and stream so charmingly described by his pen. This happy combination of talen- obtained for him the well merited appellation given by Irving. A natural love for field sports, and more particularly the 'contemplative art' of angling, lured Mr. LANMAN from the dingy city to the quiet of the woods and waters, where his fancy found play, and his rod might be used to advantage. He was the first American to cast the artificial fly in the Saguenay region, and to describe the charms of that since famous locality for the angler. Two large volumes — 'The Wild Sports of America; — descriptive of scenery and sport in the wilderness, among the trout-streams, lakes, etc., from Canada to the Gulf of Mexico, attest his varied experience. Salmon-fishing has been his favorite sport, and in former years it was his custom to visit Canada each season. For a period of thirty years he fished regularly on the Potomac, often with such companions as Daniel Webster, Mr. Crampton, Governor Bibb and General Gibson. * * * He has fished in nearly every State in the Union, and all the best streams in Canada, never failing to use his sketching materials, and his illustrations of American scenery may be counted by the hundred. Mr. LANMAN's public career is a matter of history. He has held the several positions of Librarian of the War Department, of Copyrights in the State Department as also of the Interior Department and the House of Representatives. In ante bellum days he was the private secretary of Daniel Webster, and at the head of the Returns office in the Interior Department. For ten years past he has been the American secretary of the Japanese Legation, a very responsible position, requiring experience and critical judgment. His books of travel and adventure have been the most popular, but the 'Dictionary of Congress' and 'Annals of the Civil Government of the United States,' proved the most profitable, as he received $15,000 from the Government for the first-named alone, and subsequently sold the valuable collection of autograph letters from statesmen and orators relating to the works for $5,000. His 'Life of Daniel Webster' was also a success, both in a literary and financial point of view. The home of the artist, author and angler, at Georgetown, D. C., is unique in style — a picturesque house, flanked by a flower garden and lawn of real artistic beauty. His home is a veritable museum of curiosities, in art, literature, field-sports, and bric-a-brac. On the walls are many pictures in oil and water-colors, several of them the work of his brush. In portfolios, carefully packed away, are numerous original sketches, in oil, by Mr. LANMAN, of American scenery and sport, ranging from the provinces to Florida. The well-stored library of some 3000 volumes contains a large number of valuable autograph copies from brother authors, and a little nook, which he fondly terms his curiosity-shop, is literally filled with artificial flies, rods, reels and relics of former angling days. In the way of oriental books, pictures, etc., he has a remarkable store, including a three-volume edition of Japanese poetry, published nearly nine hundred years ago, which would be a most invaluable work to the bibliomaniac. The surroundings of Mr. CHARLES LANMAN are suggestive of the literary and artistic taste which is characteristic of the man, and his love of angling is by no means impaired by years, though he has given up the more laborious sports of the field. His round of busy life, though exacting, leaves him leisure for enjoying such luxury as may be found in books, the society of friends and 'ye rare old sporte of ye angle.'" Mr. LANMAN's new work, lately issued, entitled 'The Leading Men of Japan,' is published by D. Lothrop & Co., of Boston. Mr. LANMAN's late work, entitled 'Curious Characters and Pleasant Places,' published by Douglas of Edinburgh, has been well received in England. The Athenæum says that it is "written in an unaffected style and with a good taste which his more cultured countrymen must admire, and which others have full reason to envy;" and also that the papers "leave upon their readers a pleasant feeling for their author." The Saturday Review pays Mr. LANMAN the compliment of saying he "has written a pleasant and instructive volume, in a quiet and faithful style, never trying to be funny, epigrammatic, brilliant or fine, but conscientiously noting down all that he has seen and knows." The Academy, after comparing him with Washington Irving, on the score of his possessing a "pleasant old world style" of writing, speaks of this new volume as a "bundle of delightful reminiscences, touched with that light and graceful hand which is common to all his type." Mr. LANMAN, in his capacity of artist, will have a number of pictures in the spring exhibition of the National Academy of Design, of which he is an associate member.

MARVIN.

The first family of the name of Marvin who came to New England consisted of two brothers REINOLD (REYNOLD) and MATTHEW, and one sister ELIZABETH. It is not known when REYNOLD came over. MATTHEW and his family with his sister ELIZABETH came in 1635. They were recorded in the office of the "Rolls Court," London, to be transported to New England, April 15, 1635. Their respective ages were: "husbandman," MATTHEW MARVYN, 35 years; "uxor," ELIZABETH MARVYN, 31 years; ELIZABETH MARVYN, 31 years; MATTHEW MARVYN, 8 years; MARIE MARVYN, 6 years; SARAH MARVYN, 3 years; HANNA MARVYN, 6 months. They came from Essex Co., England.

ELIZABETH, the sister of MATTHEW MARVIN, born in 1604, married John Olmstead of Hartford, Conn., and died in Norwich, Conn.; no ch.

These brothers were among the original settlers of Hartford, and both were proprietors of land in that town. REYNOLD removed to Saybrook before 1639, and died there in 1662 or 1663.

Judge Henry M. Wait, of Connecticut, was a descendant of SAMUEL MARVIN.

The above notes of the family and descendants of REYNOLD (spelled Reinold) MARVIN are taken from "Hinman's Puritan Settlers of Connecticut," which were furnished to him by T. R. MARVIN, Esq., of Boston, in 1848. The descendants of (28) THOMAS MARVIN are taken from a pamphlet compiled by (47) Col. THOMAS MARVIN, of Walton, N. Y., who died March 25, 1881, aged nearly 90 years, and are as follows:

28.

Thomas, son of (7) Samuel Marvin and Susannah Graham, was born at Lyme March 4th, 1703; married Mehitabel, daughter of ——— Goodrich, and had 36 Lois.

37 Samuel, married and had 2 children. He was a sea captain in the West India trade. His vessel and crew were lost at sea.
38 Susannah, m. HEZEKIAH FRISBEE, and resided in Duanesburg, N. Y. They had a large family of children.
39 Joseph, who died at Oswegatchie, on the St. Lawrence, in the time of the French war.
40 Mehitabel, m. BENJAMIN MARVIN, one of the descendants of Matthew, brother of (1) Reynold. He was a captain in the French war and afterward resided on the south side of Long Island when the war of the Revolution broke out. He was in command of a company of militia at the east end of the island. When the British took the island and Gen. Washington evacuated it, he sent his company across the sound to Connecticut and rejoined his family, taking them, with what goods he could carry in one wagon, and threading his way in the night, escaped through the British lines and arrived safely at New Canaan, Conn., where he resided until the close of the war. He lost all his property on Long Island, consisting of grist and saw mills and some 600 acres of pine lands. He had 9 children.

Matthew Marvin when he was nine years old (at the death of his father) went to live with his sister MEHITABEL, who married BENJAMIN MARVIN, before referred to, and lived with them until he was twenty-one years of age. When the War of the Revolution broke out he joined the company under his brother-in-law, was with them on Long Island, and with them crossed to Connecticut, where he joined a company of Militia, and went to West Point. There he enlisted in the regular army, in the Connecticut line, for and during the war, and served to its close in 1783. He was in the several battles with the British, of Brandywine, Valley Forge, Red Bank, Mud Fort, Trenton, Princeton, Monmouth and at the storming of the redoubt near Yorktown, Va. He was with Washington all over Virginia, while he was avoiding a general battle until he was ready to attack Lord Cornwallis at Norfolk. He was one of the sixty-eight rank and file who were picked from La Fayette's regiment of light infantry to storm the redoubt near Yorktown, Va. He married after his return from the war.

Frances Gutter, wife of MARK MOTT, was buried in Braintree, February 23, 1615.

MARK MOTT was buried in Braintree, December 14, 1637. He was a munificent benefactor of his parish. He purchased the Manor of Sheme Hall in Shalford, in 1599, and was the ultimate heir of his father Thomas. In 1537 he gave a house and a small field, at that time, of the yearly value of forty shillings, the income to be disposed of in shirts and smocks of cloth at twelve pence a yard to be given to the poor of Braintree.

John, son of (4) Mark Mott and Frances Gutter, resided first in Eyland and then in Wiston, Suffolk Co.; married Alice, daughter of Thomas Harington, of Essex Co., and had 15 Thomas, m. SARAH BRAND.

16 Mark, m. and had one son JOHN, who had ALICE and MARY.

29 Dorothy, bp. January 28, 1620.
30 Anne.
31 Mark.
32 Mary.
33 Sarah, d. y.

Mercy Tichborne, wife of Dr. MARK MOTT, was buried in Rayne, February 29, 1627.

Dr. MARK MOTT was buried in Rayne, January 3, 1630. He was Rector of Rayne where, and at Braintree, Bocking, Rockford and Great Birch in Essex, and also in Herts, he had landed estates. The estate at Great Birch, valuable and of great antiquity, he left by will to his three daughters, Dorothy, Anne and Mary, who were possessed of it in 1635. In 1669 it belonged to Thomas Kempe, clerk.

Edward, son of (4) Mark Mott and Frances Gutter, was baptised June 24, 1590; married ———, and had 34 Mary, m. ——— DIGBY.

15.

Thomas, of Stoke, Suffolk Co., gentleman in 1664, son of (6) John Mott and Alice Harington, maried Sarah, daughter of John Brand, of Edgwardstone, Suffolk Co., and had 35 Sarah.

20.

Dorothy, daughter of (6) John Mott and Alice Harington, married (11 Talcott Ped.) John Talcott, of Braintree, and had 36 Mary, b. in Braintree; m. (2) Rev. John Russell, in America, June 28, 1649.

37 John, b. in Braintree; m. 1st, Helena Wakeman, October 29, 1650; 2d, Mary Cook, November 9, 1676, both in America.

43 Martha.

25.

Mark (Rev.), of Chelmsford, son of (7) Adrian Mott and Catharine Kempe, his second wife, was baptised October 23, 1604; married Anne, daughter of Robert Dove, and had 44 Mercy, m. Richard Smith.

45 Frances, m. John Clopton, and had Anne.

46 Dorothy, m. Thomas Abby.

47 Mary, m. Rev. Thomas Kempe.

Anne Dove, wife of Rev. MARK MOTT, died. By a second wife (whom the Rev. Mr. Sherman says, was ELIZABETH DYKE, married September 13, 1610, but which could scarcely be, as the official pedigree, which I have from the Herald college at London, makes ELIZABETH DYKE the wife of his brother ADRIAN) he had 48 Mark, of Wethersfield; m. BARBARA ADY; d. 1694.

49 Nathaniel, of Little Waltham; m. ———
50 Elizabeth, bp. February 29, 1631.
51 Susanna, m. ——— MASCALL, February 20, 1660.

The Rev. Mark Mott was buried at Rayne, May 2, 1667. The living at Chelmsford had been sequestered from John Michaelson for political delinquencies, and MOTT was his immediate successor, as appears from the order in the House of Commons, February 9, 1643. MOTT had previously been Michaelson's curate. His signature appears to the petition in favor of Thomas Hooker. He also signed the Essex Testimony in 1648. In 1650 the return for Chelmsford is:

"MARK MOTT (presented by) the parliament on the sequestration of J. Michaelson, an able preaching minister." Michaelson recovered his living at the restoration, MOTT was therefore ejected under the act (of uniformity) 1660. "David's Non-Conformity in Essex."

12.

Mark, of Wiston, son and heir of (24) Adrian Mott and Mercy Fish, was 4 years old in 1664; married Susanna Marke, and had 52 Mark, b. in Ireland.

53 John, of London; m. ELIZABETH ———
54 Thomas.
55 Susanna.

50.

Mark, of Wethersfield, son of (25) Rev. Mark Mott, of Chelmsford, and his second wife, married Barbara, daughter of Thomas Ady, M. D., of Wethersfield, and had 56 Mark.

57 Ady, of Wethersfield.
58 Nathaniel.
59 Thomas.

60 Mercy.
61 Dorothy.
62 Anne.
63 Barbara, m. WILLIAM WARD, LL. D

Mark Mott of Wethersfield, died in 1694.

51.

Nathaniel, of Little Waltham, son of (25) Rev. Mark Mott, of Chelmsford, and his second wife, married —— and had 64 Thomas, Fellow of Eman, Cambridge college.

65 Mary.

55.

John, of London, son of (42) Mark Mott, of Wiston, and Susanna Marke, married Elizabeth ———, and had 66 Milford.

67 John.
68 Elizabeth.

In 1648 the Essex Chambers were organized in classes with ministers appointed by Parliament and lay elders. William Skinner was one of the elders of Bocking; ADRIAN MOTT was one of the elders of Braintree; Robert Talcott, gentleman, St. Leonard's, Colchester.

SAMUEL MOTT, gentleman, was twice Mayor of Colchester in Essex; died January 8, 1698, æ. 66 years.

TEMPERANCE, widow of SAMUEL MOTT, died March 19, 1698–9. Has a monument in St. Runwald's with arms a crescent.

RATHBONE.

No attempt has as yet been made to trace out and confirm by documentary evidence, the early history of the RATHBONE family in America. Various accounts were formerly current concerning their origin, one asserting that the family was descended from THOMAS RATHBONE who came from England in 1621; another deriving them from JOHN RATHBONE of the Liverpool family who emigrated from that city in 1625; and a third from an elder brother of Col. JOHN RATHBONE, an officer of the Parliamentary army of 1658, who was noted for his devotion to Republican principles.

The first of the name, however, who appears in America, is the Rev. WILLIAM RATHBONE to whom allusion is made in a work published in 1637, and reprinted in the Historial Collections of Massachusetts. He seems to have been an author, and as his doctrinal views did not accord with those prevailing in the Massachusetts Colony, the supposition is that he and his descendants were not admitted into the New England church as members, and consequently were not permitted to take part in general public affairs.

Mr. James Savage, in his Genealogical Dictionary, speaks of one of a somewhat similar name George (Rabone) Rabun (which Belknap, in his History of New Hampshire, says may be a mistake for RATHBONE), who was in Exeter in 1639. This George Rabone was one of those who in the previous year had sympathized with the Rev. Mr. Wheelwright,* the brother of the famous Mrs. Anne Hutchinson, and was with him banished from Boston for defending his religious opinions. Being deprived of all his privileges as a citizen he combined with his fellow exiles, some thirty-five in number, in setting up an independent government at Squamscot Falls, N. H., which they called Exeter.

* Wheelwright was a man of learning, piety and position, "but how and when he came to America is unknown." See Drakes History of Boston, p. 60.

In the Rhode Island Colonial Records mention is made of a John Rawsbone, of New Shoreham, who was admitted to full political rights as freeman, May 4, 1664, being the same person whom the Block Island Records name JOHN RATHBONE. This JOHN RATHBONE was one of those who met at the house of Dr. Alcock August 17, 1660, to confer about the purchase of Block Island, and was one of the original sixteen purchasers of that island from Gov. Endicott and three others to whom it had been granted for public services. In 1676 JOHN RATHBONE was chosen one of the surveyors of highways. In 1682, 1683 and 1684, he occupied a place in the Rhode Island General Assembly as representative from Block Island. In 1686 he was one of the petitioners to the King of Great Britain in reference to the "Quo Warranto," and in 1688 was one of the grand jury of Rhode Island.

In Niles' Historical Narrative of the French and Indian wars, published in 1760, we find the following: "In the year 1689 in the month of July, Mr. RATHBONE had a narrow escape from the French, who had come in three vessels and were then pillaging the island. They inquired of some one or more of the people "who were the likeliest among them to have money." They told them of JOHN RATHBONE as the most likely. The French proceeded to capture him, as they supposed, and demanded of him his money. The captive denied having any but a trifling sum. They endeavored to make him confess that he had more and to deliver it to them, by tying him up and whipping him barbarously. While they were doing all this to an innocent man whom they mistook for the monied JOHN RATHBONE, the latter made his escape with his treasure. They had mistaken the son for the father, who by submitting to this cruelty in the room of his father saved him from being robbed."

Arnold in his history of the State of Rhode Island, Vol. 1, p. 304, says: "The local history of Block Island truthfully written would present an interesting study. The traditionary history of the aborigines is full of the romance of war. Their authentic history in connection with the whites abounds in stirring incidents, the peculiarities of the English settlers, and their posterity, their customs, laws and domestic institutions are among the most singular and interesting developments of civilized life, while the martial defense of a people, within and around whose Island there has been more hard fighting than on any territory of equal extent in America, and where the horrors of savage and of civilized warfare have alternately prevailed, almost without cessation from the earliest traditionary period down to a recent date, would altogether furnish material for a thrilling history that might rival the pages of a romance. The dangers of the sea and the sterner perils of war united to produce a race of men whose courage and hardihood cannot be surpassed. It was out of such material that naval heroes were made."

John Rathbone, Sr., died at Block Island, R. I., between February 12, and October 6, 1702. His widow survived him. He left the following will :

WILL OF JOHN RATHBONE, SENIOR.

In the name of God, Amen. I, JOHN RATHBONE, Senior, of Block Island, also New Shoram, in the Colony of Rhode Island, and Providence plantation in New England, Yeoman, being sick in body but of perfect memory, thanks be to Almighty God, and calling to remembrance the uncertain estate of this transitory life and that all flesh must yield unto death when it shall please God to call, do make, constitute, ordain and declare this my last will and testament in manner and form following, revoking and annulling by these presents all and every testament and testaments, will or wills heretofore by me made and declared, either by word or by writing, and this is to be taken only, for my last will and testament and none other. And first, being penatent and sorry from the bottom of my heart for my sins past, most humbly desiring forgiveness for the same, I give and commit my soul unto Almighty God, my Saviour and Redeemer in hand, and by the merits of Jesus Christ, I trust and believe assuradly to be saved and to have full remission and forgiveness of all my sins, and that my soul with my body at the general day of resurrection shall arise again with joy and through the merits of Christ's death and passion, possess and inhabit the Kingdom of Heaven prepared for his elect and chosen, and my body to be buried in such place where it shall please my executors.

First — I give and bequeath to my son SAMUEL RATHBONE the table and cubbard which stand now in his house as for are lomes (heirlooms?) to the house, and I leave my wife MARGARET RATHBONE my executrix of all my movable and household goods, houses and chattles, cattle, sheep, and horse kind; and I leave (her?) the income of my house at Newport for her lifetime, and at her decease the westward (end?) of my house at Newport, and the leanto of that end so far as the post that the door hangs on, and the shop to be left for my son JOHN RATHBONE's son John, and his heirs forever; and the eastward end of said house and the rest of the leanty (leanto?) to be left for my son WILLIAM RATHBONE's son John and his heirs forever, and the yard to be equally for their use.

And I leave to my wife for her life-time the twenty acres of land which I bought of Henry Hall, and the running of two cows and a horse and the end of the house which I now live in; and I leave that my four sons shall pay to my wife during her life-time forty shillings a piece a year, that is to say, JOHN RATHBONE, WILLIAM RATHBONE, and JOSEPH RATHBONE and SAMUEL RATHBONE. And I leave to my wife during her life-time my neager (negro) man, and at her disposing, and at her decease to my son THOMAS RATHBONE for three years, and at the end of the three years, to give him as good clothes as his mistress leaves him, and then to set him free. And at my wife's decease what household goods are left to be equally divided between my three daughters Sarah and Margaret and Elizabeth, and for what cattle and sheep and horse kind are left to be equally divided between my five sons. And I leave that my wife shall take up all bonds and debts due to me.

And I leave that my executrix shall see this, my last will, performed.

In witness whereof, I have hereinto set my hand and affixed my seal in Block Island aforesaid, the twelth day of February, in the year of our Lord, one thousand seven hundred and two (1702.)

JOHN RATHBONE.

Signed, sealed and delivered to be the last will and testament of JOHN RATHBONE, Senior, in presence of,

WILLIAM HANCOCK,
JONAS WELCH,
ROGER DICKENS.

BLOCK ISLAND, October 6, 1702.

William Hancock, Jr., and James Welch and Roger Dickens personally appeared before me, and did testify upon solemn oath that they were testamony to the signing and sealing of this will and testament before me.

SIMON RAY,
Warden.

Those persons above specified, William Hancock, James Welch, Roger Dickens personally appeared and acknowledged before the public town meeting that they had taken upon solemn oath before me Simon Raye, Head Warden, to the truth of the above written and subscription. Entered by order of the Wardens and Town Council by me,

NATHANIEL MOTT,

January 12, 1702–3. Town Clerk.

JOHN RATHBONE, SR., many years before his death, settled his sons on farms on Block Island, where they lived with their children. Their grandchildren, however, scattered, leaving, it is supposed, the descendants of Samuel alone, of the name, on the island. His grandson (32) Jonathan, son of his son (4) John, removed to Colchester, Conn. He is the ancestor of the RATHBONES of Albany, N. Y., and of Otsego county, N. Y. (34) Joshua, another son of (4) John, settled at Stonington, Conn., and is the ancestor of the RATHBONES in New York city. John, Benjamin, Nathaniel and Thomas, also sons of (4) John, settled in Exeter, R. I. (77) Elijah, son of (53) Samuel, settled in Groton, Conn., and had numerous descendants.

2.

William, son of (1) John Rathbone and Margaret ———, married Sarah ———, December 18, 1680, and had 10 William, b. November 12, 1681; m. SARAH MOTT, January 30, 1705–6.

11 Cora (?), b. December 8, 1682.
12 John, b. July 9, 1684; (by will of his grandfather he had half of the house at Newport, R. I.)
13 Thomas, b. July 21, 1686.
14 Jonathan, b. November 25, 1688.
15 Elizabeth, b. May 30, 1691.
16 Ann, b. July 9, 1693; m. WILLIAM DODGE, JR., June 20, 1728.
17 Dorcas, b. July 14, 1695; m. THOMAS WEAST, September 20, 1716.
18 Ebenezer, b. January 28, 1696–7.
19 Mary, b. July 5, 1699.
20 Eleanor, b. August 1, 1701.

William Rathbone was appointed by the Colony of Rhode Island as Constable for Block Island in 1688. He was admitted freeman of the Colony by vote of the General Assembly May 5, 1696. To be capable of this franchise it was then necessary that a person should be of age, a "housekeeper," and recommended to the Assembly as a man of reliable character.

3.

Thomas (Capt.), son of (1) John Rathbone and Margaret ———, married Mary Dickens, April 21, 1685, and had 21 Margaret, b. January 17, 1686.

22 Mary, b. November 24, 1687; m. JOHN GARNER about 1717.
23 Patience, b. November 14, 1690.
24 Content, b. January 17, 1692.
25 Thomas, Jr., b. January 29, 1695; m. LYDIA MOTT, October 27, 1715.
26 Sarah, b. April 1, 1698.
27 Elizabeth, b. March 13, 1700; m. JOHN GAY, February 14, 1720.
28 Samuel, b. July 1, 1702.
29 John, b. May 29, 1705; m. EXPERIENCE ———, January 1, 1726.
30 Sibea, b. March 16, 1707.

Capt. Thomas Rathbone made a will November 14, 1733; proved January 11, 1734–5, leaving his estate to his three sons. He was admitted a freeman of Rhode Island in 1696, and in 1700 was a representative in the General Assembly from Block Island, also in 1704, 1712 and 1731. At the close of the French war, while deputy from New Shoreham, Block Island, he was found remonstrating in the Rhode Island Assembly against the onerous taxation of the inhabitants of Block Island, considering the great charges they had been at in their own defense against His Majesty's enemies, the French. Being in an exposed position they had been obliged to maintain a quota of men for the protection of the Island, to guard against the attacks of piratical vessels by which it was constantly threatened.

John, son of (1) John Rathbone and Margaret ———, married Ann Dodge, January 10, 1688, and had 31 Mary, b. October 3, 1688.

32 Jonathan, b. May 22, 1691; m. ELIZABETH ———; d. April 1, 1766.

33 John, b. December 23, 1693 ; m. PATIENCE FISH, December 20, 1720.
34 Joshua, b. February 9, 1696 ; m. MARY WIGHTMAN, February 16, 1724.
35 Benjamin, b. February 11, 1701.
36 Annah, b. August 9, 1703.
37 Nathaniel, b. February 6, 1708.
38 Thomas, b. March 2, 1709.

John Rathbone was admitted a freeman by the Assembly of Rhode Island May 5, 1696. He received from his father just before his marriage a deed for sixty acres of land on Block Island, the nominal consideration for which was "one barrel of pork on demand." The farm was probably a wedding present.

December 13, 1698, "Great James" and Jane, his wife (Indians), bound their daughter Betsey to JOHN RATHBONE and ANN, his wife, as an indented servant for eighteen years ; the consideration was one gallon of rum and one blanket in hand, and five years after one gallon of rum, and thereafter yearly ; and if she remains five years, then the said RATHBONE to pay four blankets and one every third year thereafter.

Joseph, son of (1) John Rathbone and Margaret ———, married Mary Mosher, May 19, 1691, and had

39 Elizabeth, b. May 14, 1692.
40 Rebecca, b. March 1, 1694.
41 Grace, b. July 16, 1695.
42 Mary, b. March 6, 1697 ; d. y.
43 Margaret, b. November 29, 1700.
44 Mary, b. February 14, 1703.
45 Hannah, b. March 21, 1706.
46 Joseph, b. October 4, 1707.
47 Benjamin, b. February 6, 1710.
48 A son, b. April 1, 1712.

Joseph Rathbone was admitted a freeman in Rhode Island 1696.

6.

Samuel, son of (1) John Rathbone and Margaret ———, was born August 3, 1672 ; married Patience ——— November 3, 1692, and had 49 Thomas, b. May 3, 1695; d. 1733.

50 Patience, b. August 21, 1697.

51 Mary, b. September 11, 1700; m. (JAMES GOULD, June 6, 1723?)

52 [illegible]

53 Samuel, b. April 16, 1705; m. ELIZABETH DODGE, March 15, 1732; d. January 24, 1780.

54 James, b. April 10, 1707; m. MERCY DOWNING, September 7, 1732

55 [illegible]

56 Rebecca, b. January 9, 1713; m. JOHN RIDER, of Newport, September 25, 1735.

Patience ———, wife of SAMUEL RATHBONE, died August 3, 1747, æ. 78 years, less 10 days.

SAMUEL RATHBONE died on Block Island January 24, 1757.

SAMUEL RATHBONE's descendants are still to be found on the Island. At the time of his father's death he owned and resided on his own farm. When he died he left in his house a "table and cubbard" left to him by his father as an "heir loom." One of the descendants of Samuel still possesses his old family Bible, Oxford imprint, 1725, in which is inscribed the family record, and during his life-time in his own handwriting. This Bible, which tradition says was imported for him, he bequeathed "ye 4th day, A. D., 1743, to his son Samuel, and at his death to his grandson WALTER RATHBONE." [illegible] Catharine Rathbone Mott, and at her death to his grandson Walter Rathbone Mott, who owned it in 1879.

The lands which the RATHBONE's and Mott's own are some of the most eligible for locality and for fertility on the Island, and are the same that the first RATHBONE settlers occupied. On the site of their ancient family dwelling, which disappeared a century ago, there is still the hollow where the cellar once was, in which now grows the rankest grass.

10.

[illegible] was born November 12, 1681; married Sarah Mott, January 30, 1705 6, and had 57 Daniel, b. October 30, 1706.

25.

Thomas, Jr., son of (3) Capt. Thomas Rathbone and Mary Dickens, was born January 29, 1695; married Lydia, daughter of Nathaniel Mott, of Block Island, October 27, 1715, and had

58 Nathaniel, b. August 22, 1719; m. ANN PECK, September 10, 1741
59 Lydia, b. July 31, 1721; m. MARK DODGE, October 15, 1740.
60 Beersheba, b. November 10, 1725; m. JOHN PAYN, January 10, 1744.
61 Sibel, b. November 20, 1727.
62 Thomas, b. August 6, 1730.
63 Sarah, b. November 5, 1732.
64 Gamelion, b. February 21, 1737–8.

Thomas Rathbone was admitted freeman in 1720.

74 Isaiah, } m. FANNY LAMPHEAR, May 9, 1764.
74½ Joseph.
74½ Elizabeth.

And probably other children.

Jonathan Rathbone died April 1, 1766, æ. 75 years.

Having the pioneering spirit which had so largely characterized his ancestors, he removed, while a young man and before the year 1715, to that part of New London county, Conn., formerly called Colchester, now the town of Salem, and purchased from the Mohegan Indians a tract of land on which he settled, a portion of which has continued uninterruptedly in the possession of his descendants of the same name to this day. He was a member of the Baptist church there in 1726.

Samuel, Jr., son of Samuel Rathbone and Patience ———, was born April 16, 1705; married Elizabeth Dodge, of Westerly, Rhode Island, March 15, 1732, and had 75 Walter, b. June 16, 1734; m. HANNAH ROSE, March 4, 1756; d. January, 1818.

76 Samuel, b. July 10, 1736; m. SUSANNA REYNOLDS, November 19, 1758.

77 Elijah, b. May 28, 1740; m., 1st, BETSEY BURROWS, of Groton, Conn.; 2d, DESIRE WALWORTH, a widow; d. February 14, 1825.

78 Betsey, b. December 2, 1742; m. JAMES DODGE.

Samuel Rathbone, Jr., died on Block Island January 24, 1780.

ELIZABETH DODGE, widow of SAMUEL RATHBONE, JR., died August 8, 1793, in her 79th year.

The children of this generation began to spell their names "Rathbun."

SAMUEL RATHBONE, JR., in 1755, was a member of the Rhode Island Assembly as the representative from Block Island. He made a will November 26, 1777.

54.

James, son of Samuel Rathbone and Patience ———, was born April 10, 1707; married Mercy Downing, September 7, 1732, and had 79 Rebecca, b. April 27, 1735.

55.

Abraham, son of Samuel Rathbone and Patience ———, was born November 23, 1709; married Mary Mosher, January 11, 1735, and had 80 Catharine, b. December 29, 1736.

81 Coggeshall, b. July 16, 1738.
82 Mary, b. September 21, 1740.

74.

Both were interred in the Albany cemetery. JOEL RATHBONE came to Albany to reside in the fall of 1822 as a clerk to his brother VALENTINE W. RATHBONE, who then kept a wholesale grocery store on the corner of Hudson and Quay streets, with whom two years after he became associated in business. In 1827 as one of the firm of Hermans, Rathbone & Co., he commenced the wholesale stove business, and by certain modifications and improvements in the patterns of stoves made under his direction, secured a very large and lucrative business. In 1829, by the death of Mr. Hermans, he succeeded to the entire business, which he continued in his own name until 1841, when at the early age of thirty-five, with a well earned fortune, he retired from active mercantile pursuits to the enjoyment of country life. He purchased a large estate, just below the city which he laid out and beautified, and "Kenwood" became his residence for many years. Although he so early retired from active mercantile business, MR. RATHBONE was connected with many of the public enterprises and institutions of the city. He was Vice-President of the New York State Bank, President of the Exchange Company, and an active co-operator in, and a generous contributor to most of the benevolent enterprises of the day. He was a conscientious and consistent christian, and a gentleman of great taste and refinement.

John Rathbone died March 14, 1843, at the advanced age of 91 years. He embodied to a remarkable degree the best features of New England character. He had that industry, perseverance, integrity, sagacity and sound judgment which enabled him to conduct successfully an immense business, and to amass an ample fortune. So prominent a position did both he and his son John, Jr., take among the leading business characters of their day, that they stood almost at the head of the mercantile body of our greatest commercial city. They were warm supporters of the government in the war of 1813, and their names stand first on the list of those patriotic citizens who subscribed to the war loans. Mr. RATHBONE had extensive landed interests in Central Ohio, and several of his daughters, with their husbands, went there and settled.

JOHN RATHBONE, JR., inherited his fathers distinguishing qualities, and became widely known as a successful merchant and financier. He was a member of the New York Legislature for one term; was a devoted adherent of De Witt Clinton, and took great interest in the inauguration of the canal movement in New York and Ohio. In connection with Eleazer Lord of New York, he took the entire amount of the first Ohio Canal Loan in 1825, of $400,000, and subsequently made a loan in connection with John Jacob Astor to the same State. He was also much interested in banking, and he and his brother-in-law Samuel B. Ruggles,* Ex-Canal Commissioners, etc., were very active in getting a charter and establishing the Bank of Commerce, and were among the first directors elected. JOHN

* Samuel B. Ruggles died only last September, and long obituary notices of him then appeared in New York daily papers. He was a remarkable man. James L. Rathbone and Samuel B. Ruggles were John Rathbone, Jr.'s executors.

RATHBONE, JR., died at Congress Hall, Albany, of paralysis, August 3, 1842, while on his way home to New York.

REED.

1.

John Reed, born in Cornwall, England, in 1633. He had been a soldier from the age of sixteen, and was an officer in Oliver Cromwell's army. On the restoration of Charles the Second, he fled to this country and settled in Providence, R. I., where he married a Miss Derby. He removed to Rye, Westchester Co., N. Y., where he resided in 1684, and about that time purchased from Richard Howe's land in Norwalk, Conn., probably the place called Reed's farms on "Five Mile river," where he resided and died in 1730, in the 98th year of his age. He was interred in a tomb on his own farm. His name is found on the town records of Norwalk in 1687. At one time, and probably until they erected a more convenient one, his house was used as a meeting-house. He was strongly marked with that determined will and high toned moral character so peculiar to Cromwell's officers. His children were Matthew Reed died in Norwalk, Conn., December 4, 1797, in the 58th year of his age.

ELIZABETH ———, widow of MATTHEW REED, died in Norwalk, June 15, 1799, in the 54th year of her age. They were buried in St. Paul's churchyard, Norwalk, where their monuments now stand.

MATTHEW REED and wife were members of St. Paul's Episcopal church in Norwalk, of which, at that time, the Rev. Mr. Leannings was rector. Mr. REED was appointed December 15, 1771, to collect the Church rates. When Norwalk was burned by the British during the revolution, Mr. Leannings being opposed to the patriots' cause, left the place in one of the ships of the British fleet, and probably took the church records with him, as they have never been found.

The record starts again with the report of a meeting held at the house of Thomas Belden, October 27, 1780. At that meeting MATTHEW REED was present, and was chosen one of a committee to ascertain as to the feasibility of rebuilding the church which was destroyed by British troops, July, 1779. It is to the honor of our ancestors in this parish that, although reduced by the destruction of their property in 1799, and dispirited, yet they rallied in a year's time and commenced anew for the Master.

In November 30, 1780, MATTHEW REED subscribed handsomely for the project, but few out of a long list of honored names contributed as much as he.

On Easter Monday, April 16, 1781, he was elected Vestryman and re-elected to the same office April 1, 1782. He was elected third Vestryman at Easter, 1783, and second Vestryman in 1784.

April 29, 1791, MATTHEW REED and his wife Elizabeth conveyed lands to their daughter Betsey, wife of Olney Stone.

April 2, 1801, STEPHEN REED conveyed to Samuel Middlebrook all his right and title in the estate of his late father MATTHEW REED deceased.

At the same date WILLIAM REED conveyed Betsey Stone's and Anna Thatcher's rights, which he had purchased of them to the said Middlebrook.

April 7, 1801, WILLIAM REED conveyed to Samuel Middlebrook all his own right together with those of Polly Seymour and Esther Belden in the estate of their late father MATTHEW REED. In this deed the name of SALLY REED occurs.

July 5, 1806, STEPHEN REED, SAMUEL REED, Joseph Haskett and Sally his wife. Asa Benedict and Hannah his wife join in a deed of land to Isaac Belden.

February 16, 1807, Asa Benedict and Hannah his wife join in a deed to Samuel Middlebrook.

April 13, 1799, WILLIAM REED gave a deed of land to Josiah Thatcher and Anna his wife.

[Alden's American Epitaphs.

SHEARMAN.

"The Shearmans or Shermans are of German origin, where the name is SHEARMAN, SHERMAN, SCHURMAN, SCHERMAN, and was no doubt transferred many centuries ago to the vicinity of London, England, by the Anglo-Saxon emigration, where it still remains numerous.

In New England are found two distinct families bearing this name. One of them descended from WILLIAM SHERMAN who came to Plymouth with the Pilgrims in 1630 and settled at Marshfield, Mass., where his descendants are still found. The other came from Dedham, Essex Co., England. HENRY SHERMAN (the son of Thomas, the first known ancestor of this branch), probably removed thither from the county of Suffolk, England, as he bore the Suffolk SHERMAN Coat of Arms." — [Rev. DAVID SHERMAN'S notes.

Those who early came to America spelled the name either SHERMAN or SHEARMAN. Philip of Massachusetts and Rhode Island, admitted freeman in 1634, spelled his name "SHEARMAN." Richard of Boston, admitted freeman in 1635, spelled it "SHERMAN," as did Samuel of Boston, admitted in 1637, and Thomas of Ipswich, admitted in 1636. Some of the descendants of Philip dropped the letter "a" and wrote their names SHERMAN, and their descendants still continue to do so. All the genealogy of the SHERMANS in England, and a part of that in America, is taken from the collections made by the late Rev. DAVID SHERMAN, of Wilbraham, Mass., corrected by fuller and more accurate data obtained in England, by personal inspection and examination of documents and papers in various offices in that country, by the late Rev. HENRY B. SHERMAN, of Esopus, N. Y.

A greater part of the notes relating to the American family were collected by the compiler many years since, from the original records of towns in Massachusetts and Rhode Island, and from records in possession of various members of the family.

In this paper the compiler proposes more particularly to trace the descendants of (37) PHILIP SHEARMAN, of Portsmouth, R. I.

The Arms of SHERMAN, of Essex, are thus:

"On shield or., a Lion ramp. sa., between three oak leaves vert."

Crest: "A demi-lion ramp. sa."

The Arms, as found on monuments, seals of wills, leases of lands, etc., have uniformly for Crests a demi-lion; otherwise the arms correspond with the Arms of the SHERMANS of Yaxley in Suffolk, and of SHERMAN, of Devonshire, which have a sea lion for Crest.

Philip Shearman (so written by himself) died at Portsmouth, on the island of Rhode Island, in 1686 or 1687. His wife survived him. He left a will which is recorded in Portsmouth, dated July 30, 1681, proved March 22, 1687. In 1633 or previous to that year he came from his home in Dedham, England, and settled in Roxbury, Mass. In that year he was admitted a freeman. In the Anne Hutchinson troubles he took the popular side and was one of the "Roxbury men," ordered to be disarmed for being seduced and led into dangerous errors by Mr. Wheelwright and Mrs. Hutchinson, and with John Clark and sixteen others, he was banished from Massachusetts Bay by the General Court held at Newton, October 2, 1637. They left Boston with the intention of settling in New Hampshire, but finding the climate too severe in that section of the country, they abandoned their lands there, and removed, March 7, 1638, to the island of Rhode Island, which they purchased, by the advice of Roger Williams, whom they met in Providence, from Aquetnet, the Indian chief. The purchase was completed March 24, 1638, and on the first day of July, 1639, they established a regular government, of which Coddington was chosen Governor, and PHILIP SHEARMAN (so spelled by himself) Secretary. They named the upper part of the island Portsmouth, and there PHILIP SHEARMAN resided, owning a large tract of land at that place. It was there that all his children were born, except Eber, his eldest son, who was born in Roxbury, Mass. He was Town Clerk for many years, and the records of the town of Portsmouth were kept by him with great neatness and exactness. He held various other public offices in the Colony, and in critical periods, as a man of intelligence, wealth and influence was frequently consulted by those in authority.

After he removed to Rhode Island he left the Congregational church and united with the "Society of Friends."

"EBENEZER B. SHEARMAN came to Utica, N. Y., previous to 1804 as a clerk to Jerathmel Ballou, son of Joseph. About 1804 he went into business with Judah Williams, Jr. In 1810 he was alone, and a few years after he took into partnership his young brother Stukeley, a young man of fine promise, who died at an early age. Subsequently his nephew, JOSEPH A. SHEARMAN, and Theodore Ballou were associated with him. He became largely interested in the manufacture of cotton goods and window glass. He was one of the company which set in operation in New Hartford the first cotton factory in the county, the bulk of the shares of the stock of which he bought up, and managed the institution himself with skill and profit. He was always a friend and advocate of manufacturers and a patron of industry. By his energy and devotion to business he became independently wealthy. His interest in public affairs was conspicuous, and the share considerable which he bore in the civic affairs of his time. From its foundation he was, so long as he lived, a director of the Utica Bank, and in 1828 he was one of the electors for President of the United States. He possessed a judgment of remarkable soundness, a mind in all respects eminently practical, and a heart ever true to kindly impulses."—[Baggs' Pioneers of Utica.

Richard Updike, [illegible] Willette H. Shearman and his first wife Catharine Ann Schoolcraft, was born June 26, 1819; married Mary, daughter of Capt. Richard W. Sherman and Lucretia, daughter of Stolham Williams, and had 451 Richard W., b. December 4, 1848 ; m. JULIA H. HAMMOND, May 20, 1873.

452 Mary L., b. November 19, 1850 ; m. HENRY J. COOKINGHAM, September 17, 1872.
453 Stolham W., b. January 31, 1853 ; m. DELIA GALE, August 1, 1877.
454 James S., b. October 24, 1855.
455 Sandford F., b. May 11, 1858.
456 Willette A., b. August 21, 1864 ; d. February 22, 1868.

RICHARD W. and STOLHAM W. SHERMAN are civil engineers ; JAMES S. is a lawyer located in New York ; SANDFORD F. is a merchant in Utica ; H. J. COOKINGHAM is a lawyer in Utica, and was a Member of Assembly in 1880.

Gen. Richard U. Sherman at an early age dropped the "a" from his name. He edited the "Utica Daily Gazette" on its first starting, and subsequently a daily paper in Rochester ; then at Oswego, soon after which he returned to Utica and with others established the "Daily Herald," with which he was connected until he was elected Clerk of the Assembly of the State of New York, where he served with distinguished ability for several terms. He was elected a member of the Legislature and subsequently clerk of the House of Representatives at Washington. He was a member of the constitutional convention in 1869, Democratic candidate for Congress in Oneida district in 1872, Justice of the Peace town of New Hartford, Oneida Co., from 1872 to 1880, President of the village in 1874, 1875, 1879, and was appointed one of the Commissioners of Fisheries, State of New York, in 1879. As early as 1842 he began public life, when he was clerk of the city of Utica, member of the Common Council in 1849, Chief Engineer of the Fire Department in 1850, and President of the Board of Supervisors of Oneida county in 1854. He has gone through all the routine of military life, having served in the State militia from the ranks to the rank of Brigadier-General. He has retired from public life, and lives happily and contented in the southern part of New Hartford, engaged in cultivating his farm and taking care of his estate. Gen. SHERMAN is of a happy and social disposition, making many warm friends whom he has the good fortune to keep, and enjoys above all things his annual excursion to the North woods.

His wife is the daughter of that Capt. SHERMAN so well remembered by the past generation as commander of the steamer that plied on Lake Champlain, whose discipline was most perfect, and who, when his boat was burned, so distinguished himself in saving the lives of all his passengers and crew, he being the last to leave the ship, floating ashore on a table.

Robert Henry, son of (375) Willette H. Shearman and his first wife Catharine Ann Schoolcraft, was born September 15, 1822; married Mary, daughter of James Colton, of Buffalo, N. Y., and had

Robert H. Shearman died from injuries received by having been run over by the railroad cars while he was leaving the train at Utica, October 13, 1867.

ROBERT H. SHEARMAN, after spending a short time on a farm, was appointed clerk in the Bank of Utica, where he remained some seven years, after which he was appointed cashier of the Hollister Bank at Buffalo. While at Utica he was elected to the Common Council for the Second ward for three successive terms, 1847, 1848, 1849. He remained cashier of the Hollister Bank till 1857, when it went under, with many other banks, in the general crash of that year. He was afterwards appointed deputy State Engineer and Surveyor, January 1, 1865.

MARY COLTON, widow of ROBERT H. SHEARMAN, resides at Passaic, N. J.

113.

William Pitt, son of (375) Willette H. Shearman and his first wife Catharine Ann Schoolcraft, was born September 19, 1829; married Mary Washington James, of Washington, D. C., June 3, 1863, and had 459 William Willette, b. April 24, 1864; d. January 11, 1865.

460 Lawrence Hobart, b. January 21, 1866.
461 Mary Washington, b. October 13, 1867.
462 Henry Schoolcraft, b. May 6, 1869.
463 William Pitt, b. February 18, 1871, d. 1871.

Mary W. James, wife of WILLIAM PITT SHEARMAN, died March 2, 1871.

WILLIAM PITT SHEARMAN entered into active life at the age of fourteen, as a clerk, in which capacity he remained for about seven years, when he received the appointment of bookkeeper at the Hollister Bank at Buffalo, and subsequently was made Teller. Having served there several years, he received an appointment to a clerkship in the Treasury Department at Washington, where he remained until appointed Treasurer of the New York and Erie Railroad. He now holds a responsible position in the financial department of the government of New York City.

419.

Hiram, son of (373) Willette H. Shearman and his second wife Emily Kirkland, was born May 19, 1840. He was a bachelor, and remained on the farm during his minority. He held a position on the New York and Erie Railroad, and subsequently was made Cashier in the office of the Collector of Internal Revenue at St. Louis, Mo., where he died in 1877.

420.

Albert E., son of (373) Willette H. Shearman and his second wife Emily Kirkland, was born July 16, 1842; married ———, and had 464 A daughter.

Albert E. Shearman enlisted during the Rebellion in the One Hundred and Seventeenth Regiment, New York State Volunteers, and went with his regiment to the front. He was with the forces besieging the defenses of Richmond, and in the assault on Fort Harrison was taken prisoner, and for a long time confined at Salisbury, N. C., where he lost the toes of both feet by frost, and endured such severe privations and suffering, that for three years after his exchange and home he was unfitted to perform any labor or business of any kind. On his recovery he went to La Fayette, Ill., as local superintendent of a railroad, and now resides in Elgin, Ill., where he is engaged in manufacturing.

Watts Sherman died in New York city, December 13, 1818, and was buried in the Wall street church. "WATTS SHERMAN came to Utica, N. Y., from Newport, R. I., about 1795, and formed a partnership with Arnold Wells in 1802, which lasted but a short time. After the dissolution of this partnership Mr. SHERMAN enlarged his business and directly took rank among the leading merchants in Utica. In May, 1813, he took Henry B. Gibson and Alexander Seymour as partners. He and Mr. Gibson removed to New York and conducted the business there, which soon secured an independent fortune for both of the partners." — [Bagg's Pioneers of Utica.

OLIVIA GILLSON, widow of WATTS SHERMAN, married, 2d, Paul Hochstrasser, by whom she had no children. She died in Buffalo, N. Y., January 26, 1861. "She married when quite young, WATTS SHERMAN, Esq. (well known to the early inhabitants of Oneida county, as a man of sterling worth, great enterprise and energy), and with him settled in the then small hamlet, now city of Utica, sojourning there some sixteen years. They removed to New York city where Mr. SHERMAN died in early manhood. Subsequently Mrs. SHERMAN married Paul Hochstrasser, a descendant of one of the old Dutch families of this State, a gentleman of cultivated tastes and rare social accomplishments, whom she survived nearly thirty years. In all the relations of life, whether as wife, mother, or friend, she performed her part well and faithfully. Possessed of a retentive memory, and blessed with a sweet disposition, it was at once instructive and pleasant to be in her company. In her last moments, surrounded by her children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren, when the tired heart, which had throbbed for more than four score years, demanded rest, she had no regrets, expressed no desire to stay, but with Christian resignation, peacefully and without a struggle, passed from earth

'Like one who lies down to pleasant dreams.'"

175.

Sarah, daughter of (471) Henry Sherman and Sarah Mitchell, [illegible] Thomas Humphrey (b. in Yorkshire, Eng., January 31, 1806), February 14, 1839, and had

486 George P., b. at Perry, N. Y., May 14, 1842; m. MARY REDMOND, September 15, 1873

487 Watts Sherman, b. January 3, 1844; m. EMMA C. FISHER, April 21, 1870.

Thomas Humphrey died at Okemas, Mich., July 23, 1873.

William, [illegible] Henry Sherman and Sarah Mitchell, was born February 22, 1809; married, 1st, Lois Sarah, daughter of Thomas Turner and Mary R. Weld (b. February 27, 1818), February 26, 1835, and had

488 Thomas Corning, b. February 27, 1836; d. August, 1837

489 Henry Gibson, b. January 22, 1838; d. September 15, 1843.

Lois Sarah Turner, wife of WATTS SHERMAN, died August 4, 1838, in the 21st year of her age. On her mother's side she was a lineal descendant from Rev. Thomas Weld who came from England in 1632, became pastor of the First Congregational church at Roxbury, Mass., and was sent back to England with Hugh Peters in 1641 as an agent of the colony. He died in England. Her father, Mr. Turner, was a merchant and an officer in the war of 1812. He was the son of Thomas Turner, of Watertown, Conn. WATTS SHERMAN married, 2d, (497) SARAH MARIA, daughter of Henry B. Gibson and (479) Sarah Sherman (b. February 8, 1816), February 2, 1841, and had 490 William Watts, b. August 4, 1842; m. ANNIE DERBY ROGERS WETMORE, July 5, 1871.

491 Duncan, b. December 1, 1844; d. s. July 26, 1879.

495 Alexander, b. September 15, 1854; d. March 28, 1857.

Watts Sherman died on the island of Madeira, February 20, 1865.

WATTS SHERMAN was for many years Cashier of the Albany City Bank, and at the time of his death was of the firm of Duncan, Sherman & Co., in New York City. He commenced his career as Teller of the Ontario County Bank at Canandaigua, and was Cashier of the Livingston County Bank at Geneseo, before coming to Albany, at the organization of the Albany City Bank in 1834. In 1851 he removed to New York City where he became the active manager of the banking house of Duncan, Sherman & Co. Mr. SHERMAN was a man of most rare qualifications for his position. His course was strictly governed by commercial integrity, unswayed by any bias but the interests of his firm, which he knew could be best subserved by a strict adherence to business principles. The maturity of his judgment was constantly apparent, and no man ever possessed a keener appreciation of the character of those with whom he had dealings. In his personal appearance he was slender, but his face was peculiar for its delicacy and masculine beauty. His hospitality was munificent.

SARAH M. GIBSON, widow of WATTS SHERMAN, died in New York, March 10, 1878. She was the daughter of the late Henry B. Gibson, of Canandaigua, one of the earliest settlers, and one of the most successful and conspicuous citizens of Western New York. For some years after her marriage Mrs. SHERMAN lived in Albany, where she held a brilliant position in the society of the State Capital. In 1851 she removed to

New York. Her house at the corner of Twenty-second street and Fifth Avenue became a favorite resort of the most agreeable and cultivated people of the city, and of the most distinguished foreigners who visited this country. She was fond of art, had a fine knowledge of bric-a-brac at the time when such knowledge was by far more rare than the pretense of it is now. She could, and did use her pen with piquancy and spirit. She travelled much abroad, particularly after the death of her husband in 1865. She was kind and affable to all who knew her, and her very generous nature overflowed in acts of love and charity to all.
